Texas' Beginnings

Texas won her independence from Mexico and became known as the "Republic of Texas" in 1836. In the years immediately following there were repeated invasions and massacres by the Mexicans, who never abandoned their claims to the Texas territory. They advanced three times as far as San Antonio, but in each case were repelled. Statehood was offered to Texas, but the question of annexation brought up the difficulties of the slave question, which became the national issue of the Polk campaign. However, he won the presidency by favoring the annexation of Texas. Before he took the oath of office, congress passed a joint resolution offering statehood to Texas, which she accepted and the territory became a part of the United States in 1845.

Surely Got is Wrong

She was a slight young girl, but having recently married and become the mistress of a pretentious home, had become seriously obsessed by the importance of her position, which in no manner conformed with her physique.

The other day she was summoned to the door by the ringing of the bell, and quickly discarding her apron and adjusting her hair, she went to receive the caller.

It was one of those door-to-door salesmen who, observing the dimness of the young housewife, innocently inquired, "Is your mother in?" He probably will never quite understand why the door was so wrathfully slammed in his face.

THE WAY TO BEAUTIFUL HOMES

Paint your house

into the landscape

Yuma red trimmed with cool green and a tile roof make this house as much a part of the landscape as the encroaching cactus and distant purple hills. This is but one of the color suggestions shown on the B-H Exterior Color Harmony Selector.

Made up of shades of B-H brand Prepared Paint and Stucco Coatings, the Selector automatically shows harmonious color schemes for complete exteriors.
