COLUMBIA NEWS NOTES

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

The second cutting of alfalfa is under way at the present and farmers lusty voices can be heard addressing their horses from all directions to the accompaniment of the buzz of the mowers. An extra large cutting is reported everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Heini and son Lawrence accompanied by George Adams of Portland who is a guest at the Heini home made a trip to Pendleton Wednesday by car returning the day following.

Mrs. Myrtle Mosler and niece of Seattle have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reid the past three weeks. Mrs. Mosler is an old school friend of Mrs. Reid.

Roy Haddock who is employed by the Shotwell construction company spent a few days at home recently while the company is moving from Redmond to a new location.

Horace Walker pioneer of Umatilla county and a Pendleton resident was in the community one day last week reviewing old times with Columbia farmers. Mr. Walker who was County Surveyor for several terms laid out the diagonal road when the county was a desert of sage brush and jack rabbits.

He says the county now shows remarkable development since that time. In the early days Mr. Walker engaged in the sheep and cattle business in the Holdman country and drove his herds and flocks to the Columbia River bottoms, the Cold Springs landing being then called Simmons landing.

Attention Neighborhood club members. Come to the next meeting Wednesday the 27th at the home of Mrs. Frank Beddoe and learn all about the membership picnic to be held on the following Wednesday evening, August 3rd on the Sommer lawn. There will be a good program and do not be absent. Bring favorite recipes and exchange with others. Also bring question for the question box.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jackson entertained at dinner Sunday, July 19. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jackson and daughter Jane and Miss Myrtle Wright.

Mrs. W. G. Hineine, who has been attending summer school in Pendleton spent the week end at home.

SIMPLE HARVEST MEALS ARE MOST SATISFACTORY

Ordinary Harvest Fare is Too Elaborate Believes Miss Weld, College Specialist

Let the harvest dinner consist of simple, well cooked food, instead of many rich dishes, suggests Miss Emma S. Weld, instructor in household art at O. A. C. The chief fault of the ordinary harvest meal lies in its being too elaborate. There is a limit to the amount of food that a man can eat, especially in hot weather when doing heavy work.

The typical bill of fare might consist of a pot roast which can be used in a meat pie the second day, browned potatoes, a fresh vegetable and a cooked one, some kind of relish, plenty of bread and butter, and a simple dessert such as bread pudding or green apple pie.

"The main advantage of such a menu is that it can be prepared earlier in the day or even the day before," says Miss Weld. "Methods of serving should be simple, and hot food should be served hot, and cold food cold. The dining room should be neat, tidy, cool, and well screened."

Fresh fruit should be served whenever in season as it is easy to prepare and forms a good dessert. Fowls culled from the chicken flock may be used instead of other meat which would have to be purchased.

A pressure cooker which can be used both in cooking harvest meals and canning more than pays for itself in the saving of fuel and energy. It cooks a meal in half the time that is required with an ordinary stove.

"The trouble with a smart man," said Jud Tunkins, "is that he's liable to spend more time showin' off than he does workin'."

IRRIGON NEWS ITEMS

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE

Prof. H. A. Scullen of the O. A. C. accompanied by Mr. L. A. Hunt, our retiring county agent, held a meeting at the Glasgow's ranch Tuesday and gave some demonstrations as to the handling and care of bees. Practically everyone in the community who has any bees or expects to have in the future attended this meeting and believe they are well paid for the time taken up. Prof. Scullen is specialist on bees and is going all over the state assisting the bee men to make the business a paying proposition.

David E. Lofgren, attorney from Portland who owns and operates the pumping plant three miles west of Irrigon during the week. He had an expert with him to make some necessary repairs to his plant. Mr. Lofgren tells us that he has plans well under way to put in a larger pumping plant at some high point on his section capable of irrigating several sections of land. Several land owners in his district are going together and form a company to accomplish this.

Mr. M. C. Athey, former editor of The Herald and Bernard Mainwaring his successor, were in Irrigon on business Friday. Mr. Mainwaring promises to visit us often in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Glasgow, Geneva and Mr. and Mrs. Eggleston motored to Hermiston Saturday attending to business matters and took in the movie in the evening.

Mr. G. W. Age and son, spent a couple of days in Irrigon last week after building a small house on their newly purchased acreage east of Irrigon.

Lyle Seaman has purchased the "Red Bug" of Dr. Gales through the Umatilla garage and is making regular trips to Umatilla these days with cucumbers and other truck.

Mrs. H. C. Wolfe and children are spending a few days vacation in Portland visiting her mother Mrs. J. Wagner.

Lyle Seaman spent the week end with friends in Portland.

The park has been full of tourists nearly every night recently and if we had more conveniences such as water piped into the park, tables and stoves, we could have from 20 to 50 autos parked every night. It is up to the community to keep up the park and provide necessary camping equipment for another season as we certainly cannot lose on such a deal. The amount of watermelons and other produce we could sell to the tourists would pay us a thousand times over in one season. We realize that our parking facilities are quite equal to any some distance east or west of us and this of course, accounts for the tourists now stopping but with still better and proper equipment, we could attract nearly all of the tourists coming through this part of the country.

N. Seaman and son and T. Grim and sons report having had ripe melons on the 15th. We will be able to supply the market in a few days.

There will be a few less huckleberries in the mountain by the end of the week. The Markhams, Benefields, McCoys, Grabeals, Stewards and several others are either on the way up to Meacham or Kemela or will be before this goes to press. They are reported plentiful and can probably be had for less money than in many years past.

Don't forget the rabbits. See the last week's issue for formula to feed them. Several more report even a greater success and the writer is confident if this idea is followed up generally over the country, the rabbits will be made scarce everywhere and it is up to the farmers to get busy to accomplish this. Pass the word to your neighbors and get them all to act at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm and children of Twisp, Wash. and Mrs. Schutter, Mrs. Chisholm's mother, were camped in the shade a couple days last week. Mr. Chisholm is an old timer in this part of the country and says he built the lighting plant at Hermiston some twelve years ago. Mrs. Schutter was looking over the country in view of locating here later. They returned to Twisp via Irrigon ferry line, through Prosser and central Washington Monday morning.
