

INDUSTRIAL REVIEW OF PENDLETON

Pendleton is surrounded by everything you want—good climate, agriculture, stock raising, dairying, poultry, hunting and good roads.

Portland has well improved streets, good schools and churches, and as progressive citizens as has any town in the state. The value of money is what it will buy—the necessities, the comforts, the luxuries of life. Money spent in your section to buy these things for its people stay here, where each and every person shares in the new profits its trading produces. More modern conveniences, a wider social life, greater business activity—in fact, a far reaching ever growing wave of benefits to every citizen of the section follows the practice of buying in your home section. Pendleton manufacturers, merchants and professional men help financially to support your civic improvements.

They donate to your churches, to advertising space in this and that program (which is in most cases merely making a donation) in fact do more than their share in dozens of worthy causes each year to help make your section of the country a better one in which to live. Surely it is not asking too much to ask that "when you shop, try your home and neighboring towns first."

DR. N. A. MANN

CHIROPRACTIC PHYSICIAN AND PHYSICOTHERAPIST — FORMERLY IN CHARGE OF THE CLINIC OF PACIFIC CHIROPRACTIC COLLEGE, WHERE HUNDREDS OF PATIENTS ARE TREATED DAILY.

Dr. N. A. Mann located in Pendleton at 745 Main, with phone 522, is enjoying a large and well merited clientele from the city and adjoining territory. The most despised and neglected portion of the body, the colon, has in recent years been made the subject of much scientific study and research, with the result that it has been found to be the most important organ of the body. The average colon in civilized communities is in a desperately depraved and dangerous condition. Nearly all chronic ailments, especially of the heart, arteries and kidneys are the result of the absorption of poisons from the intestine—poisons which have been caused by constipation.

From constipation and auto-intoxication the consequences are colitis, so-called biliousness, gastritis, inflammation of the gall ducts, gall stones, skin diseases of various sorts, neurasthenia, and after some years Bright's disease, hardening of the liver, insomnia, mental depression, arteries, high blood pressure, apoplexy, insomnia, mental depression and even insanity.

Dr. Mann will prove to you that the so-called disease of the stomach, dyspepsia, headache, spinal nervous disease of the nerve system are due to interference with the constructive energy partially or wholly thru pressure on the spinal nerves, causing disease wherever these hindered nerves extend.

By making an analysis of the spine, he can detect any displacement and by simple adjustments can remove the pressure which causes disease. Good health naturally flows.

The human body is so constituted that it is unnatural for disease to creep in without cause. The nerve system is designed to give perfect health to all organs and keep them repaired.

We wish to call our reader's attention to Dr. Mann, who has a reputation above reproach, and is among our most successful chiropractors.

HARRY L. CORBETT
Candidate for Governor

From England comes a reflection of the gubernatorial campaign in Oregon for Colonel John Leader was written a letter replying to the reference to Henry L. Corbett as "High Hat Harry". Colonel Leader was a British army officer who was sent to Oregon during the latter part of the war and was in charge of the officers training camp at Eugene. He was known as a two-fisted fighting man and became immensely popular during his sojourn in this state.

Colonel Leader writes from 3 Whitehall Place, London, S. W., to a Portland friend as follows:

"The wind of chance recently wafted to me the good fortune of an Oregon paper, which, however, contained an otherwise clever article referring contemptuously to H. L. Corbett as 'High-Hat Harry'.

"I have not heard from Mr. Corbett for years, and probably I have faded from his memory, but he served under me in the Oregon officers' training camp, the last year of the war. I think that if the most capable writer of the article referred to had seen him he would have altered the tone of his article. When the black death—the terrible influenza epidemic—struck us, we had over 100 men stricken together; no nurses, and little accommodation. Corbett sat up every night nursing the sick, and it is my absolute belief that he saved at least a score of lives. By day he did his ten hours hard soldiering, and was always the first to volunteer for the most unpopular 'fatigues'.

"I doubt if there were many greater instances of devotion to duty by any other soldier in any country in the war.

"My name will convey nothing to Oregonians now, except, perhaps, a few 'old timers', but these will know that I do not make wild statements. My life has been spent on the outposts, at the uttermost ends of the earth, where one does not often meet soft men, but I have had no experience of a more unpretentious man, nor a truer man, nor a bigger man than H. L. Corbett of Portland, Oregon."

SAVINGS PASSBOOKS SOUGHT BY CROOKS

Use Them to Steal Money by Forged Slips—Should Be Guarded as Carefully as Cash.

Continual vigilance in safeguarding savings pass books, as well as blank and cancelled checks, against theft by crooks, who use this material in forgery operations, is urged on bank customers by James E. Baum, Deputy Manager of the American Bankers Association, in charge of its Protective Department. This department is continually vigilant in promoting means, both among bankers and the general public, to thwart the operation of bank crooks. It annually investigates hundreds of crimes against banks and is responsible for the majority of arrests among this class of criminals.

