MONEY SENT AWAY

For apparent bargains as often as not fails to bring back the value anticipated. The materials may almost suit and still lack enough to make the purchase a disappointment.

There's No Excuse

For sending out of town for printing. Very few individuals or firms are doing that today for the simple reason that they can depend on the Herald's fast service, dependable workmanship and reasonable prices for quality printing.

In addition, customers have the knowledge that any aid in the way of special knowledge about forms we have, is at their disposal in helping them solve the problem of that new piece of printing. Figure your next job of printing with your community printing factory.
