TIME FOR CIVIC WORK

Many people when asked to take some office or committee position in a local organization, or perform some kind of public service, will say they have no time. Yet they have 24 hours a day, just the same as the rest of us. The people who work at these public causes do not usually have to sacrifice any great part of their time. If people are only willing to give up a few of the 168 hours in each week, they can do all the work necessary to make these public enterprises a thorough success. And in return, they get many rewards. If they are in business, the time put in is the most profitable time they have because it gives them a wide circle of friends who help them in their occupations and business.

The countenance of Washington will shine forth in all its fine inspiration from the face of the new dollar bill. Our people should gaze at it frequently and ask themselves if they are doing all they can to keep up the country of which he was the chief creator. Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence and founder of the Democratic party, will illustrate the two dollar bill, but no Republican will refuse to accept as many of these bills as he can get. Also Lincoln will illuminate the five dollar issue, and every Democrat can well argue that the man who rose from a log cabin proves the vitality of democratic principles.

Currency is said to be covered with germs, but any one who wants to use it to pay a bill, will find us willing to take a chance in this office.

HOME POINTERS

A very simple and delicious candy may be made from dried fruits by grinding them with coconut. After the fruits are ground together the mixture may be rolled into any shape desired and sprinkled with powdered sugar.

Coconut macaroons are easily made with sweetened condensed milk and coconut. For the best results use one cup of milk to a half pound of coconut flavored with half teaspoonful of vanilla. A variation may be had by adding 4 tablespoons of sweetened ground chocolate.

One pound of brick butter equals 2 cups. To get one cup out in two crosswise. A half cup is one-fourth of the brick and one-fourth cup or 4 tablespoons is one-eighth of a brick.

The first of March suggests the need of menus for St. Patrick's day luncheon. Here is a menu that can be well carried out in green and white.

- Olives
- Stuffed Celery
- Fruit Cocktail with Swedish Waters
- Broiled Lamb Chops and Mint Jelly
- Parsley Buttered Potatoes
- Peas in Timbales
- Shamrock salad (sliced green pepper filled with cream cheese)
- Pistachio Ice Cream
- Coffee
- Cake

Tires for the new Ford are specially made to give long wear

WHEN the new Ford was designed, it was immediately apparent that a new tire would have to be made to match the car's performance. It was distinctly a new problem, for here was a car with quicker acceleration, greater speed and more braking efficiency than any car of similar size or weight.

So that every Ford owner might be assured of maximum tire mileage at the lowest cost, the Ford Motor Company devoted many months to research and experiment in conjunction with the leading tire manufacturers.

As a result, certain definite specifications were developed for tires for the new Ford. These specify cords of certain strength and texture, a large volume of tread and side-wall rubber, sturdy non-skid design, and reinforced plies for protection against bruise breaks—all the strong features of construction formerly considered for only the largest tires.

Great care also was taken to secure the best riding qualities in connection with the transverse springs and the Houdaille shock absorbers.

Though the Ford tires are designated as 30 x 4.50, they have the resiliency and air space of much larger tires because of the drop center rim of the steel-spoke wheels.

For best results, the tires on the new Ford should be kept inflated to an air pressure of 35 pounds and checked regularly to insure this pressure all the time. This is important. Low inflation breaks down the side-walls of a tire. By causing overheating, it also destroys the rubber that acts as an insulation, with consequent separation of the cord.

At the end of each 5000 miles, when you have the front wheels packed with grease, it is a good plan to have the wheel alignment checked. This will prevent premature wear.

When punctures come, as they will with any tire, you will find the Ford dealer particularly well-equipped to make repairs quickly and at small cost. See him, too, for replacements. Then you will be sure of getting tires built specially for the Ford car according to definite Ford specifications.
