FIND RICHES IN SAND WASTE

Silica in What Had Been Considered Worthless Heaps Means Much to Two Towns.

The activity of the old lumber days at Port Austin, Mich., and vicinity are to be revived, but silica sand, and not lumber, will furnish the motive power for the active industrial scenes.

Summed up in brief a lake shore sand bank has been purchased by a Detroit fuel and building supply company. Analytical tests show that this waste sand, which is known in industrial circles as silica sand, is admirably adapted to foundry and casting work.

Almost 200 men are now at work constructing new docks, for it is planned to ship the sand by water from Port Austin to Detroit. The lumber and timber for the 2,500-foot dock, which is now under construction, is being purchased from farmers in the vicinity of Port Austin, so that the village will also benefit from the item of construction.

The new dock is near the old wharves, which in the early lumbering days of the Thumb made Port Austin and its suburb, Port Crescent, thriving centers. The silica sand deposit, it is stated, will not be exhausted for 30 years.

What was considered a barren, sandy waste promises to put Port Austin and Port Crescent once more on the map of the "Thumb" as wide-awake industrial centers.

MUST NOT TRY ON FINERY Superstition Regarding Wedding Dress and Veil is One of the Most Deeply Rooted.

From where it comes, nobody knows, but the superstition that it is "bad luck" to try on a wedding veil, or dress, or mourning costume, is as rife today as ever.

Many times the bride refuses to try on her veil, and oftentimes her dress, until the day of the ceremony, for the superstition goes that "she who wears veil or dress before the appointed time will never marry." When this happens, a model as like the bride as possible, has to be found for whom these old superstitions have not the same terrors; as it is their business, it is supposed to lay the curse; but all the time they are being "tried on" they stand with their fingers crossed, which is so efficacious that it will keep off the baleful influences of the evil eye.

In many shops where wedding finery is being made, there is a square table over which one is to be allowed to pull out one of her own hairs and sew it into the portion of the veil which covers the bride's head, for if one wants to capture a husband for herself, and good luck in love, there is no surer way of doing it.

Remarkable Clock. An ingenious clockmaker of Marseilles, France, has converted an ordinary alarm clock into a very complete astronomical clock, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Without altering the main functions and with slight additions, except for a new face, the clock has been made to indicate, on a small dial at the bottom: the position and age of the moon, the hours of its passage of the meridian, its position in the zodiac, the position of the sun in the heavens, its ascension and declination, the equinoxes, solstices and seasons, and on the dial at top he has added an arc upon which a special hand denotes the hour at which the sun passes the meridian, the hours of sunrise and sunset for all the days of the year and the length of the days and nights are given at the right, and sidereal time at the left.

Treating Diseases of Plants. It appears from testimony afforded by scientists, both in the United States and abroad, that we are face to face with the possibility of treating some of the diseases of plants in a way similar to that in which animals are rendered immune to attacks of illness. In this relation there may be cited the experiments of Brauer, who permitted cuttings of begonia to grow in earth impregnated with a species of fungus which is an attenuated form of the botrytis cinerea, a destructive parasite of plants. After impregnation the begonia plants were subjected to attack by the parasite and resisted it perfectly. Similar results have been obtained by other experimenters.

Censor Japanese School Books. The International Educational association of Japan has decided to investigate the Japanese national readers, history, geography and music of the primary schools of various countries to make a comparison and strike out from Japanese books whatever is detrimental to the cultivation of international ideals and sentiments. The tone of the Japanese text books is regarded as decidedly jingoistic.

Explanations in Order. One morning recently I went across the street and was to come back to the corner, meet my husband, and go down town with him. Seeing a man coming out of our court, I began to motion frantically. He snatched along but I kept it up, so he started to run. When he caught up to me I saw I had never laid eyes on him.—Exchange.

Fresh ewe's milk is used in making the famous Roquefort cheese in the town of that name in France. The ewe's milk is delivered daily and after being filtered and allowed to turn, is pressed into molds and sown with spores of a microscopic plant which assures its ripening or mellowing. After being drained the cheese is placed in natural cellars in the rocky hillsides where it is left from 30 to 90 days.

"Crimson Eyebrows"

Hark! What sound is that upon the breeze? Sweet music being wafted through the trees, Pealing notes that ring so clear, And now a voice in song, I hear.

A few minutes more and curious I am. So anxious to get there, they say, I ran. And as I came hurrying up the walk Two students before me began to talk.

At first I couldn't make out their words Because of the pound of their shoes on the boards. I had just recognized their voices when I heard that sweet song start over again.

As I hailed my friends my enthusiasm grew. When I told them 'twas beautiful, they said 'twas true. Their feet made such noise, they're as big as scows But I learned that the music was "CRIMSON EYEBROWS."

