

Initiative

Is one of the chief requisites needed by those who would succeed. The prizes of success are not easily won, and without exercising initiative, the goal can be reached only by accident—one chance in a million.

This bank welcomes the chance to aid men and women who have courage and initiative.

TWO COUNTIES JOLLIFY

ing the dam a reality. Among the visitors introduced, some of whom talked, were W. G. Ide, Portland, land settlement work; H. E. Lounsbury, Charles Gignoux of the Union Pacific System, and J. P. O'Brien, vice-president and general manager of the O-W. R. & N.; Whitney L. Boise, Portland Chamber of Commerce; Geo. C. Baer, secretary Pendleton Commercial association; Fred L. Kiddle, joint senator from Union and Umatilla counties of La Grande; Rhea Luper, state engineer; John W. Kelly, special writer, Portland Oregonian; Marshall N. Dana, associate editor, Portland Journal; A. C. Spencer, chief consul O-W. R. & N.; James Stewart, state land department; Governor Patterson; Senator Steiwer; and Representative Sinnott.

After extending his congratulations on completion of the dam, Governor Patterson expressed the opinion that the economical utilization of the waters impounded by the big mound is a problem belonging to the federal government. He predicted that the services of the congressional delegation will be effective in securing such adjustments as are necessary.

Diversification is one of the chief needs of farming in nearly all districts, the chief executive said, and a continuance of the practice of growing a diversity of crops and extending the practice on the local projects was recommended by him.

Senator Steiwer recited some of the historical aspects of irrigation in Umatilla county and Oregon. The first record of ditches being built in Umatilla county for carrying irrigation water dates back to the early '60s, he said. The Allen ditch was started in 1883 on the Umatilla meadows. In 1891 the Riley act was enacted and clarified state law as to irrigation work.

The senator characterized the Umatilla Rapids project as a great dream that should challenge all of us. Its construction will create a second Willamette valley, add vast values to Oregon's wealth and aid in the development of the northwest by harnessing hydro-electric power.

Representative Sinnott spoke briefly about the history of the McKay dam and told some of the problems the western senators and representatives encounter in their efforts to secure enactment of legislation that make possible new works, or relief for projects on which mistakes were made in the building.

The government wrote off accumulated losses on projects last year amounting to about 12 million dollars, and admitted further probable losses aggregating several million dollars, he said. The east has been assured that the losses now taken by the government represent sufficient relief to establish projects to make it possible for them to succeed.

Music for the program was given by Miss Seyler and Miss Waterman who sang a duet. Later the Pendleton trio, consisting of Bert Jerard, Ed Olsen and Brook Dickson, entertained with musical numbers that were much appreciated by the audience.

The dinner for the banquet was furnished and served by the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Cigars were furnished by the commercial club. More than 200 guests were present.

The general committee in charge consisted of E. P. Dodd, F. C. McKenzie, H. E. Hitt, W. J. Warner and C. S. McNaught.

UMATILLA ITEMS

Umatilla baseball team defeated Boardman at Boardman Sunday by a score of 8 to 4. Umatilla started out with a bang. The first man up singled and the next two men were out. Then Duckworth tripled and was out trying to stretch his hit into a home run. Umatilla scored twice in the third, four times in the eighth and once in the ninth. Boardman scored two in the first and two in the second and was blanked from then

Reports on Plants Wanted

In some places on the project strawberry plants are not thriving as they should, County Agent Holt has discovered in making his rounds. He suggested that growers whose plants are dying get in touch with him so that remedial measures may be applied.

Leather furniture coverings look better and last longer if they're rubbed occasionally with castor oil. This restores to the leather the oil that gradually dries out. The oil should be well rubbed in and any excess wiped off the surface, or it will collect and hold dirt which will often darken the leather, and soil whatever touches it.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McNaught returned the first of the week from Portland where they spent several days.

STATE MARKET AGENT

There were fifty new Granges organized in the United States during the first quarter of this year, Ohio leading with 13, Washington in second place with 6, Oklahoma organized 5, Idaho, Indiana and Michigan 4 each; Colorado and Oregon 3 each; Iowa and New York 2 each; California, Kansas, Maryland and Vermont, 1 each.

The Grange News of Seattle suggests: Separate milk on the farm while it is still warm. The fat will then flow readily through the machine. The temperature should be 85 degrees or more for the average separator. When the temperature is 85 degrees or less more fat is left in the skim milk. Speed of the machine will also affect the amount of fat left in the milk.

"The reasonable view of co-operative marketing," says O. B. Jesnes of the Kentucky experiment station, "is that it gets results for its members by performing services, and not by attempting to fix prices at an artificial level in disregard of actual market conditions."

The Eggs aminer, official bulletin of the o-operative Poultry Producers, Portland, tells poultrymen: "It will pay you to take good care of your eggs. Gather them often. Hold them in a cool dry place, out of drafts. Handle them carefully to avoid cracking or injury to the contents."

A Grant county veterinarian says in the Eagle that foot-rot in sheep, annoying, is not particularly serious, and may be cured by allowing the animals to stand five minutes in troughs containing six inches deep of solution composed of bluestone, one pound to the gallon of water. He says that the carbolic sheep dip, or formaldehyde six ounces to gallon of water is also good. In serious cases the crust of the sore should be broken and the pus squeezed out before treatment.

The Oregon Farmer wisely counsels butter makers to induce their home merchants to handle only real butter and no vegetable oil substitutes, and also, advises them to quit sending their money to distant mail order houses, but do their buying as near home as possible.

Making silk out of the fiber of corn stalks is a new adventure in Illinois. It is proposed to build a $2,000,000 plant at Peoria for this purpose. In the corn growing states the stalks are largely wasted and if they can be turned into artificial silk, as recent laboratory experiments have demonstrated, a very important industry is assured.

Co-operative effort is growing among the farmers of Canada. Recently in southern Ontario, an organization of fruit and vegetable shippers was formed for the purpose of bringing about closer co-operation between the growers and shippers and a better understanding of the problems to be faced.

The Baker Democrat says that cattle prices are climbing and are now the highest since the war, average steers selling at 8 cents on foot and scarce, and no marketable cows to be had.

Standardization in Service

THE manufacturing of equipment for the Bell System was one of the earliest, and is now among the outstanding examples of the standardization and quantity production which are distinctive characteristics of American industry.

Quantity production for the nation-wide Bell System makes it possible to put into every item of telephone equipment better material and better workmanship, at a lower cost to the telephone user, than could otherwise be done. But the dominant advantage of uniform manufacturing, under standard specifications, lies in the improvement of the service.

Every transmitter in the System is designed to work in harmony with every receiver all over the land and to co-ordinate with all the complicated equipment and lines behind. All can function at full efficiency for they are designed and manufactured for that purpose. Standardization, not only of equipment but of operating methods, is the only basis upon which it would be possible adequately to meet America's need of a nation-wide, universal telephone service.
