Mr. and Mrs. J. S. White of Irrigon were Hermiston visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vane Boynton, of Pendleton, were Hermiston visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Johns of Pendleton were in Hermiston for a short time Wednesday.

The Baptist Ladies Aid society will hold a cooked food sale Saturday in the Hermiston market. The sale will begin at 11 o'clock.

"We expect to have an interesting meeting, and the more people we have present the better the program will be," Mr. Ott said.

Miss Neva Warner of Lexington is here this week as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Warner. Mr. Warner is her uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Chambers and her father, R. W. Tuttle, of Pendleton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Harvey over the week end.

Harry Kelley was in Hermiston last Sunday visiting home folks. He is doing highway construction work in Union county.

Cal, and Mrs. J. F. McNaught are expected to return home this afternoon from Portland where they have been for several weeks for the benefit of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Pierce and family were in Cour d'Alene, Idaho, May 22 to visit Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Osborn. They were accompanied by Miss Miriam Leach.

Mrs. Herbert Strohm of Portland, and her mother, Mrs. Henry Winsor of Seattle, were here as guests over Decoration Day of Mrs. Anna Strohm and Mr. and Mrs. George Strohm.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell of Portland have been here this week as guests of relatives and friends. They formerly resided here and still own land here.

John Newell, father of F. W. Newell, is here from Portland as a guest at the home of the latter. He made the trip to Hermiston with Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Dark. They returned after spending Decoration Day.

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Illsley of Camas, Washington, were here as guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Illsley, over Decoration Day. Dr. Illsley is an optometrist and has a jewelry store at Camas.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Kingsley are now living in Hermiston. They recently moved their household goods from their former home in Portland to their residence which formerly was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Voyer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hitt and Dorothy and Richard Hitt were in Portland and Jefferson over the week end. Mrs. Hitt remained in Portland, and the other members of the family went to Jefferson on Decoration Day.

"I am starting to cut my hay this week, not because the first crop is mature and ready, but in order to give the plants a chance to get a new start for the second crop," Marcus May of Butter creek said Tuesday while in town.

Carl McNaught and Willard Felt-house left Wednesday for the Yakima valley where they expect to make a first hand study of the conditions of the growing crop of alfalfa so they can get an idea of probable production in that district.

Walter Hamm received some exciting news Tuesday. It was brought by Hermiston by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor who spent the holiday in the Mount Adams district, back of White Salmon, Washington. The news was to the effect that trout by the score and hundred and thousand are swimming at large there, waiting to be hooked.

"We're lonesome at our house," said F. R. Wright who farms 10 acres southwest of Hermiston. "Our little granddaughter has been making her home with us for several years, and last Friday she returned with her parents to their home in Perry when they concluded their visit. The house seems mighty quiet." The little girl's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stephenson.

"We think it has been cold here this spring, but I found some real cold weather on my trip," said C. A. Paul Tuesday after his return Monday from Bend and Prineville. He took his mother-in-law, Mrs. Edward Gould to the home of her daughter in Bend. The altitude in both places is much higher than Hermiston, and hay crops are much later and the season slower than here, he found.

FEDERAL MARKETING OFFICE TO BE ESTABLISHED IN WEST

Southwest to Get Office July 1, and Northwest to Have Branch Later.

Regional offices to serve as contact stations between the bureau of agricultural economics, U. S. department of agriculture, and public and private and research agencies in the Pacific coast region, are to be opened, one in San Francisco for the southwest July 1, and later another for the Pacific northwest.

Burke H. Critchfield will be in charge of the California and southwest office, and William A. Schoenfeld will be in charge of the office in the Pacific northwest. Lloyd S. Tenny, chief of the bureau, announcing the establishment of the regional offices, declared that the national importance of marketing and research problems in agriculture on the Pacific coast and the intermountain states make it desirable to establish closer contact with the bureau than is possible now by reason of the distance of the regions from Washington.

The San Francisco office will serve the territory covering California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona. Mr. Critchfield has been connected with the bureau of agricultural economics for several years, and has been identified particularly with the new type of regional economic survey begun in 1923. He has directed such surveys in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, the New Orleans trade area, Mississippi and Louisiana, Idaho and Montana. His latest work has been an economic study of the demand, marketing and production of northwestern prunes which was made at the request of producers, cooperative associations and private distributors in that region. He will give particular attention to developing contacts between the bureau's work and the various marketing organizations on the Pacific coast, will inaugurate marketing research and assist in relating the bureau's domestic and foreign demand information to the problems of distribution and marketing.

William A. Schoenfeld, who has been designated for the northwestern region, was formerly assistant chief of the bureau of agricultural economics in charge of research, and also chairman of the crop reporting board. He spent two years, 1924-26, in Europe as agricultural commissioner, making studies of European markets for American farm products. His experience abroad has made him familiar with the export markets of many of the products of the northwest such as apples, prunes, dairy products and grain. He is thoroughly familiar with the farm problems of the west, having formerly lived and worked in the mountain states. He is just completing an economic survey of the milk market situation in the New England states. In the northwest he will establish close relations with marketing organizations and research agencies in the area comprising Oregon, Washington, Idaho and western Montana.

The McCormick Deering Primrose Ball Bearing separators are paying for themselves many, many times over through clean skimming, long life and easy turning. In fact, the McCormick Deering Ball Bearing Primrose is not only a close skimmer, but makes play of a man's size job, for it requires 35 per cent less energy to turn than a plain bearing machine.

Some superior features of the Primrose are:

5. Positive, automatic and visible oiling.
6. No oil holes.
