CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 9.

The Golden Text was, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts" (Zech. 4:6). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "The letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. . . Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty" (II Cor. 3:6, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration. . . Denial of the claims of matter is a great step towards the joys of Spirit, towards human freedom and the final triumph over the body" (pp. 241, 242).

Advertising Long Employed

Advertising is of great antiquity. Egyptian advertising over four thousand years old has been discovered. Picture advertisements were used for the most part up to the times of and through the Middle Ages. The earliest newspaper advertisement is said to have been in Germany, 1561.

PHENOMENAL GAIN IN TRUST SERVICES

By JOHN G. LONSDALE President American Bankers Association

SO phenomenal has been the increase of trust business that statisticians are unable to keep a true record of its advancement.

There are now something like 3,500 active trust departments in banks in America, while in 1900 only 165 active trust departments had been established.

In becoming the custodians or the guardians of the property of others, bankers as John G. Lonsdale are fittingly described as one of the "most exalted human relationships ever created by law." They become at once a big brother, a big sister, an advisor, or a confessor, sworn so to conduct themselves that clients will be won to them by their ability and integrity.

Thousands of little children have received an education and have been started off right in life through the trust department's safe keeping and guidance of the family estate, numberless widows have been protected from merciless stock swindlers, many thousands of business men have been relieved of troublesome details in the conduct of their business through the creation of a living trust and still others have safeguarded their business enterprises through life insurance trusts.

The favorable reaction of the public toward trust department service is not accidental. It may be traced jointly to the growing intelligence of the American people in financial affairs and to advertising to the world at large the merits of trust services. Advertising used in a sensible, judicious way is necessary, a power that has accomplished much good for humanity.

Among the detailed services rendered by a trust department the one that seems to be winning favor the fastest is the life insurance trust. Life insurance is the quickest known way of creating an estate. In reality it affords the possessor the opportunity of setting up a positive monetary safeguard for his family and then paying for it on the installment plan.

A married man is not fair to his family if he fails to carry life insurance. I would say to the young man, "Buy insurance before you buy the ring," and to the young woman I would say, "Marry no man so thoughtless as to scoff at life insurance."

Walter Winchell says that in some swell Broadway joints eggs cost $2.50 an order. That's even better than the old shell game.

The old-fashioned parents used to save money. Instead of sending their daughters to the seashore to get tanned they did it for them in the woodshed.

When a man is said to have an inferiority complex it means that he refuses to inflate his value.

A telephone operator may not get the right number for a cranky man but she has his number all right.

The reason we don't hear so much of the happy marriages is because they don't get the newspaper advertising.

Headline in an ad shrieks: "Easy to Make $50 a Day!" It's easy for the advertiser if you're sucker enough to believe it.

HUDDLESON HOME BURNS

Thursday noon, February 6, the Huddleson home on Gladys avenue caught fire and burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown but it is thought that probably it caught from a flu. Practically everything in the house was gotten out before any damage was done to them. The building was covered by insurance.
