A. E. Perry, water master, was in Hermiston Monday.

Frank Fowler went to Portland a week ago Wednesday on a brief vacation trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Holt and Fanny Todd of Pendleton were guests Sunday at the R. C. Todd home.

Mrs. C. C. Durfey and Mrs. J. T. Hinkle spent last Wednesday in Pendleton on business.

Mrs. J. M. Biggs returned last Thursday night from Portland after visiting her mother.

Dr. David S. Rowe was in Pendleton Sunday to attend a clinic of chiropractors of the eastern Oregon district.

The M. E. Ladies Aid society will hold an all day meeting Wednesday, November 2. Much sewing has to be done, and a large attendance is desired.

At the Church of Christ, Scientist, next Sunday, church services in the morning at 11 o'clock. Sunday school at 10:15. Lesson subject, "Everlasting Punishment."

O. T. Lockridge returned Sunday from Buckley, Washington, near Seattle, where he was called by reason of the serious illness of his mother. Her condition was somewhat improved when he left her.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Strohm of Walla Walla were guests over the week end of Mr. and Mrs. George Strohm. Howard Strohm is manager of the Blue Line stage company of Walla Walla. He is a nephew of the local man.

Mrs. Minnie Lochrie of Murray, Iowa, was here last week as a guest of Mrs. Walter Hamm. She renewed many old acquaintances of former days when she was here to visit her son, Stanley Lochrie, when he was cashier of the local bank. Mrs. Lochrie left for Iowa Saturday.

Local football enthusiasts who drove to Portland to see the O. A. C. Stanford game Saturday included Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McNaught, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Straw, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Swayze, James Todd, Logan Todd, A. E. Bessel, Coach Walenta, Albert Kennings and John Newell.

"The Herald made a mistake last week when it stated that the bucks Stanly Campbell and I shot were conveyed from the deep canyon on pack horses," said Dan Follett the other day. "They went out slung from a pole borne on the shoulders of men, and believe me, it was some job, too."

Sam Oldaker, former project resident, now in the land department of the Northern Pacific Railway with headquarters in St. Paul, is here on business. Before coming out, on this trip he visited Everett Middlesdorf, a younger brother of Dave Middlesdorf, who suffered a fracture of two vertebrae last May and has been in a St. Paul hospital ever since. His condition is showing improvement, and a bone grafting operation is to be performed soon to restore him to normal health.

R. N. Mueller drove to The Dalles Saturday on business.

Mrs. F. A. Phelps left Friday for Vale, Oregon, to visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Voyer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Correll and children, Dick, Ted and Josephine, of Portland are here for a visit with Mrs. Correll's sister, Mrs. J. S. West. The Corrells formerly lived in Hermiston and after their visit here will go to California, where Mr. Correll will be engaged in the furniture business in Ontario.

At the Baptist church Sunday, October 30, Bible school at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11. Theme, "The Print of the Nails." Evening service at 7:30. Theme, "There is a River." Captain Hull of the Life Line will be with us, the opening of our special meeting. He will lead the singing. Services each evening at 7:30 all week. A cordial invitation to the public. A. J. Ware, pastor.

Mrs. E. L. Jackson and Mrs. C. M. Jackson entertained at two parties last week at the C. M. Jackson home in the Minnehaha district. Four tables of bridge were in play each afternoon. On Thursday afternoon prizes were won as follows: First, Mrs. E. P. Dodd; second, Mrs. W. J. Warner; consolation and cut, Mrs. Rena Waterman. Saturday afternoon Mrs. H. T. Fraser won first prize, Mrs. Ralph Richards, second, Mrs. G. H. Jenkins, consolation, and Mrs. J. M. Biggs, cut prize.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Jewett believe in a variety of production on their farm, and they want the variety to work as long as possible. They are still harvesting ever bearing red raspberries from a couple of rows of vines in their garden. "We've never had much success with ever bearing strawberries," Mr. Jewett declared, "but our raspberries are of excellent quality. Every fall when the frost comes it catches an appreciable amount of berries on the vines in various stages of maturity."

Apple Week Observed

The week from October 30 to November 5, inclusive, is apple week, and the Union Pacific System is cooperating with other agencies to popularize apples. Suggestions have been made to employees of the company that apples be served as a part of meals every day during the week.
