Announcement

We hoped that our stock and fixtures could and would be closed out to some one who would continue this business before this time, but we find ourselves with nearly a full stock in all lines that this community demands, and at this time apparently no purchaser in sight for this business. Nothing is left for us to do but restock the broken lines and continue until some more opportune time to make this change. In future the store will be carried on as a cash and carry store and prices will be made on all merchandise on this basis. You can save money by taking advantage of this modern system of merchandising.