Now I learned something else and I know its true. That the date of the operetta is just about due, And so to make a long story short—To make it a success, we'll need your support!

The lights won't go out, we've seen to that. So come on in and hang up your hat.

It's a mighty fine show and the prices are right. It'll be April 13, next Friday night. Arthur Rubner, '23

Vote For May Queen Softly, yet blithely the spring has come. Fair May day's on its way With the May day pageant bright and grand. And the May Queen there so gay.

A queen I say, but hold awhile—The queen is still to be So cast your votes and use your cash, And then the queen you'll see.

Now, for a queen, your first thought is, A pretty, laughing girl. In high school, say, there's lots of them So come and try a whirl.

A penny a vote, step up and buy: A hundred, ten or three. You'll find your chance, vote for your queen. At Mitchell's pharmacy. Leo Smith, '23

Monthly Students' Meeting Held The regular monthly student body meeting was held Monday. The officers for the student body of next year were nominated as follows: President, Arrouine Robinson, Herbert Haneline, Ernest Adleman, Madge Quick.

How Bridge Which Had Been Thought White Elephant Brought Fortune to Group of Marylanders. Twelve years ago the Pennsylvania railroad gave away an old bridge over the Susquehanna river at Havre de Grace to private interests; the building of a new bridge had made it, apparently, valueless. Motorcars ever since have been crossing the structure in increasing numbers, and the men who got the bridge for nothing in 1910 recently sold it to the state of Maryland for $585,000. And in 12 years it was in their possession, they pocketed $370,000 in dividends, all in toll charges collected from motorcars.

When the new bridge made the old one of doubtful use, the railroad company offered it first to the state and then to the county, but without success. If no one accepted it, the company was confronted with the necessity of removing it, which would have been very expensive. So finally the company changed it from a railroad bridge to a highway bridge, and considered itself lucky in finding a group of Maryland men who consented to accept the structure, which originally had cost $2,000,000.

The recipients put up $700 to organize a company. Last year the net returns from the bridge were $85,000. The state will continue to collect tolls until 1938, by which date it estimates the proceeds will retire the bonds issued against the purchase price of $585,000.—Baltimore American.

Many gas poison shells have been washed up at Southport, Eng., and 10 of them have been removed by some unknown persons. It is feared that some damage may result if they are handled by persons ignorant of their dangerous nature and the authorities are anxious to trace them.

Meanwhile the names will be posted upon the bulletin board so the students will have a chance to consider the capabilities of the nominees. A committee was also appointed to draw up a constitution which will include many phases not incorporated in the present one. This new constitution will be very carefully considered before adoption and will undoubtedly be one of the most efficient ones in high school use.

Paul Stockard, a member of the class of 1922, was renewing old acquaintances at school this week. Paul is now a student at Whitman college and will be remembered by many because of his intense interest in all student body activities during his high school career.

The county declamatory contest will be held in Pendleton on Friday evening, April 6. This contest decides the county championship in the various divisions and promises to be very interesting. The Hermiston contestants are as follows: Louise Root, Jane Warner, Isabelle Dodd, Frank Swayze and Anita Paulsen. We feel that these contestants will carry away a number of honors.

IMPORTANT! The students and the faculty wish to make known the fact that the trouble with the lighting system at the school has been discovered and that the inconvenience of last Saturday night will not occur again.

Earl Benschel represented the high school at the Commercial club luncheon Tuesday, April 3.

The Hermiston base ball team were victorious over the teams representing Umatilla high school in the games on the local fields last Friday afternoon. The girls game proved interesting in that it was the first of the type held here in a long time. Edna Bokish, Madge Quick and Margaret Neary starred on the local team which won by a score of 29 to 6. The batteries were: Umatilla, Stevens-Tucker; Hermiston, Quick-Neary. Umpire, Reed. The Hermiston boys also played a much superior game to that of Umatilla and the contest resulted in a 11 to 4 victory.

The Hermiston players will have a return game with the Umatilla team on Friday, April 6, at Umatilla, and an interesting contest is anticipated.

Miss Irma Buchner entertained a few friends on Sunday afternoon, April 1. A hike to the butte and games were the order of the day. A delicious picnic luncheon was served at the Buchner residence later in the afternoon.

From the Vikings Unearthed. The discovery near Gothenburg, Sweden, of ruins of Ganda Lode, and Nya Lode, two ancient seaports of the Vikings, is considered one of the most important of its kind in north Europe during recent years. The find uncovers the seats of learning and of trade of the Norsemen during the Middle Ages. Ganda Lode has been completely excavated and discoveries of the life of the Vikings are being unearthed rapidly as the excavation of Nya Lode also nears completion. Among the interesting remains found are a great church with several smaller churches, city walls, a castle, houses, armor, tools, weapons and coins, with other relics which throw much light upon the culture and early history of Scandinavia.
