To See History Made

Is something out of the ordinary. We all may read of how big events have been enacted, but it is only rarely that we can see with our own eyes history making acts. One such opportunity is offered in—

"THE WORLD WAR"

A big film showing actual scenes in the recent war on land, sea and in the air. This picture was made over a period of eight years by a small army of camera men who "shot" actual war scenes under the direction of the United States Government. The picture will be shown here at the

P. O. Address, Hermiston

Ben Jones formerly farmed in the Elgin country, across the Blue mountains, but he came here recently and is now living on the project. "I don't intend to raise any cash crop that I will have to sell, irrespective of what the market may be," said Mr. Jones. "I've been watching wheat farmers do that over in the Elgin country. I want a variety of stuff to sell along so I won't have to depend on any one crop for my living."

When Mack Foster of Pendleton gets confidential and talks about his age, he talks of more years than the casual observer would credit him with having lived. Notwithstanding he has arrived at that period of life when a lot of men prefer the cozy corner and something to read, Mr. Foster still likes the strenuous life. Hunting ducks is one of the sports he likes best, and then a thick, tender steak after the hunt is over. He enjoyed both in Hermiston Monday.

The dense fogs which have prevailed at night the fore part of the week have brought grief to night drivers of automobiles. No serious accidents have occurred, however.

Hunting Polar Bears No Longer Perilous

The old method of hunting polar bears was as dangerous for the hunters as it was for the bear, according to Roy J. Snell, a man of action and who knows the polar wastes of the North. In the early hunting days, four natives would start out together for bear. When they located one, all but one of the men would crawl up close and attempt to harpoon him. If they succeeded in sticking the animal they would hold him by leather thongs attached to the harpoons, while the fourth member of the party approached a position where he could attack the animal with a spear. The bear was not always quiet and peaceful and not infrequently he would get one of the men. Now, however, the game of bear hunting in the Arctic is much the same as it is in the cane brakes of Louisiana or the mountains of Idaho. They use dogs to keep the bear busy while they approach with rifles and pick off the bear at their leisure.

America Leads Nations In Use Of Ice Cream

If any one food may be considered as America's national dish, it is ice cream.

Ice cream is a food particularly adapted to the needs of individuals of all ages, giving as it does the best type of nutrients for the repair of bone, teeth, blood and muscles and for energy.

Today thousands of housewives make their own ice cream. As a consequence, the making of this highly nutritious food at a reduced cost, yet without in any way impairing the product, is of importance.

Home economists have found a means to this end in the use of evaporated milk. There are three important reasons why evaporated milk makes the best ice cream, they point out. Because 99 per cent of the natural water in evaporated milk has been removed by evaporation, there is over twice the percentage of solids present in this type of milk than there is in ordinary market milk—and, since it is the solids that give ice cream its pleasing flavor, this fact is of moment.

Then, the composition of evaporated milk is constant, for the reason that it has been put through an homogenizing process, which breaks up the fat globules into tiny particles and distributes them evenly throughout the milk. This attribute makes for an ice-cream mixture of uniform quality and fine texture.

Finally, experts agree that the use of evaporated milk in ice cream contributes to its hygienic qualities, for the reason that evaporated milk is entirely sterile. Health authorities declare that milk and cream should be treated to a heat of 150 degrees F. for half an hour in order that a product may be produced free from infective organisms. Evaporated milk is processed at 240 degrees for 30 minutes, and, therefore, its introduction into an ice-cream mixture increases its purity in proportion to the amount of evaporated milk used.

Island's "Soup" Harvest

There is an island off the coast of China that has but one industry. It is soup. To those not initiated, birds' nest soup may easily summon up a picture of stewed twigs, string, grass, bits of cotton and feathers; but connoisseurs of the exotic know that the nests from which this brand of soup is made are composed entirely of a gelatinous substance excreted by the birds as they build. On this island, where an intensive soup industry is conducted (it is sometimes called Birds' Nest Island, sometimes the Island of a Hundred Peaks), there are caves in which the birds construct their dwellings in great numbers. These are regularly harvested after each breeding season and the delicacy is prepared for export.

Lonsdale Romance

There is a romantic story, remembered perhaps by very few, connected with the wonderful dinner set of Sevres china at Lowther castle. It had been stolen in Paris during the revolution, and subsequently purchased by the second earl of Lonsdale. There were three pieces wanting, and for these the earl searched for many years without success. At last—his age was eighty—he heard that they were catalogued in a sale in London. He sent a friend to purchase them, and, being very feeble, waited outside in his brougham. The missing pieces were purchased, Lord Lonsdale took them home—and died that night.
