

The High School Mirror

Vol. 2 Devoted to the Interest and Development of the Hermiston Schools No. 10

Everyone present had a merry time at the Callahan home Thursday evening when a number of the high school students surprised Melba Callahan. The evening was spent in games and dancing and later delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were: Phyllis Dyer, Doris Swayze, Mary Currie, Eldora Kingsley, Mable Brown, Zona Bensen, Ida Rhodes, Lucile Sullivan, Margaret Neary, Pauline Morris, Melba Callahan, Elsie Richards, Arluine Robinson, Hugh Fraser, Harold Waterman, Irwin Shotwell, Gwyn Hughes John Haddox, Orval Silvey, Dan Winscott, Chester Rhodes, Lawrence Winslow, Ernest Carson, and Napoleon Neadeau.

Under the direction of Mr. Voelker a male quartet is being organized in the high school. This may later be enlarged to a sextette or octette or a glee club may be formed.

A very interesting playlet dealing with better English was given before the high school and Parent-Teachers association meeting last Thursday by Leo Smith, Leta Thomas and Donald Shotwell. The playlet was well acted, so that it was much appreciated by everyone who saw it.

Another feature of the Parent-Teachers association meeting was a number of songs by the high school. The parents seemed to stand the singing very well which was much encouraging. Mr. Voelker is this year as in the past getting fine results from high school singing.

The basketball teams have scheduled games with Stanfield and Pilot Rock, and managers Lucile Sullivan and Paul Stockard are working hard to make up good schedules.

John Haddox had the most mistakes among the students and Mr. Gralapp was honor man among the faculty. Mr. Gralapp gave his talk before the high school Monday and John was given until Friday to imitate Daniel Webster. The students enjoyed English week very much.

Tickets for the Milton versus Hermiston football fracas, to be held Thanksgiving day here, are now on sale. Much importance is placed on this battle, as on it rests the honor of being the best team in the county outside of Pendleton, and one of the best of eastern Oregon, as Pendleton is undefeated this season.

Lavon Hyatt entered high school Monday morning. The attendance is increasing rapidly and we are one of the largest schools in the county.

The cast for the senior play "The Time of His Life," has started rehearsing. This play, which is to be given the middle of December is one of the best given here. It is being produced under the direction of Mrs. Gunn.

Have you heard the latest? Ask Leo.

Mr. Scroggs, Mr. Heinl and Mr. Voelker went to Milton Friday to look over the equipment for vocational work with the view of introducing that phase of work in Hermiston high school next year.

Kidders—"Mrs. Brown, you are a fine cook compared to Mable."

Mable—(flaring up)—"You'll be sorry for that someday."

Hugh—"Harold said that you were one of those girls who were simply wonderful after you get to know them."

Eldora—"Well I'm sure I don't know what Harold means, but I think he's perfectly horrid to talk about it."

Mr. Gralapp—"That's an open question Arthur. Come now, make a guess. Your guess is as good as mine."

Art—"It's a darn sight better. I've had more practice."

Pessimist. We can't.
Optimist. We can!
Peptimist. We will.

Will what? Beat Milton Thanksgiving.

Grade News

The eighth grade won the banner given by the Parent-Teachers association this month for the best attendance of parents at the Parent-Teachers meeting Thursday.

An interesting feature of the Parent-Teachers meeting was the play, "Ye Village Skewl of Long Ago," given by the eighth grade.

A number of the sixth grade pupils have won their first Palmer method buttons. These are: George McKenzie, Herbert Hedwall, Glenn Parson, Frances Sale, Gladys Winscott, Hannah Reinkka, Mildred White and Lillian Kennings.

FARMERS PLAN TO POISON RABBITS

MEETING IS HELD AT HENRY OTT PLACE TUESDAY

New Poison Solution Said to be Giving Good Satisfaction in Districts Where Used

A meeting was held at the Henry Ott farm Tuesday at which County Agent Fred Bennion and R. T. Jackson of the U. S. biological survey explained a new rabbit poison solution which is said to be giving excellent satisfaction in other districts where it has been tried.

The solution is made up as follows: Dissolve an ounce of strychnine in three fourths of a quart of water. Then in one fourth of a quart of water mix a pint of flour and two tea spoonfuls of soda. Add the strychnine solution to this and pour it all over about 12 pounds of rolled barley.

