The Right Start

The right start counts for a lot with chickens. Often it spells the difference between profitable success and expensive failure. Professor Harry R. Lewis, head of the New Jersey Poultry Experiment Station, will tell you how to get the right start in coming issues of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

In a remarkable series of fifteen penetrating articles he will characterize, one by one, the major poultry breeds and will point the way to bigger profits with each.

Successful poultrymen say that THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is more helpful to them than the exclusive poultry journals. In a single year it prints the equivalent of more than 650 book pages on poultry alone—top-notch material, all of it, by such authorities as Victor G. Aubry, James Dryden and Ralph R. Hannas. And that is only one department of an all-around farm service that offers concrete help with every problem of your farm business. A whole year of this service—52 great issues—costs but $1. If you send me your check or a dollar bill today, I'll see that your subscription starts next week.

THE HE-MAN NOTICES

That prices are going down, but skirts are still going up;
That short skirts make men look longer;
That some have taken the thirty third degree, that's as high as they can go;
That brevity was once the soul of wit, now it is the source of wit;
That there are no restrictions nor are limit to the exhibitor of pedal extremities;
That we ought to have a board of censorship;
That every man would want to be it;
That since legs have come in fashion, ears have gone out;

That we thought winter would drive bare knees to cover;
That not much goods are wasted on waists;
That a fellow has to guess at the waist line now a days;
That many a good complexion adds to the war tax;
That now the women are asking for separate smoking rooms;
That they used to concede the monopoly of smoking to the men, both here and hereafter;
That now the men have competition;
That the men used to consider women their superiors;
That now they accept them as equals.

Billie Burke in "Wanted—a Husband," a Paramount-Artcraft Picture, is our feature for Wednesday, Feb. 9. It's a comedy—all about a girl who invents a finance to save herself from being pitted by her engaged friends. And the complications which follow are full of laughs. You'll enjoy it.

It may be of interest to some of our readers to know that R. G. Dykstra, who is in the Federal Vocational Department, has received two promotions since engaging in that field. He has also been recently honored by receiving a teachers life certificate from State Superintendent of Schools, J. A. Churchill. Mr. Dykstra was formerly the principal of the Umatilla schools.

SOCIETY EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Complimenting the beautiful weather we have been having, pink and white hyacinths and other decorations in the same dainty colors heralded the coming spring time at another seven o'clock bridge supper given at the home of Mayor and Mrs. F. C. McKenzie last Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Purdy as joint hosts. The tables were brightly lighted with pink tapers and a delicious two course luncheon was served. While the men were enjoying an after dinner smoke, decks were cleared for action, and a lively session of auction bridge at eight tables started. When results were counted, Mrs. W. J. Warner claimed high score while Mr. Otto Sapper humbly accepted the booby.

The Parent-Teachers Association were hosts at a pleasant evening party given at the bungalow auditorium to the young people of the high school on Friday evening following the basket ball games. The high school orchestra played, and music and dancing were among the pleasures of the evening. Punch and cookies were served by a committee of the Parent-Teachers Association consisting of Mrs. J. D. Watson, Mrs. Geo. Briggs, Mrs. Rena Waterman and Miss Norton.

One Big Tree Makes an Entire Train Load

Douglas fir is the name given to one of the best timber trees in the western part of the country. One of the species may be seen in the above photograph, cut in car lengths for convenience of transportation.
