SCHOOL NEWS

(By the Juniors)

Torch Honor Society Adopted
At a student body meeting Wednesday morning, the high school association adopted unanimously the Torch Honor Society. An explanation of what the society is was given by Mrs. Ruth Patterson. The purpose of the society is to promote scholarship, school spirit and good fellowship. Eligibility depends upon the earning of points awarded for scholarship, each branch of athletics, debate, class officers, school officers, plays, glee clubs, orchestra and other activities. A student must have earned 24 points at the end of the freshman year, 50 points at the end of his sophomore year, and 80 points at the end of his junior year.

The Torch Honor Society was originated in the Seattle schools. There are now 100 schools in the northwest with active chapters. The names of those entitled to membership will be announced in next week's paper.

School Paper.

Last Friday the English 3 class published the first school paper, called "The Tattler." The staff members were: Bill Felthouse, editor; Jane Warner, managing editor; Emogene Paul, exchange editor; and Knox Martin, sports editor. In additional issues of the paper other members of the class will take part.

Visitors.

Leo Earnheart and Don Harrah were visitors at the high school Monday.

Rev. Guy Drill, minister from Pendleton, addressed the high school assembly Monday morning. He was accompanied by Rev. A. J. Ware. Ella Daly re-entered the high school Monday and was enrolled in the freshman class.

Financial Report.

Although 35 students have not paid their student body and athletic dues, there is at present $88 in the high school treasury. All known bills have been paid. The amount derived from football games this season has been $71, from student body and athletic tickets $142, and from magazine sales $44.

School Attendance.

Out of the total enrollment of 208 in the public schools, there were 136 who were neither tardy nor absent during the month of October. Out of the high school enrollment of 104, there were 63 with perfect records. The seventh grade had the record attendance of 99.2 per cent.

Science Room Now Modern

The following new equipment has been added to the science room: New sinks, dissecting instruments, chemicals, new glassware and miscellaneous equipment. This brings the department up to the minimum requirements of standard high schools.

Hallow'een Party.

There will be a party at Dunsmuir October 31, for members of the fifth grade. A weiner roast will add to the entertainment.

First Grade.

The first grade has an Indian scene on its sand table. Julia Montgomery has enrolled in the first grade. Mary Jane Hammer has been absent for the last two weeks with chicken pox.
