NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE UNDER EXECUTION

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court, State of Oregon for Umatilla County, and to me directed and delivered, upon the judgment and decree rendered and entered in said Court on the 11th day of June, 1923, in favor of Peter Castaic as Plaintiff and against Anthony F. Drolshagen as Defendant, for the sum of $2370.75 with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from March 22, 1922, the further sum of $230.00 attorney's fees, and for $17.05 cost and disbursements, which said decree, judgment and order of sale has been docketed and enrolled in the office of the Clerk of said Circuit Court; and whereas by said judgment, decree and order of sale it was directed that the following described real property in Umatilla County, Oregon, to-wit: The West Half (W 1/2) of the Southeast Quarter (SE 1/4) of the Northwest Quarter (NW 1/4) of Section 26, Tp. 5 N. R. 28 E. W. M., be sold by the Sheriff of Umatilla County, Oregon, to satisfy said judgment and all costs; I will on the 16th day of July, A. D. 1923, at the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon of said day at the west door of the Court House of said County in Pendleton, Umatilla County, Oregon, sell the right, title and interest in said Anthony F. Drolshagen had in and to the above described property on the 22nd day of March, A. D. 1922, or since then has acquired, at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in hand, the proceeds to be applied in satisfaction of said execution and all costs. Wires Too Fine for Sight. Tungsten, the metal from which modern electric filaments are made, can be drawn into wire so fine as to be invisible to the naked eye except when held against the sun. A pierced diamond serves as a die to spin this cobweb metal which, in spite of its almost impalpable fineness, is strong enough to bear up a pair of ordinary desk shears. Wire of this sort is used chiefly as fuse in delicate electrical experiments, where the least excess of current would destroy intricate and costly apparatus. Tungsten cannot be successfully bent and shaped cold. Because of this peculiarity, the cone-shaped filaments for certain types of lamps are made by winding the tungsten wire around a slender steel mandrel, or core, and after fixing it with heat, dissolving away the steel, leaving the shaped filament as it appears in the finished lamp.

Who Owns The Union Pacific?

The Union Pacific is owned by 51,016 stockholders. Forty-three per cent of the stockholders are women. Stockholders outnumber by 4,461 the yearly average number of officers and employees of the system.

No one person, firm, corporation or institution owns as much as two per cent of the capital stock. The average holding is 63 shares of a par value of $6,300.00.

A large amount of the stock, although registered in the name of stock brokers, is actually owned by a great many different individuals, clients of such brokers. Furthermore, many of the registered stockholders are executors, trustees, guardians, etc., representing individuals who are the beneficial owners. If, therefore, a list of the actual owners could be compiled, it would greatly exceed 51,016 and the average holding would be considerably less than 63 shares. Again, large amounts of the stock are owned by life insurance companies and savings banks, who, though actually owning the stock, really hold it for the benefit of vast numbers of life insurance policy holders and saving bank depositors.

Union Pacific stock, like the country's trade, follows the flag. Stockholders are found in every state of the Union, and in Alaska, the Canal Zone, Gum, Hawaii, Philippine Islands and Porto Rico.

Were these 51,016 Union Pacific stockholders assembled at one place, they would make a population as large as that of Lincoln, Butte, Topeka, Long Beach, Pasadena or Pueblo. They represent a greater number than the combined populations of Colorado Springs, Boulder and Greeley in Colorado, or Ogden, Provo and Logan in Utah.

This widespread distribution conclusively answers the statement that the railways are owned and controlled by a few persons. To an extent not generally recognized, the railways are owned by the public. The subject comes home to every household when it is considered that life insurance policy holders and savings bank depositors are partners in the operation and development of our railways.

The public and our employees should know that we are working not for a few wealthy men, but for an army of more than 50,000 persons, almost half of whom are women and most of whom are persons of moderate means.

To serve well the public and these shareholders is the highest ambition of the 46,555 officers and employees of the Union Pacific Family.

The Union Pacific's constant effort is to furnish its patrons and the general public with the best brand of transportation that can be manufactured. Constructive suggestions are always welcome.
