LOCAL AND PERSONAL BREVITIES

Ross Newport, of the Newport Construction company, was a Hermiston visitor Friday. The company has a contract on Butter creek.

J. B. Farley, who until recently, was a partner of T. S. Townsend in the Hermiston creamery, has gone to Portland where he will be employed as buttermaker with a creamery in that city. Mr. Farley still retains his interest in the Hermiston market. Art Burkenbine who has been a meat cutter for the market since its establishment, will be the manager.

J. H. Bean who until recently was a resident in the Columbia district, but at present living in Spokane, was a visitor here the latter part of last week. Mr. Bean still owns his ranch here and was in Hermiston on a deal to trade it for other property.

C. E. Glasgow and wife of Irrigon were business visitors in this city Monday.

W. S. Casady who lives in the Columbia district has a unique arrangement whereby he utilizes the sewage water from the A line canal. He has piped the water to the barn and with the power generated from a water motor is able to operate a milking machine and separator. He is now considering generating electricity for lighting. Mr. Casady saw the latent possibilities and by a little head work has perfected a clever contrivance.

A number of articles such as a wagon, piano, bureau, chairs and table carved from wood with a pen knife is on exhibit in the window of Ogden's jewelry store. The work was done by Cecil Madden of this city and demonstrates that the gentleman is thoroughly skilled in this line of work. Every little detail of these articles is duplicated with unusual accuracy.

Mrs. Sam Rogers left Monday night for Portland where she will spend a few days visiting relatives.

Jarvis Durfee left recently on a trip that will take him to Frisco and other California points.

C. O. Sipe was stricken with the California fever and left the latter part of the week for that state.

The repairing of the Diagonal road at the point of the government drain ditch east of town was started Saturday. The road was torn up so the government dredge might operate. During the time of the dredging a detour was provided.

In a suit filed in circuit court by Joe Udey and others against O. S. Brooks the sum of $1500 is claimed to be due and unpaid. The foreclosure of a mortgage given as security for the purchase price of land is sought. W. J. Warner represents the plaintiffs.

Don Barnett, of Adams, was in Hermiston the first part of the week.

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Gale returned to Hermiston the latter part of last week. They had been in the vicinity of Spokane investigating a possible location. The proposition failed to interest them and they will continue the search.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Ward and their daughter Lena accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Payne motored to Pendleton on a shopping tour Monday afternoon.

Ray Challis, of Pendleton, was a visitor here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Walker have accepted a position in the dining room of the Oregon hotel.

John Rubner and family left by car Monday for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will spend the winter.

"Doc" Felling returned the latter part of the week from a trip to Salem.

Mrs. Oscar Kosar and son Everett visited in Hermiston over the week end with her brother and family who live here.

Edward McKeen and wife of Wasco arrived in Hermiston Wednesday for a visit with his mother and brother here.

GOLDEN RULE DAY TO AID NEAR EAST

Five Million Dollars Needed for Refugee Orphans Under American Care.

23 NATIONS JOIN OBSERVANCE

By W. B. HINSON, D. D., Oregon Chairman Near East Relief and L. S. BOOTH, Western Washington Chairman

With the co-operation of civic and religious leaders throughout the United States, the Near East Relief has inaugurated its campaign for the second observance of International Golden Rule Sunday on December 7. The aim is to raise funds to provide during the coming year for 100,000 orphan children under American care in Bible Lands. More than five million dollars is the minimum needed.

Setting aside of one day each year in honor of the Golden Rule as a guide to individual, national and international life, is an American idea which has been approved and adopted by twenty-three nations. The day, December 7th, will be observed throughout Europe and in many non-European countries, such as Japan, Korea and Palestine.

Four annual holidays — Christmas, New Year, Eastern and Armistice Day — have heretofore been celebrated internationally. A fifth has now been added to the list. The movement was started in America by the Near East Relief as a new, striking and intensive method of raising funds for the feeding of the children in American orphanages in Bible Lands.

On this day—December 7—Americans are asked to eat a dinner of soup, bread and stew, or of rice, macaroni and cocoa. As they eat this novel meal, they are asked to remember that, coarse as it is, it is all that holds body and soul together for the orphaned boys and girls overseas, to whom the elemental factor of hunger is each day's vital problem.

People here are reminded that, however poor the fare may seem, they can at least have two bowls of soup if they like, and two slices of bread. As they finish their second serving, they are asked to remember that the orphan wards of the Near East Relief can have only one serving, for there is not enough to allow more. They are asked to remember that these children exist on such a diet 365 days out of each year, and they will not live to become men and women unless more bread and more soup are provided.

Those who eat the Golden Rule dinner will not lack distinguished company. Such a meal will be served on Sunday in the homes of kings, prime ministers and presidents.

The Golden Rule is a universal creed. It is a common denominator of all religious and social welfare organizations. It is a test of our religion and our sincerity. Golden Rule

Sunday is a day for personal stock-taking for measuring our lives by a universally accepted standard of life to ascertain how nearly we have attained to an ideal. It is a day of plain living and high thinking.

The dinner, however, is not an end in itself. It is an occasion, in the words of President Coolidge, "for bringing to the minds of those who are prosperous the charitable requirements of those who are in adversity."

On Golden Rule Sunday the citizens of all nations will be seated figuratively at the same table, partaking literally of the same food, thinking the same thoughts and entering into a new realization of the brotherhood of mankind.

Full information, with sample menus and suggestions for the observance of the day, will be furnished by the Near East Relief, Portland or Seattle.

Cameo Cutting Hard Work
Much skill is exercised by the expert cameo cutter. He can only work at his task for a few hours at a time, because of nerve strain. A quivering hand may be responsible for the single stroke which will spoil a week's work. He must have an eye like a microscope, and a very delicate touch; he must be an artist in soul, and as skillful a craftsman as is a watchmaker; he must know how to model and draw, and he must have a knowledge of chemistry, so as to remove offending spots. The work is executed in relief on many kinds of hard or precious stones, but especially the chalcidonic variety of quartz and on shells.

In buying a Radio Set select one that will give you every day service. The very cheap sets will not bring in the distant stations, and in the very high priced ones you are investing in fancy cabinets.

None are expensive to operate but some are much cheaper than others. There being no regular broadcasting station near Hermiston, to get satisfactory results our set must be able to bring in the distant stations and with volume to operate loud speaker if you would have it enjoyed by the whole family, and it should be easy to operate with nothing to get out of order.

The NORTHWESTERN is built in neat Mahogany cabinets suitable for the finest homes, yet is not expensive; operating expense is very low and is so simple that child can operate.

For distance and volume it is the equal of any and is superior to many. The price is $125.00 without accessories.
