Hear the Rev. W. S. Coder, of Akron, Ohio, brother of Mrs. Martha J. Mumma, who will preach in the Free Methodist mission, Hermiston, next Sabbath morning, March 11, at 11. Also at Irrigon at 7:30 P. M. of the date. Mrs. Mumma will sing at both services.

The Hermiston Triple Link club will hold its third annual St. Patrick's Day dance here at the auditorium Friday evening, March 16.

Mrs. W. L. Hamm and son David and her mother, Mrs. Phebe Hill, left last Thursday for Colfax, Iowa, Mrs. Hill's home. They made the trip on account of the illness of Mrs. Hill who has been here several weeks as a guest at the home of her daughter.

Dr. F. V. Prime will leave Sunday to attend a joint session of the Eastern Oregon Dental association and the Southern Idaho Dental association to be held in Boise, Monday and Tuesday. Dr. Prime is president of the Eastern Oregon association. He will have charge of a clinic which will be a feature of the meeting.

Recent arrivals on the project are Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hopper. They are on the W. W. Felthouse ranch in the Columbia district and will work for Mr. Felthouse this year. They came here from Weiser, Idaho. "This project looks good to me," Mr. Hopper said. "I've talked with a number of the neighbors and from what they told me, I believe this is the place we have been looking for."

W. R. Longhorn was displaying a clipping from an Iowa newspaper the other day which related that the "Little Brown Church in the Vale," immortalized in the song, "The Church in the Wildwood," was the scene of 462 weddings in 1927. Of this number, 87 were solemnized in the month of June. The church is at Bradford, Iowa. Mr. Longhorn's old home. The church makes a charge of five dollars to couples for the use of the building for weddings.

C. M. Best has lived here a few months, but he and Mrs. Best have worked hard enough getting their place south of town arranged as they want it that he is already looking forward to some recreation. He likes to fish and is counting the days now until the season opens, so he can get started. Mr. Best has built a laying house for 250 hens and a cow barn to take care of eight head of cows. Both buildings were constructed on concrete foundations. He has also put up a lot of fencing and made other changes on the place in addition to work he has done on his house. "I'm trying to get work done to suit me now so I'll have things handy around the place," he said, "because when fishing season opens I just know without being told that I'll have to use some time fishing."

U.S. Poultry Fence

"The Netting That Stands Alone"

Cut Costs with U. S. Poultry Fence

You'll like U. S. Poultry Fence better than any poultry netting you've ever used. For, like farm fence, it stretches straight and true from post to post without bagging or sagging. It requires neither wood top rail nor baseboard. It stretches as readily to steel posts as it does to wood.

U. S. Poultry Fence cuts costs. It saves the price of unnecessary lumber. It saves time, labor and expense in building. And, with all its superiorities, it sells for no more than ordinary netting.

U. S. is made with both one-inch meshes and two-inch meshes and from 12 to 72 inches high.

Come in today and make us prove that U. S. Poultry Fence will save you money.
