Poultry is an Important Part of the Grow-Your-Own-Living Farm Program

FARM POULTRY

PROVIDES GOOD FOOD FOR THE FAMILY. GIVES SOMETHING TO SELL EACH WEEK. FITS WITH DIVERSIFIED FARMING.

It is a Billion Dollar Cash Crop

The poultry census is taken only every 10 years. The last census showed there were in the United States 360,000,000 chickens. They produced 1,676,000,000 dozen eggs. The year's production of chickens and eggs brought $1,048,000,000.

Ninety per cent of this billion dollars goes to farmers or rather to farmers' wives. These good wives spend it for groceries, clothing, lights, washing machines, rugs, pictures, books, phonographs. If we should take the poultry money out of a farm community, the country town merchants would wonder what had happened to their business.

Higher labor and feed prices, our newer knowledge of the factors making for economical and successful egg production, and an increasing demand for a standardized product on the part of the consumer are factors which are forcing many farm folks to make adjustments in their flocks. Farm poultry is fast getting down to a more business-like basis.

We have just received a number of booklets giving the results of several experiment stations and successful poultry men, of Hatching, Brooding, Culling and Feeding, as well as labor saving devices in the care of Chickens, Ducks, Geese and Turkeys. Copies may be obtained at the office.

NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB HAS ST. PATRICK'S PROGRAM

Friday, March 11, marked the date of another of the delightful meetings held this season by the Neighborhood club. Mrs. M. M. Smith was hostess for the occasion. A large attendance of members and four visitors were present. After the business hour a St. Patrick's program was enjoyed.

Mrs. Wilson sang beautifully "Ireland Must be Heaven for My Mother Came From There." Mrs. Smith gave a reading that was especially good. Mrs. Thompson of Butter creek also gave a reading entitled, "St. Patrick's Birthday." A number of good Irish jokes were given and as many good hearty laughs were indulged in.

Mrs. Smith's home was attractively decorated, green and white being used as her color scheme. The long table was beautiful with its streamers of green and white draped from the ceiling. A clever Irish motif was used for the center of the table. Each place was marked by a tiny shamrock bearing a guest's name.

The refreshments served were delicious. Green gelatine was used as a foundation for the fruit salad, angel food cakes decorated with green and white frosting, graced the table, shamrock cookies and green and white candies were served with coffee.

The next club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mikesell March 25.

SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

A very interesting program was given at the Parent-Teacher association meeting last Thursday at the high school. A piano duet was given by Reese Burkenbine and Eugene Pierce, and a piano solo by Buddy Prime. A hygiene play, written by the sixth grade, was given by the members of that grade, and the casket scene from the "Merchant of Venice" was also part of their share of the program. The next meeting, which is to be an evening meeting, will see strenuous efforts for the membership drive. Each grade school teacher gave a short talk on the work of her grade.

The Senior play on Friday night was a financial as well as dramatic success. All the money is not yet in but the business manager, Joe C. Naught, expects to clear about $70. Much of the credit for the success of the play is due to the stage manager, Lowell Stockard. The excellent "props" which he secured added much to the play. The senior class wishes to thank everyone who kindly lent furniture and accessories.

The candy sale at the senior play was in charge of the Sophomore and freshman classes. Friendly rivalry led to an increase in sales. The money thus secured will go to the fund for the tennis court.

The schedule for baseball games this season is filling up rapidly. Much enthusiasm is prevalent at school, and the boys are hoping to have a good team.

EXPERIMENT STATION NOTES

H. K. Doan, Supt.
 The farmer today is faced with economic conditions to a greater degree than ever before. He is not like the predecessor of 50 or 100 years ago who produced most of his own living requirements. With the development of transportation and distribution facilities it is economically sound that farmers should raise that crop best adapted to his conditions, be it wheat, apples, potatoes or what not. However, our irrigated farms are adapted to growing a variety of crops and livestock products and the man who has several sources of income is better able to meet adverse conditions than the one-crop man. Diversification does not require that a man have six or seven crops or livestock enterprises of equal importance on his farm but rather that he has four or five branches, if you put it that way, of which one or two are his major activities and the balance minor activities. These minor activities should be of sufficient importance however that he will have marketable quantities of each product and give them the attention they require for success.
