BRIEF GENERAL NEWS

Senator Andrieus A. Jones, 65, democrat, New Mexico, died at his apartment in Washington, D. C.

The general death rate in the industrial population of the United States and Canada for 1927 will be the lowest ever recorded.

Several persons, charged with fraudulent registration in the Toledo, Ohio, mayoralty election, were indicted by the grand jury.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon announced that the treasury has decided not to issue against Germany an anti-dumping order against importation of steel products.

Wilber E. Coman, for the past six years western traffic manager of the Northern Pacific railroad at Seattle, has been named vice-president of that road to succeed the late George T. Reid.

Santa Claus must have given his approval of the use of the air mail as a means of transporting his Christmas greetings, Postmaster General New concluded when he had examined reports on air mail weighings.

Flood Victims Have Sufficient Funds.

Washington, D. C.—Red Cross funds and other resources on hand will be sufficient to carry the destitute population still needing help in the Mississippi valley flood region through until spring without further public national appeal, Secretary Hoover has announced, upon his return from a final survey of the area.

Verdun Accepts Historic Barracks.

Paris.—The municipal council of Verdun has voted to accept the gift of the famous American revolutionary army barracks at Trenton, N. J., offered by the American Legion. The relic will be transferred stone by stone and reconstructed at Verdun, where it will be used as a school for girls.

ROCK SHOWER NEAR GRAVEL PIT KEEPS FOLKS STEPPING

Blasting by the highway crew that is working at the gravel pit two miles west of town toward Umatilla, is making life exciting for people living near the pit. Six thousand yards of rock is to be taken out for highway work, and the rock is so hard that drilling cannot be done to any great depth. This makes it hard to cover the dynamite very deep and the surrounding territory is being pretty well peppered with falling rock, with the possibility that this will continue for some time.

One shot set off last Friday sent a shower of small rocks and one large one, weighing about twenty pounds, came down on the house of F. L. Metz, going through the roof, ceiling and floor of the kitchen and on into the cellar, missing the stove by a foot. Had the rock struck the stove it is likely a blaze would have been started in the house, as a roaring fire was going at the time.
