POULTRY

YOU'RE AN EASY PREY,

with your flesh reduced below a healthy standard, for grip, pneumonia, and other dangerous diseases. And it's for just this condition that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is especially valuable.

CAUSE HENS TO LAY BETTER

Matter of Feeding During Cold Weather Entails Use of Large Amount of Common Sense.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
On the feeding of the flock depends to a large extent not only the general health of the birds, but also the economy which promotes success. It is a subject, however, which should be studied with a large amount of common sense, for there are no hard and fast rules which can be laid down as applying to every case. The price of feeds and the general environment should be considered in determining the right rations, say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

For the largest profit a good proportion of the eggs should be secured during the winter. If two extra eggs a week can be obtained from each hen a good profit will be made, while if the product is increased by only one egg a week in winter, this one egg will pay for all the feed the hen eats. To obtain this greater production not only should the fowls be young and of a good laying breed, but the feeder should have full knowledge of the proper feed and its preparation.

The nutriment in the feed of laying hens serves a twofold purpose—to repair waste and furnish heat to the body and to supply the egg-making materials. As only the surplus over what is needed for the body is available for egg production, the proper feeds should be fed in sufficient quantities to induce this production.

In supplying feed to fowls there are three kinds of constituents which should be present in certain fairly well-fixed proportions if the desired results are to be obtained most economically. These constituents are mineral, nitrogenous and carbonaceous; all which are contained in corn, wheat, oats and barley, but not in the right proportions to give the greatest egg yield. In addition some animal feed and green feed should be supplied.

Wanted Doctor in a Hurry.

Richard broke two bones in his leg. When his father went to the telephone to summon a doctor the little chap said: "Please, daddy, tell the doctor to come in a flying machine instead of his auto so he can come quick, 'cause it hurts me so."

Cuticura Soothes Itching Sca'p

On retiring gently rub spots of dandruff and itching with Cuticura Ointment. Next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Make them your every-day toilet preparations and have a clear skin and soft, white hands.—Adv.

Speaking of Manna.

The friends of a certain first-day school were astonished at the next given by a small girl, who in a tone of great earnestness repeated during the closing exercises: "Ye cannot serve God and mamma."—Friends' Intelligencer.

Grease in Wallpaper.

Press a cloth moist with high-grade gasoline against the paper for about a minute. Do this repeatedly, as a single application will remove only a part of the grease.

Seems Queer, Sometimes.

Jud Tunkins says a friend sometimes takes the liberty of telling you so much about your faults you wonder how he manages to remain friendly.

The Chinese Years.

Like our own leap year, every third year in China is longer than its predecessors, but the Chinese add a whole month, instead of an extra day, to make up for the time lost, according to the calculation of the calendar.

RED MITES VERY INJURIOUS

Insects Lower Vitality, Produce Anemia, Reduce Egg Production and Annoy Fowls.

Red mites are blood-sucking insects that live in the houses, in the cracks about the nests, droppings boards, and perch during the day and crawl onto the bodies of the birds at night, doing serious injury. Red mites lower vitality, produce anemia, lower egg production and greatly annoy the hens. They can be easily gotten rid of by painting the infested places in the house with gas tar, diluted with equal parts with kerosene, or by carbolineum, or one of many good commercial perch paints. It should be kept in mind that the place to fight the mites is the house and not the birds themselves.

CURE FOR EGG-EATING HABIT

Owner Should Make Good Use of Ax on Hen That Has Acquired Depraved Appetite.

The hen that eats her own eggs and those of other hens has formed a habit that cannot be broken. Cut off her head with an ax. A depraved appetite may be acquired by seeing some other hen eat an egg, as one hen learns from another to eat chickens. A lack of food or of grit, especially of meat scrap, may be a contributing factor.

REMEMBER TO PLANT TREES.

"The scout is a lover of the out-of-doors," says A. C. Wessel, writing of "Forestry for Scouts," in Boys' Life. "Trees, singly or in large groups, offer him many attractions and pleasures. He must not lose sight of the fact that to help plant and conserve our trees and to rate the forest which yields him fruit, fuel and timber for shelter, as a living perpetual resource is a patriotic service and duty."

PROPER SHELTER FOR SHEEP

Animals Do Not Require Expensive Buildings but Must Have Protection in Wet Seasons.

Sheep do not require expensive buildings, but should have some protection from wet weather. A shed open to the south with a well-drained yard is excellent quarters in which to house sheep.

A Dream.

A Boston banker says we are an extravagant nation. In this he makes no reference to us personally. One of our fondest ambitions is some day to be able to have enough gathered together so that we can go out and try what it is like to be extravagant.—Detroit Free Press.

If you're thinner than you ought to be, whether from wasting disease or defective nutrition, the "Discovery" will bring you up to the healthy standard—by restoring the normal action of the deranged organs. A strength-restorer and flesh-builder. Liquid or tablets.
