Hermiston Locals

The premium lists of the Northwest Hay and Grain show to be held at Pendleton during Round-Up week have arrived at The Herald office. A good many farmers around here are planning to compete and all who are interested may see the list at our office. Hermiston ought to take a few of these prizes.

Harry O'Connell of Pendleton was in Hermiston Monday and paid the office a call. He will be remembered as a son of M. D. O'Connell, former editor of The Herald. He is working on a ranch out of Stanfield.

Mrs. W. B. Beasley brought about the wickedest looking spider we ever saw into the office Monday. She found it on the berry vines and thinks it must be of a poisonous species. It was kept in a glass jar.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beasley of Wala Wala have been recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Beasley. The younger Mrs. Beasley stayed here all last week, leaving Sunday morning.

W. H. Warner, father of W. J. Warner local attorney, is here from Springdale, New York for a visit. Springdale is the former home of W. J. Warner.

The maximum temperature for the past week according to the official reports at the project office was 99. This was on Monday. The minimum temperature was last Saturday night and registered 52.

Mr. Chas Hay entertained 16 ladies at an afternoon party Wednesday of last week. The party was in honor of Mrs. Hay's daughter, Mrs. Ferdinand Ringo who is visiting her.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lochrie left this morning on a vacation trip which will take them to some of the Oregon beaches. They will be gone about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Prindle who have lived across the river west of town left here this week for Los Angeles where they will make their home.

M. W. Sharrard of Willows was in town Wednesday. He is an extensive property holder here and is well known as a former resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kingsley left for Portland Sunday evening. They will take in buyers week and return early next week.

Mrs. R. B. Spencer and daughter Marjorie left last Friday for a visit with Mrs. Spencer's parents in Portland.

Harry Strong and C. W. Kellogg with their families are home from a vacation spent at Lake Chelan, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Leathers left this morning for the coast in their car.

Miss Clara Hall is building a bungalow over in the west end of town.

Mrs. Nancy Smith of Umatilla was in Hermiston Wednesday.

A new crossing has been opened one mile north of town connecting the highway with the experimental station. This will be a big convenience to many who were formerly forced to go some distance around.

Pendleton Men Visit

Claude Barr, secretary of the Pendleton Commercial association and Joe Harvey, city editor of the East Oregonian were in town last Thursday. They were here in part to secure material for the county booklet which is to be put out this fall. Mr. Harvey is visiting all towns in the county securing information for community "hooster" writeups which are now appearing in the E. O.

Oil Man Tells of Visit Here

D. Z. Irvin of the sales department of the Standard Oil company was in Hermiston Friday and Saturday. He makes all the towns in the state in his rounds.

Mr. Irvin has known Hermiston since its infancy and spoke of stopping here in 1908. This was about the time the Oregon Hardware & Implement company started its store he said. He was a hardware salesman then and sold a good-bill of goods. Many people here were then living in tents and a coyote kept him awake most of the night. Hardly anyone over the state knew where Hermiston was in those days.

Movie Man Here

Melvin G. Winstock of Select Picture corporation was in the city last Tuesday. Mr. Winstock was the representative of the motion picture league of Oregon in its recent fight against film censorship.

HERMISTON COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL JOIN THE FEDERATION

The commercial club at its weekly dinner Tuesday voted to join the recently organized county federation of commercial bodies. No delegate to represent this club has been chosen as yet.

It has been learned that the county will pay for putting out the county booklet this fall. Men are at work now gathering pictures and writeups and it is expected that the publication will be a dandy. A large number of cuts will be used and all communities in the county will be represented.

Party at Umatilla
