

Use-Or Lose

Lack of use is in fact abuse. This will apply to money, to grain, to human energy. If you keep, you will never reap. It is use-or lose. Money in the bank goes into circulation, helps make business better. Money hid away about the house, locked in deposit boxes, buried in the cellar, does no good and is likely to be lost. The safe place for your money is in a reliable bank like ours.

STATE MARKET AGENT DEPARTMENT

Complaints of shippers come to the market agent that shipments of eggs graded at country points do not take the same grade when graded by the dealers in Portland—that they are graded down on size. The market agent is asked if there is not some means of verifying these grades. The market agent law makes it the duty of the market agent to investigate complaints, and upon request, act as mediator or arbitrator in any controversy or issue that may arise among producers, distributors and consumers of such products, and in case the parties to the dispute fail to reach an adjustment, he may make his findings public. The matter of grading eggs according to size and weight is simple and there should not be any marked difference between the grading of the shipper and the buyers, if the graders observe the standards. In case of dispute of grades, however, the market agent will have the cases re-graded by competent officials if requested to do so.

"The only thing wrong with co-operation is that it doesn't work." How often is this cynical remark made by people who do not know what they are saying, and who do not take the trouble to find out facts. The occasional co-operative failure is always played up while the successes of private business every day are taken as a matter of course. During the 'eleven years, from 1913 to 1923, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the money losses because of co-operative farmers organizations going out of business were less than three-tenths of one per cent of the total business of co-operatives active during those eleven years. Private business cannot show such a record.

Since Tillamook county farmers lined up all the merchants of that county in an agreement not to handle or sell the butter substitutes, the movement is spreading into other counties, yet leaders in the movement report that in some counties the farmers themselves do not apparently take interest in the matter of helping to line up the merchants. If the farmers would unite in this fight against milk and butter substitutes there would hardly be a merchant in the state, outside of Portland, who would handle the counterfeits.

Growers in the Willamette valley have asked the state market agent to help them find markets for hairy vetch seed. If any farmers are in the market for this seed, the market agent will put them in touch with the growers.

The embargo against the foot and mouth epidemic in California is yet held tight against that state, and one of the results will doubtless be good demand for nearly all Oregon fruits and vegetables this season. The federal government now has entire charge of the situation in California and every precaution is being taken to prevent its spread and stamp it out.

Seeing YOSEMITE on ZEROLENE-lubricated bearings

If you haven't traveled the Horseshoe Route out of Merced to Yosemite in one of the Pierce-Arrow touring cars operated by the Yosemite Stage and Turnpike Company, you've missed something.

But whether or not you have made this trip, you'll be interested, as a motorist, in knowing that the twenty-five Pierce-Arrow cars used in this service are lubricated with Zerolene. The manager of this famous stage line writes:

"We have been operating a stage line since 1911 and have always used Zerolene. Recently we disposed of some cars that had been in our service for ten years, and during that period none of them had ever had a bearing scraped."

Whether you drive a Pierce-Arrow or a Ford, the use of Zerolene, of the proper body, will not only cut down your oil bill, but give you greater gasoline mileage, less carbon, lower upkeep costs, and a longer life for your car.

ZEROLENE F for FORDS

—the Standard Oil Company's new improved oil for Ford cars "Feeds Those Oil-Starved Fords."

This booklet reports independent service tests of Zerolene made by a number of large users. Ask any Standard Oil Company sales representative or Zerolene dealer for a copy.

Big users refuse to pay tribute to the old superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about "eastern" oils—why should you pay that tribute?

Insist on Zerolene, even if it does cost less.
