Mrs. Gerald A. White was here from Lexington to spend Easter.

W. A. Holt, county agent, was a Hermiston visitor Tuesday.

Paul Mumma spent a couple of days in Pendleton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Alexander of Pendleton were here to spend Easter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Dodd.

F. B. Swayze, Mrs. R. E. Mitchell and Mrs. A. H. Norton were Pendleton visitors Saturday.

Dr. F. V. Prime and F. B. Swayze went to Portland Wednesday to spend several days on business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Little and Mrs. A. E. Dohman were Pendleton visitors Monday.

Hawley Bean was here from Echo Wednesday on business connected with the Westland Irrigation district.

Goldie Mumma was here from Portland to spend Easter with her mother and brother.

Otto Pierce, Frank Bilderback, Herb Shesely and William Shaar were Hermiston fight fans who saw the card in Pendleton Monday night.

E. P. Dodd left Wednesday for Wenatchee to look after land which he acquired a short time since through a trade.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Kahler of Tekoa, Wash., spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Kahler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peir Bokish.

Mrs. W. R. Nugent and Mrs. A. E. McFarland came from Umatilla Tuesday to attend the meeting of the Community club.

Mrs. M. C. Norton and Roy Haddock rode to Portland recently with Rev. A. J. Ware. Mrs. Norton returned to Hermiston last Saturday.

Elder W. B. Howard, Primitive Baptist of Freewater, will preach at the Free Methodist mission at 2 P. M. Sunday, April 24. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Sarah Edgar and son Craig of Tillamook county, are visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. McFalls at Minnehaha. Mrs. Edgar is a sister of Mrs. McFalls.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Prindle plan to leave Monday for California where they will make an extended visit at the home of their son near Los Angeles. They will be accompanied on the trip by M. Duty who will join Mrs. Duty there.

Stated communication Queen Esther chapter O. E. S. next Tuesday night. Chapter opens at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Edna Woodward, deputy grand matron, will make her official visit.

"I think all of the apples were killed by Tuesday night's freeze," said Thomas Campbell Wednesday. "I have examined a good many buds of several varieties, and all appeared to be dead."

Mrs. D. R. Shesely left Monday for her home in Toledo, Ohio, after an extended visit here at the home of her son, H. E. Shesely. Mr. and Mrs. Shesely accompanied their guest as far as Pendleton.

"Quite a few are planning on an acreage of asparagus in the Stanfield district this year," said F. A. Baker, dairy man of that community, while in Hermiston Friday. "I have my plants out now. The marketing will be a job until we get some production, but when our volume is sufficient we will be able to sell through the co-operative."

STANFIELD MEN TO MEET

DR. MEAD IN PORTLAND

The board of directors of the Stanfield Irrigation district has been invited by Dr. Elwood Mead, director of reclamation, to send representatives to confer with him when he is in Portland in May on his tour of the west, according to F. A. Baker, secretary of the Stanfield district. The board has been in correspondence with the commissioner for many months about problems facing the district.

COMMUNITY CLUB PLANS

TO BROADEN ITS PROGRAM

Several Branches Suggested For Coming Work; Miss Rugg Talks On Scotland

The meeting of the Community club held at the library Tuesday afternoon was attended by about 50 members and guests. This was the largest number present at a club meeting for some time, showing that there is a reviving interest being displayed in the organization.

In the short business meeting held before the program was given suggestions were brought forward for the formation next year of different branches of the club, among these a study department, home economics group and other divisions as interest in these different activities is expressed. Leaders of these divisions have planned to make these groups very attractive, and the next meeting will take up these matters.

Mrs. Charles Kellar spoke of the nutrition classes being held here by Miss Lucy Case of O. A. C. and urged attendance at the next class to be held April 28.

Miss Jean Rugg gave the principal talk of the afternoon, her subject being Scotland. Most of the time was given to descriptions of Eden-burgh where Miss Rugg spent her university days. She touched on historical points, the customs of the people there and architectural and scenic beauties, showing a number of photographs of places of which she spoke.

Miss Seyler and Margaret Waterman sang "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," and "Annie Laurie," and Mrs. W. L. Hanna read "Ten Ways to Kill a Club." Punch and wafers were served during the social hour that followed the program.

The next meeting of the club will be on May 3 at the library. A program is being arranged for that date.
