WHY WORRY?

Why worry about what the Republican State Central committee does when they convene, and whom they nominate to fill the place of Joseph as Republican nominee for the governorship of Oregon—Edward F. Bailey, Democrat nominee, is as well qualified as any man in the state for the job.

Boy saves man from bull.—Headline. A son like that would be worth having around during a political campaign.

That young Michigan pugilist who is studying for the ministry is probably looking forward to some lively bouts with Satan.

A statistical shark has figured that Americans drink 75,000 cups of coffee every second—and no telling how many saucers.

After many hours of brain storms we have decided that there is no difference between a man and a worm. A chicken gets them both.

The good old automobile has cut down distances—yes—we are all nearer the poorhouse than ever before.

Financially we're sound, and there will be another issue of the Herald next Thursday—two readers sent in their checks for back subscription this week.

The emptier the pot, the quicker it boils. So watch your temper.

Oxford University will allow one woman student to four men, which is about the proper handicap if debating is to be a feature of the curriculum.

The Bureau of standards announces a new and rapid method of analyzing the human breath which takes only six minutes. Some wives can make a rough analysis in about two seconds.

The hit dog howls, and the harder the hit the louder the howl—ever notice the same holds true to most people?

You'll never offend a person by returning a smile, or the loan you had outstanding for a month or so.

When a person uses an unusual word frequently, it is a good indication that it is a new acquisition.

Bank examiners can't borrow money from banks, being in that respect like a good many more of us.

Probably Cain might have been a better boy if Mother Eve had been up on child psychology.

Next event—Fourth of July doings at Columbia Park.

And Now—the Thursday night club meeting.

Amen.

From Pendleton. Charles Rohrman of Pendleton who won the Edison award for his district in Eastern Oregon and also won the Lantern cup for scholarship, citizenship and leadership in the Pendleton high school this year, is visiting his brother, A. Rohrman.

From Walla Walla. Mrs. L. A. Warner of Walla Walla is visiting at the home of her son, Cecil Warner.

NOTICE

The ever increasing standards of service and facilities provided to meet present day banking requirements necessitate changes from time to time.

Service Charge on Returned Checks

Beginning on June 16th where checks are returned for insufficient funds, or for being post-dated, or checks which cause an overdraft, a charge of twenty-five cents shall be made to the drawer's account by the Bank returning the check. This charge is to cover messenger service and bookkeeping costs involved in handling returned checks.

After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernan Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration, and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Rafaela races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amancees road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.
