Miss Edith Graves, one of the teachers in the Hermiston public schools left last Thursday for Portland. She will spend the summer at Newberg.

T. S. Townsend and J. K. Shotwell were Portland passengers on the night train Thursday. Mr. Townsend went on to Seattle at the end of the week to spend Sunday with his son.

The crop of alfalfa on the lot back of the Hermiston Auto company was cut last week by John Shimpke, who used instead of reliable old dobbie, a Fordson tractor, the sickle being attached directly to the tractor. The tractor moves much faster than a horse and short work was made of the job.

Quite a heavy rain fell in all parts of the county, commencing Thursday night and continuing through Friday and Friday night. In the wheat belt the moisture was an unmixed blessing and it is estimated to have added at least a million dollars to the county's crop of wheat alone. It fell just at the right time to help the most and was badly needed. In this district which also got rain it was a help to some, but a damage to others. A large part of the first cutting of alfalfa was on the ground and got soaked. To those who didn't have hay down the rain was quite a help, even if we don't have to depend on it.

FORMER HERMISTON PASTOR HOLDS SERMON IN OPEN

Portland Oregonian
Prineville, Ore., June 14—An innovation that is proving decidedly popular with churchgoers has been instituted by Rev. M. R. Gallaher, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city. Not long ago Rev. Gallaher noticed that the attendance at the church services was falling off perceptibly. Incidentally, he noticed that many of his most ardent church workers were frequently absent from church when parties left early Sunday morning for a day in the outdoors. The pastor at once announced that the services of his church would be held in the open and a basket lunch follow them.
