DOROTHY DALTON COMING IN "THE IDOL OF THE NORTH"

Complete Trail City, Duplicate of Dawson, Built for Picture; Here Saturday

A complete "trail" city, the historical duplicate of Dawson City in 1897 was built in Artic City, a motion picture suburb of Port Henry, N. Y. for the exterior scenes of "The Idol of the North." Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount picture which will be shown at the Play House Saturday. The story by J. Clarkson Miller, deals with the virile struggle for life in the great Canadian Northwest and afforded excellent opportunity for picturesque photography.

For purposes of the picture "Totem City" was built. Almost overnight the Aurora Borealis saloon and dance hall, the Ritz hotel, Brisac cabin, and Bates cabin, sprang up like magic. The river was bridged in one place with a typical wooden span such as the gold seekers used in 1897, he rugged beauty of the scene was enhanced by the heavy snow that fell during the company's stay at Port Henry and R. William Neill, director was able to film many effective exterior scenes for the picture.

SEES POSSIBLE FALL OF MAN

Scientist Points Out How the Race May Sink to the Level of Lower Savages.

"Some millions of years from now an entirely new and more highly organized animal may spring from some ancestral stock now relatively obscure and rise, at first slowly and then more rapidly, to even greater heights of achievement than anything which lies within the capacity of the human species."

After tracing the geologic evolution of the earth so far as man knows it, Dr. Elliot Blackwelder of Harvard university, at the meeting of the geological societies of the American Association in Toronto, Canada, in these words suggested the possibility of a future usurper of man's pre-eminent place on earth.
"As our modern civilization becomes more and more specialized and diversified, our relations to our environment become more and more complex and our adjustments more delicate," Doctor Blackwelder said.

"Eventually, after all the latest possibilities for advancement possessed by the human species have been exhausted, the race may conceivably sink back to the general level of the lower savages, which are but little above the other mammals."—Kansas City Star.

When Ingenuity Triumphed.

Caught short on time with a New York opening date booked, and facing a huge loss for each day's delay, a moving-picture producer made arrangements to edit, title, and cut the play en route between Los Angeles and the eastern metropolis recently. With a special car equipped as a laboratory and attached to a limited train, the work was found entirely practical even while speeding eastward at a mile a minute or more.

PROFITABLE DEAL IN FOXES

Treasury of the United States Benefited and the Value of the Breed Increased.
In the spring of 1921 the bureau of biological survey directed attention to the fact that the blue foxes on some of the Aleutian islands are deteriorating through inbreeding, and that there was a desire on the part of the natives and others to secure animals from the Pribilof islands for restocking purposes.

In order to assist in building up the blue fox industry of the Aleutians, where climatic conditions appear to be favorable, the introduction of new blood from the Pribilofs was accordingly undertaken by the bureau of fisheries, and eight live blue foxes were placed aboard the coast guard cutter Bear at St. George island September 15, 1921. One pair went to L. A. Lavigne, lessee of Unalaska Island; one pair to the Unalaska Native Brotherhood, lessee of Avatanak island, and two pairs to N. E. Bolshann, lessee of Kavaga and other islands. The purchasers supplied shipping cases and transportation was at their risk.

All the foxes were received at Unalaska in good order and were promptly placed on the islands under lease to the various persons concerned. The price charged for each animal was $88.12, this being the average realized for Pribilof blue fox skins at the sale at St. Louis February 21, 1921. The amount received for the eight foxes was $704.96; $5 was allowed natives of the Pribilof islands for each fox secured, and the net proceeds, amounting to $694.96, were turned into the treasury of the United States.—Fisheries Service Bulletin.
