IRRIGON

The school program given last Saturday night was a grand and glorious success socially and financially. The play given by the girls was an outstanding feature of the evening.

Heard ye, heard ye. The circuit court of Irrigon will be in session on Saturday night. The men are putting on the chaps program.

Six weeks' tests and final exams for the year are in order for the high school this week. This accounts for the sweet disposition of the girls in particular. School closes next Wednesday with a picnic to which all parents and patrons are cordially invited.

Old French Chateaux
of Historic Interest

To say these French names over rapidly suggests college days and the struggle with declensions, but Guyon, Gallion and Galliard are not in any grammar, they are three interesting Normandy chateaux, whose ruins go back to the days of waving plumes, shining armor and prancing steeds.

If you can ignore for a moment the scratchings of tourists on the old walls and the waste paper of kodak cartons they have left behind them, it is not hard to people, in fancy, the Twelfth century life that went on here, when Richard the Lion Hearted invaded the land.

The view from the tower at Guyon should not be missed and reminds one of the panorama from the Eiffel tower. Galliard, which in King Richard's day was "the key to all Normandy," will also give to those who scramble up the precipitous ruins, a wonderful outlook. At Gallion, the American will remember that it not only once housed Philippe-Auguste, Louis XII, the Medici and Napoleon, but also Benjamin Franklin.

Age Limit Foolish

Though genius is always born and the highest kind shows itself at an early age, success is made, generally with much toil, and is not always accompanied by wealth. For that it must be combined with practical prudence, as it was in the cases of a Michelangelo, Rubens, Reynolds, Titian, and Shakespeare, who were all rich and happy.

Age limits to success, indeed, can be laid down broadly only by the fool. "Too old at forty," Sir William Herschel was forty-three before he made his first discovery in astronomy. We did not hear of Kitchener till he was forty-six, and Howard, the philanthropist, was still older when he emerged from obscurity.—London Tit-Bits.

Oh, Romeo!

He was a very sly young man, and although Erasmus had presented him with innumerable opportunities for declaring his love in practical fashion, he could never summon up sufficient courage to take advantage of them.

They were sitting as usual one evening—she on the sofa, he on a chair, with the usual half-hour intervals between remarks, when the climax was reached.

"Isn't it funny," she said, "that the length of a man's arm is the same as the circumference of a girl's waist?"
 "Is that so?" said he, mildly interested. "What do you say if we get a piece of string and see if it's right?"

Production Record
for U. S. Set in 1925

Washington.—Manufacturing production in the United States during 1925 was the largest ever recorded, the Commerce department announced, the level being represented by the index number 125 on the basis of 100 as the 1919 output volume. It also represented an 11 per cent increase in production over 1924.

None of the industries considered showed a production decline under 1924 except the foodstuffs group. Great gains were recorded in iron and steel, lumber, stone, ceramics, oils and automobiles.

Raw material output in 1925, however, declined from the 1924 level. The index number 115 was fixed for the output of 1925 raw materials, while in 1924 it was 118. Here also the 1919 level was represented by 100. Farm crops were the only items in the category to show greater volume in 1925 than in 1924.

Prince Oscar Broke

Berlin.—Pity poor Oscar Hohenzollern, son of Wilhelm! He's so broke that he has to make the fire in the kitchen stove with his own hands. At least a reichstag committee has been informed so. The government pays him a meagre pension of $35 a week.
