PROFESSOR WHO SPOKE HERE TO TUDY ARTICHOKE PLANTS

Ernest H. Weigard, professor of horticultural products at Oregon State college who spoke here recently on problems connected with operating a local cannery, will be in California for a month with the Patent Dietary Products company making a study of artichoke plants, according to word received from the college. Artichokes as a new and profitable crop for Oregon farmers are becoming a reality and study is being devoted to the project. Ten Oregon farmers raised small acreages of the plants this year.

AT THE THEATRE

"The Big Diamond Robbery" Saturday and Sunday Tom Mix and his horse, Tony, will be at the theatre that week-end in "The Big Diamond Robbery." The story opens in a metropolitan city, where the activities of a band of gem thieves is disclosed. However, the setting changes later to the west, where Tom Mix fights single handed against the band of thieves to win back his honor and gain the confidence of the one girl who matters to him.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" Over seventy-five years ago, preceding one of the most dramatic circumstances of United States history, the Civil war, and probably to some extent responsible for that upheaval, Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote a story that has since become almost like a tradition in American life. Mrs. Stowe did not write this drama of slavery in the old South as the result of some vague journalistic longings or inspirations. She was herself strongly against slavery and she planned the book to help the cause of the anti-slavery movement.

Probably because "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was written as the result of strong convictions, it carries with it some of the strongest drama and emotions known in fiction. The story is mentioned in history and is studied in schools. Little Eva, the comical Topsy, Eliza and her dramatic flight across the ice, lovable Uncle Tom are known by practically everyone who reads books.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been played numerous times by stock companies, but perhaps the most perfect and complete presentation of the story that has ever been shown is now being presented on the diamond jubilee of the drama. The film, which is to be shown at the Columbia theatre November 27, 28 and 29, cost $2,000,000 to produce. Cities were built for it, famous stars were procured to take part, and all the South were beauty and gallantry as well as the slavery of the old South were brought into the picture. In the story the conditions of slavery are shown. The plot is based on the desperate chance Eliza takes to escape and keep her masters from taking her child from her. She and her husband have already been separated. In trying to escape, he, too, is pursued by the bloodhounds, as is Eliza on her flight. The trials of these slaves are numerous. They go from master to master, some kind some cruel. But finally happiness comes to their lives, too.

The stars in the picture are Margarita Fischer, James Lowe, Mona Ray, Virginia Gray, Eulalie Jensen, Arthur Carew and George Siegmann.

Debate Teams Selected

Speakers have been chosen for the negative and affirmative sides on the debating team. The squad was selected several weeks ago, but at that time the sides upon which the speakers would talk was not determined. The question is: "Resolved: That the United States should cease to protect by armed force American capital invested in foreign countries except after formal declaration of war." Those who will be on the affirmative are Ruth Cherry and Morris Pierson. Those on the negative are Jane Warner and Donald DeMoss. Jane Warner and Morris Pierson will be the rebuttal speakers. The schedule for debates has not yet been made out and the debates probably will not begin until after the holiday season.

Basket Ball Meeting

All the girls interested in basket ball met for the first time last Tuesday morning to discuss the coming season. With 26 girls registered for practice, the outlook is encouraging. Frank Shaw, superintendent, talked on "Stick-to-itiveness" at the meeting.

A second meeting was held Thursday to discuss gym suits and to make preparations for the first practice Friday evening. There are now enough girls interested in playing so that there can be inter-class games, and Clara Voyen, the coach, plans to have different classes practice each evening. The captain will not be elected until after the first team is chosen.

The first game scheduled is at Echo, December 17.

Class Gives Toasts

The public speaking class had an entertaining period Friday afternoon when each member of the class, representing some country, gave a toast at what was supposed to be a peace conference. The banquet at which the toasts were given was furnished by Dora Stevens, instructor, consisted of nuts and candy. Walter Pierson was toast master.

Fred Gibson, coach, has been out of school for several days with a severe cold.

The high school orchestra played at the P. T. A. meeting Thursday afternoon.

Grammar School News

John Ellenwood of Milton-Freewater has entered the first grade, making the enrollment in that grade 27. Erma Parsons is absent from school after having her adenoids and tonsils removed.

The bluebirds and butterflies are reading in their first book, "The Beacon Primer."

Betty Payne has returned to the second grade after being absent several weeks with the whooping cough.

Ruth Huff has moved away. Roy Roth and Virginia Todd are back to school again after absences of several weeks.

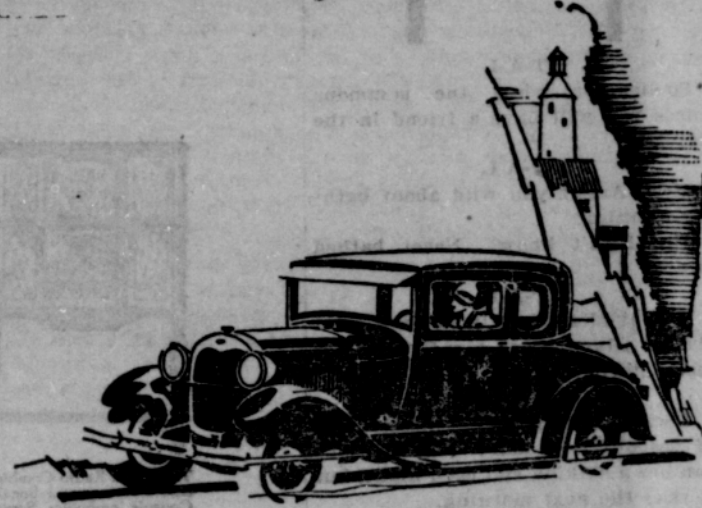

Those having perfect marks in spelling for the past week in the third grade were Maxine Blinstone, Virginia Dyer, John Dunning, Alma Laird, Geraldine Mullins, Jessie Moore and Gladys Pierson.

Morris Huff of he third grade left Tuesday for Idaho.

Robert Harris, who is in the fourth grade, cut his foot badly Friday afternoon.

The fourth grade harmonica band played at the P. T. A. meeting Thursday afternoon.

NEW FORD COUPE

An example of the fine coachwork of the new Ford closed models

THE art of the master designer is evident in the smart low lines and graceful contour of the new Ford, and emphasized by the beautiful two-tone color harmonies.

Set against these body colors are the full-nickled radiator, headlights and door handles—smart touches of bright metal that add a great deal to the attractiveness of the car. Running boards and crown fenders are heavy and capable. Cushions are deep and easy. Upholstery is rich and durable. Newly designed steel spoke wheels carry out the impression of fleetness and sturdiness.

The same quality is evident also on the inside of the car—in the mechanical beauty of the engine, transmission, etc. In appearance and performance, the new Ford brings you everything you want or need in a modern automobile. Call or telephone for demonstration.