"In a large majority of cases of forgeries on checks or savings withdrawal orders investigated by the American Bankers Association, stolen blank checks or savings pass books were the forgers' chief stock in trade," Mr. Baum says. "In many instances the temptation presented through the careless handling by depositors of cancelled or blank checks or pass books so that they fell into the hands of others was the immediate stimulus for their dishonest purpose to commit their first criminal offense."

Banks should educate their depositors to exert the same degree of care in handling these instruments and to avoid leaving them about unguarded as they exercise in respect to actual money because they represent money, he declares.

For dealing with the bank robbery situation, Mr. Baum recommends the use of electrical alarms actuated by any tampering with the wires or mechanism and also wider adoption of the plan of state police forces now employed in a few states, declaring that last year in seven eastern states where state police forces were maintained there were only 20 bank holdups as against 164 similar attacks perpetrated against banks in five states in the central and far west, where banks are denied the advantages of the speedy and coordinated action given by statewide police forces.

"The records of the American Bankers Association Protective Department reveal that for many years the odds in favor of state police protection have been at least 8 to 1 when measured by the experience of banks in states where efficient police protection is missing in the rural districts," he says.

THE THINKER LEADS MODERN PROGRESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association.

THE greatest need of the world today is interpreters of our times—modern Daniels in agriculture, finance, politics, industry—who can see through the fog and haze that enshroud our difficult problems and advise, instruct, and influence those who are either indifferent or limited in their perceptions.

Through the thinker and the interpreter, unknown situations are disclosed or puzzling conditions explained in logical light. The American people are so constituted that they can meet and combat any situation once it is known and understood. It is the unknown that comes like the thief in the night and brings disaster.

Some one has defined prosperity as something the business men create for the politicians to take credit for. But America's present-day prosperity can be defined as a product resulting from the business man's ability to study and to interpret. Huge corporations maintain research staffs and special bureaus to interpret the times for any industry that goes blithely on its way day after day without due regard to significant trends in trade and business.

Keeping Up With Change
Lenders of finance have discovered that they cannot remain passive in an age when all the rest of the world is in a transitional stage. The modern banker not only must know about the changing styles in other lines of business, but above all must be alert to the transformations which are taking place in his own. He must be a man of keener broader vision, because the order of the day is far larger units of service. Mergers and consolidations have taken place in great numbers. We now talk of billions where a few years ago we talked of millions.

We have only begun our changes. What disposition is to be made of the many problems that they bring will depend in large measure upon our leaders, upon the students and the interpreters who can read accurately the signs of the times, so that we may base future actions and hopes upon their wisdom. The quickest way to go to the top is to go to the bottom of things, and let us hope that among them will be found many who will not only aspire to leadership but will be successful in reaching their goal.

Christian Science Sanatorium in California

SAN FRANCISCO: Under articles of incorporation already filed with the Secretary of State of California, permanent trustees took over on March 26 the ownership of the property and buildings which are to accommodate the Christian Science Benevolent Association for Pacific Coast. The Association, which will open its doors to guests about the middle of May, was established in accordance with Section 3 of Article I of the Manual of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Benevolent Association for Pacific Coast is the third large charitable institution established by The Mother Church, totaling an investment of over $4,000,000. The Christian Science Benevolent Association, located in Chestnut Hill, Mass., was chartered in 1916, and The Christian Science Pleasant View Home, located in Concord, N. H., in 1925. While all three of these corporations are independent from a legal point of view they are under the control and supervision of The Christian Science Board of Directors.

The California property, known as Arden Wood, is a thickly timbered, 16 acre, piece of rolling land situated on the edge of San Francisco, its general location being between Twin Peaks and the Ocean. The Sanatorium is sheltered from the prevailing winds by the hill which forms the principal topographical feature of the property. No public roads or ways cross it, but paths will be arranged extending from the Sanatorium through the woods, making a feature of a small ravine which runs along the east boundary.

The Sanatorium, designed by Henry H. Gutterson, Architect, is of steel and reinforced concrete, done in a modernized British style, with high central pavilion, tall electric French windows and steep-sloping, red tiled roof. It will contain accommodations for 120 guests and accessories.

Within the last few weeks a substantial piece of property jutting into the principal tract, formerly held by the city of San Francisco for school purposes, has been purchased to secure additional quiet and freedom from outside disturbances.

The Board of Trustees of the San Francisco Institution will be in constant touch with The Christian Science Board of Directors as are the Boards of the two New England institutions.

The three Trustees of the new corporation are Mrs. Gertrude M. Glass, George D. Greenwood, and Marvin R. Higgins. Wilson D. Clark has been appointed Manager-Treasurer. All of these officers have been actively interested in Christian Science work for many years.
