SEVEN ARRESTS FIVE CONVICTIONS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

OFFICERS NATION AND KELLEY APPREHEND MEN

Excitement prevailed in the city of Hermiston Wednesday night when seven arrests were made by H. W. Kelley and Deputy Bert Nation, five being convicted the same evening. Four of the arrests made were for a charge of stealing gasoline. The thieves emptied Logan Todd's car and then endeavored to drain George Wagner's truck. As luck would have it Mr. Wagner noticed them and turned in an alarm. After much searching two of the boys were caught near the old Tum-A-Lum yard, one on the road to Stanfield, and the remaining thief who was found asleep in the car was arrested about 2 o'clock A. M. They were brought before Justice West, pleaded guilty and were given a jail sentence of ten days. After spending the night in the city bastille they were taken to Pendleton Thursday morning to serve their sentence in the county jail. They gave their names as Everett LaMere, Salem, Kenneth Davis, Houquim, and Owen Gilstrap and Jack Martin, both of Portland.

Charles Geer, local boy, was discovered carrying a revolver, was arrested and fined $15.00 and costs by Justice West. Two other arrests were made but the cases have not as yet been settled.

Leaves on Vacation.
J. W. Ball, employed by the Union Pacific system as night depot agent, left Wednesday night for Seattle and other Washington points where he will spend a three months' vacation. Dwight Robinson of Reith will take Mr. Ball's place at the depot while he is gone.

Pendleton Visitor.
J. G. Pearson made a trip to Pendleton Monday on business connected with his garage.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF COUNTY PASSES

G. R. O'Daniel, Father of Mrs. F. C. McKenzie Passes Away Thursday June 26, at Bingham.

George R. O'Daniel for 49 years a resident of this county, died at 2 A. M. last Thursday, June 26, at the old W. J. Furnish place, a mile and a half from Bingham, his death being caused by heart disease.

He had been in apparently good health and Wednesday had worked in the garden at the ranch, upon which he had been living for the past three weeks, the place formerly having been farmed by Mrs. Holaday.

Mr. O'Daniel, who was born in Shelby, Missouri, was born February 15, 1857, being 73 years of age at the time of his death. His marriage to Miss Alice Hagler took place over 51 years ago, the anniversary of the fifty-first year of marriage having been on November 5, 1929.

Besides his widow Mr. O'Daniel is survived by a daughter, Mrs. F. C. McKenzie, of Hermiston. A sister, Mrs. Philip Walker, of Moline, Kansas, also survives. Mr. O'Daniel was well known here as a pioneer and was in the furniture business in Pendleton where he lived for 42 years.

Funeral services for Mr. O'Daniel were held at 11 A. M. Saturday from St. Mary's Catholic church, burial being made in the Olney cemetery in Pendleton.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED WITH PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. John Jendrzewski were pleasantly surprised Friday evening when 50 or 60 of their friends in Columbia district held a party in honor of their twentieth wedding anniversary. A delightful evening was spent at their home with card playing and dancing as diversions. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served, the center piece being a large white wedding cake daintily decorated with miniature figures of a bride and groom.

During the evening the couple were the recipients of several beautiful pieces of china.

DIRECTORS OF TURKEY GROWERS ASS'N MEET

Directors and officers of the Hermiston Turkey Growers' Association met in the assistant county agent's office Wednesday evening, July 2, to formulate plans for marketing this year's crop of turkeys.

Ernest M. Hauscr, assistant county agent, read a report prepared by F. L. Ballard, county agent leader of Oregon, on the recent meeting held in Salt Lake City, giving details of the Federated Marketing organization formed there. Articles of incorporation were also submitted to the directors of the local organization for their approval.

The local organization as now formed exists only as a service organization, and in order to be in a position to conduct the business along lines advocated by the federal farm board, and to tie up with the federated marketing organization formed in Salt Lake City, an incorporated marketing organization, it would be possible to do business in its own name.

The directors of the local organization discussed the plans of the federated agency and decided that a general meeting of local turkey growers should be held in the near future to decide on the action to be taken to secure a market for the birds being raised this year.

REV. O. W. PAYNE RE-ELECTED TO PASTORATE HERE

Word was received that Rev. O. W. Payne, who has served as pastor of the Methodist church of Hermiston for the past year, was re-elected to the pastorate of the Methodist church here, and at Echo for the coming year, at the annual convention of the Methodist ministers held in Astoria the past week, which he attended. He expects to be back in Hermiston Sunday for services.

Returns to Work.

W. H. Howe, who has been resting for several months recovering from an operation, has returned to his work at his bakery.

INDEPENDENCE DAY TO BE OBSERVED

COLUMBIA PARK PROGRAM WILL FEATURE OBSERVANCE

Morning Parade, Community Dinner, Speaking and Games; Many Leave for Mounts, Lakes.

