

ELSIE WAS FAT AND FORTY, BUT SUCKERS FELL FOR HER

Supported Husband and Two Children by Selling Her Charms by Mail.

Los Angeles.—She was fat and forty, and had a husband and, if you believe the government's postal inspectors, she had a sweetheart in every port, too.

The lady in question is Mrs. Elsie Weisert, who supported her husband and two children by selling her charms for cash by mail.

Wouldn't some one like a nice German wife? A buxom girl of thirty who was a swell cook? Didn't some lad want to marry her?

The romantic suckers replied that they did. The practical Mrs. Weisert and the chuckling husband wrote to the new boy friends asking for railroad fare with which to hasten to waiting arms.

But in stalked grim tragedy. The poor little German girl's mother had died in Europe. She had to go home. So another romance was knocked on the head. That's the post office inspectors' story and they are sticking to it. Mrs. Weisert and her husband, John, have confessed that the charges are true.

"Yes, that's the way we worked it," Weisert said in the county jail, where he is held in lieu of $2,000 bond. "We had to live and that was an easy way to get money."

"It's all my fault, though. I wrote most of the letters. Say, I wrote so many letters that I was almost ready to marry some one myself."

The "bride-to-be" was released on her own recognizance to care for their two young children. Date of trial in federal court has not been set.

According to postal inspectors a Denver matrimonial magazine was used in the alleged scheme. The husband would write to the paper, each time listing his wife under a different name.

And such nice German names—Anna Wolf, Elsie Schlitt, Elsie Hammer, Martha Schmidt, Martha Bowman.

Then the magazine would send the name of the "lonely girl" to an inquiring "lonely man." But when the suckers started to protest about the railroad fares, the magazine turned the matter over to the postal inspectors and the Weiserts were traced through some of the addresses listed as the home of the buxom German girl.

Find Real Van Dyck; Loses It at Bargain

Mexico City.—Here's a hard luck story told by J. Thurston of London, who is in Mexico in search of antiques.

At "Thieves' Market," popular Mexican City bazaar, Mr. Thurston found among an assortment of valueless paintings a picture of a boy that attracted his attention. The canvas was in a deplorable condition and the painting had all the marks of a discarded article.

He examined the painting closely and was struck by its color and technique. With a moistened handkerchief he rubbed a corner of the picture and discovered the signature "Van Dyck, 1621." It was the work of the celebrated Flemish painter, Van Dyck.

He offered 5 pesos for the picture but was told the price was 40 pesos. He did not have that amount on his person and promised to return the following day. Upon returning he found the owners had had the painting appraised and refused to sell it at any price.

Get 68,500,000 Trees for Reforestation

Washington.—The forest service of the Agriculture department announced that 68,500,000 trees were furnished by 34 states, Hawaii and Porto Rico last year for re-stocking farm timberlands.

Coincidental with the department's announcement, George Pratt, president of the American Forestry association, long a leader in the cause of forest preservation, called at the White House to urge increased appropriations of $2,500,000 for forest fire fighting purposes.

Pratt told President Hoover much of last year's $3,000,000 damage to the country's forests could have been averted had there been adequate funds with which to combat fire. Only $100,000 annually now is available, he pointed out.

Most of the trees were furnished farmers at cost, the Agriculture department said in its announcement, although several states distributed nursery stock free. New York and Pennsylvania led the 34 states, each distributing more than 9,000,000 trees.

China Mandate Orders Use of New Calendar

Shanghai.—Documents dated by China's old style lunar calendar will not be valid after January 1, 1930, according to a mandate issued by the national government.

It is hoped that if the government can compel business houses to follow the "foreign style calendar," the general public will do so likewise. Previous efforts at modernizing the calendar have met with scant success, and Chinese New Year was duly celebrated throughout the country this year in spite of official prohibitions.