15 Farmers Out

Fifteen farmers were out to the demonstration and all expressed willingness to try the new poison. Mr. Bennion will have a supply of the strychnine at the Oregon Hay Growers office and will sell it to the farmers at cost. Full directions for its use will be given.

Mr. Bennion and Mr. Jackson were out in the Juniper country Monday and were in Umatilla yesterday. They plan a number of meetings and expect to work on the rabbit pest in the country between Juniper and Arlington. Mr. Jackson says the farmers must work together to stamp out the evil as one farmer cannot do it alone.

They are also giving out a solution for rat poisoning to those who want it, but are devoting most of their time now to rabbit poisoning. A big anti-rabbit campaign is planned for the winter.

Chamberlain's Tablets Have Done Her a World of Good

"Chamberlain's Tablets have done me a world of good," writes Mrs. Ella L. Button, Kirkville, N. Y. "I have recommended them to a number of my friends and all who have used them praise them highly." When troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial and realize for yourself what an excellent medicine it is.

U. OF O. AND O. A. C. TEAMS TO CLASH IN EUGENE SATURDAY

State's Big Football Classic Almost Here; Dope Now Gives University Slight Edge

University of Oregon, Eugene, Nov. 17—Expectations of football fans from one end of the Pacific coast to the other were upset last Saturday when the University of Oregon not only held the strong Washington State college team to a 7 to 7 tie in a game played at Pullman, Wash., but also chalked up another touchdown against the Cougars which was not allowed by the referee.

Previously Oregon had been classed as one of the weaker teams of the coast conference and when W. S. C. held the powerful California eleven to a 14 to 0 victory, after the Bruins had defeated Oregon 39 to 0, football fans saw at least a 21 to 0 victory for the Washingtonites when they tangled with Oregon.

The game found Oregon settling into stride after a slow season of preparedness during which injuries played no small part in causing the poor showing made in pre-season games.

No forecasts can be made about the Oregon-O. A. C. game. A survey of the past many years shows a continuous upsetting of "dope," for no matter what is the past season showing of the two teams they are always equal when they line up against each other. The resultant battle never fails to be a battle royal with a low score or the game telling the final tale.

TWO SCREEN FAVORITES TO BE IN "GIRL FROM NOWHERE"

The two popular screen favorites, Cleo Madison and Wilfred Lucas, are to be seen in a remarkable picture of the rugged northwest at the Play House on Sunday. The Girl From Nowhere is the name of the new photodrama. Cleo Madison has long been recognized as one of the most beautiful women on the screen. She possesses a face which loses none of its beauty when it is photographed. Her features are as wonderfully clear and as finely formed as those of a Greek statue. It is this type of beauty coupled with her rare gifts as an actress, that has placed her name in the front rank of great motion picture artists.

Wilfred Lucas is not only an actor of recognized worth, but is a director with big things to his credit. For several seasons he acted under the direction of David W. Griffith and later was made director of one of Mr. Griffith's companies.

He, too, has a wonderfully expressive "screen face." His work in The Girl From Nowhere has been commended as being one of the finest pieces of acting that he has ever done.

FRANK MAYO BACK IN NEW PLAY HOUSE PHOTOPLAY

After appearing in several big pictures of the outdoors Frank Mayo returns once more to the drawing room type of story and will be seen at the Play House Theatre next Wednesday in "The Fighting Lover." But although Mayo dons evening clothes in this story, he loses none of his accustomed vim and vigor. The title of the picture is a true index to the star's personality. "The Fighting Lover" was written by Ben Ames Williams and directed by Fred LeRoy Granville.

SCHOOL BUS BEGINS WORK FOR FIRST TIME THIS WEEK

Jack Ware who has the contract to bring the school children into town from Minnehaba district began work Monday morning with his new Ford truck.

The chassis was purchased from the Hermiston Auto company. The body was built on by I. N. Hartsook and Jack Harmon and was ready for work the first of the week.

AW, WHAT'S THE USE

YOU GET UP PARTICULARLY EARLY AND HURRY DOWN THE HALL SO AS TO BE THE FIRST ONE IN THE BATH ROOM

BUT YOU FIND ONE OF THE OTHER BOARDERS HAS BEATEN YOU TO IT

YOU GO BACK TO YOUR ROOM AND LISTEN FOR HIM TO COME OUT

YOU HEAR THE DOOR OPEN AND TEAR DOWN THE HALL AGAIN

BUT ANOTHER BOARDER HAS BEATEN YOU TO IT

SO-AW WHAT'S THE USE!