All places of business will be closed and as far as the city of Hermiston is concerned, will undoubtedly spend a quiet Fourth of July, as the celebration to be held at Columbia park, east of Hermiston, will draw most of the townspeople and country folks, and many of the local people are planning trips to the seashore, to different lakes and to the mountains.

The celebration of Independence day at Columbia park will be the big drawing card of the day for people in this and surrounding communities. The program which has been arranged by the committees from the Umatilla Project Farm Bureau and the Stanfield Grange is as follows:

Parade at 9:30 A. M. starting from the Farm Bureau Co-operative. "Star Spangled Banner," by audience after reaching grounds.

Invocation by Rev. Oscar Payne. Address of welcome by H. J. Ott. Music by the High School orchestra.

Musical number by the Auxiliary Kitchen Band.

Boy Scouts drill.

Musical number by the Hermiston Jubilee Singers.

Picnic lunch.

Address by Rev. Payne.

Comedy selection by Mr. Pace, of Stanfield.

Address by J. S. Richards, representing the Stanfield Grange.

Musical number by High School orchestra.

Address of the day, "Co-operation," by New Maiden.

Musical number by the Hermiston Jubilee Singers.

Following this program, races and sports of various kinds will be held under direction of A. E. Bensele and M. T. Matott who will also award prizes in each event.

The committees from both organizations have worked hard in getting up a good program and are expecting a capacity crowd from the communities of this section to come and be entertained.

TATTOOING TURKEYS SHOULD START SOON

Growers May Secure Registration of Brands Through the Assistant County Agent's Office.

According to all experts and extension men who have studied the turkey business, now is the time to tattoo young turkeys to lessen the danger of loss by theft, and to avoid disputes over ownership of birds that chance to stray from their home fields.

Last year sixty-seven turkey growers in this community had brands registered in the office of the Livestock Sanitary Board at Salem. These brands were then tattooed on the wing of the fowl, so that ownership of the birds was never questionable.

In case of theft the state board at Salem is notified and a warning issued to all sale agencies to be on the look out for the missing birds, which are easily identified by the brand tattooed in the wing.

Turkey growers are urged to secure these brands and registration of them may be had through the assistant county agent's office.

If there is anything in heredity the baby boy born to Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh on June 22 ought to have wings. This photograph shows the proud young parents starting off for a flight just three days before the baby came.

OREGONS SPEED LIMIT STAYS AT 35 MILES

Recent news stories purporting to quote Secretary of State Hal E. Ross as having issued rulings affecting the state speed law of 35 miles an hour, has been emphatically denied by Ross, who said in a recent statement:

"Oregon's speed limits are fixed by the state legislature, and there has been no change from the 35 mile limit. Reports recently circulated would lead one to believe that I had encouraged fast travel on Oregon highways, but the story was unfounded. What I have in mind is a recommendation to the legislature next January that they fix a speed regulation in conformity to the National code being adopted uniformly throughout all the states, which has as its basic principle the substitution of "recklessness" where speed in excess of the limitation is charged. This is strictly a matter for the state legislature, and I am not usurping their prerogatives.

"And in the meantime, the Oregon speed laws are just as effective as they ever were, and I have advised the state traffic division that anyone caught speeding should be shown absolutely no consideration because he thought the limit had been raised."

Card of Thanks and Appreciation.

University Of Oregon Has Mounted Specimen Of Saber Tooth Tiger

"What pretty tusks you have Grandma," may have made Mother Saber Tooth Tiger swell with pride, but all this time her poor stomach was shrinking for lack of food. It has been revealed by geologists at the University of Oregon, who have a complete mounted specimen of this denizen of the jungle of 500,000 years ago.

The saber tooth tiger roamed the Pacific coast, feared by all, but down through the ages its huge tusks kept on getting longer with each generation, until finally they were so cumbersome that the last of the animals actually starved to death. It has been established.

The specimen recently mounted at the university is the work of Sam Itzkowitz, pre-miles major from Portland, who put together several hundred bones found in the asphalt deposit at Rancho La Brea, near Los Angeles. They were in a perfect state of preservation and the entire skeleton, from the ferocious tusks down to the tip of the tail, has been reconstructed. It is about six feet long and three feet high.

The pool of asphaltum has been the source of many prehistoric animals now extinct. The old time horse, wolves, camels and many species of birds have been found there. Dr. John F. Eovard, now dean of the school of physical education at the university here, was a student in California when the pool was discovered in 1932, and he coined the name, "Smilodon Californicus" by which this species is known.

Although no true "saber tooth" tigers have been dug up in Oregon an ancestral form once roamed the wilds of eastern Oregon. This tiger had not yet developed the fatal tusks however.

The specimen mounted here by Itzkowitz is his first work but it is unusually well done, said Dr. Earl Packard, professor of geology.
