THE LATEST IN ALARM CLOCKS

Yes sir—we have heard of alarm clocks, then alarm clocks, that waken one early in the A. M. Of every conceivable contraption from the first crow of the cock in the morn to the regular early appeal of the baby for its bottle; of the early morning trains; of the puppy dog's warble; of the man who gets up early to sit in the shade of the house by moonlight; the lawn mower enthusiast; the car tuner; and the what have you. But listen, gentle reader, of all the pets our local druggist Mr. W. L. "Why Late" Hamm has them all beat according to the neighbors living within blocks of the Hamm residence. Just as the first sun rays of the morning appear comes the delightful, beautiful "caw, caw, caw." Then exactly three minutes of silence; "caw, caw, caw." The pet crow has been christened and named Karron, which is a beautiful name, but just as sure as green apples are green, from what we heard at the First National bank this morning the cashier will have "Karron stew" for his special dish.
