CULLING DEMONSTRATIONS TO BE HELD AUG. 15 & 16

POULTRYMEN TO MEET IN M. E. CHURCH AT 2:30 AUGUST 15
Extension Poultryman from O. S. C. to Cull Local Flocks as Was Done in June.

If tentative arrangements go through as now planned, H. E. Cosby, Extension Poultryman from Oregon State college will be in Hermiston on Friday and Saturday, August 15 and 16, to carry on the program of poultry work for the project.
Mr. Cosby started a culling demonstration on two flocks when he was here in June and plans to again cull these same flocks during this visit. The work as carried on is a demonstration of the ill effects of too late culling, as no culling of these two flocks will be done after this August culling. The tendency has been for the majority of poultrymen to cull their flocks late in the year, sometimes even as late as November and December and this late culling does not give the best results, as it is too late to successfully pick out the low producing birds according to Mr. Cosby. A comparison will later be made between the years production of these flocks that are culled early and the production of flocks that are culled later in the year.

A meeting of local poultrymen will be held at the Methodist church in Hermiston at 2:30 on Friday, August 15, at which time Mr. Cosby will discuss local poultry problems with the producers.

The program for Mr. Cosby's visit is as follows:
Friday, August 15—
7:30 A. M. Culling H. J. Ott flock.
2:30 P. M. Meeting of local poultrymen at Methodist church.
Saturday, August 16—
7:30 A. M. Culling W. J. Warner flock.
1:30 P. M. Farm calls.

Oregon State Fair September 22 To 28 To Feature Horse Races

From Canada to Texas and from the Mississippi river to the Pacific coast, entries from all departments are flooding into the registration bureau of the 69th Oregon state fair to be held at Salem September 22 to 28, advance lists revealed this week.
Illinois, Wisconsin, Texas, California, Montana, Washington, Oregon and several Canadian provinces are to be unusually represented, present records show, with late applicants from other states certain to swell still further the long list of competitors for the $80,000 in premiums and purses, and the $17,500 up for the horse races.

Horse show entries are showing an exceptionally large gain, according to A. P. Fleming, manager of this division. New stables listed thus far include those of Charles E. Shriner, Monroe, Wis.; Scripps-Meanley, San Diego, Calif.; Adohr Stock Farms, Los Angeles, and Geo. Peak, Winchester, Ill.
Included in the Portland entries for the horse show are A. C. Ruby, L. R. Banks, Aaron M. Frank, and the Carnation Products company. Horse show judges named this week include J. F. Garrison of Des Moines, Iowa, and James Watson of Ganges, B. C.

THEATRE NEWS

"No, No, Nanette," will open at the Oasis theatre at Hermiston Friday and Saturday, August 8 and 9.

First National screen version, partly in Technicolor, of the famous musical comedy is on a vastly larger scale than the stage version. There are 150 girls and men in the chorus, with a large cast of principals headed by Bernice Claire, Alexander Gray Lucien Littlefield and Louise Fazenda.

"I Want to Be Happy," and "Tea for Two," the big song hits of the stage production are sung by Gray, Miss Claire and the big beauty chorus. Other song numbers are "King of the Air," "The Dance of the Wooden Shoes" and "Japanese Ballet." The latter three songs are becoming as widely popular as were the two original hits.

"No, No, Nanette" is the story of a kindly millionaire who wants to make others happy, especially young girls. Written by Otto Harbach and Frank Mandel, the musical play has been adapted to the screen by Howard E. Rogers, himself the author of several successful musical shows.

Clarence Badger directed the picture and Larry Ceballos staged the dance numbers. The cast includes Lilyan Tashman, Bert Roach, Zasu Pitts, Mildred Harris, Henry Stockbridge and Jocelyn Lee.
Let all small boys take notice! One of their own has been raised to the throne of stardom! The new king of the movie kids is none other than Mr. Davey Lee, aged four, and he is coming to the Oasis Theatre next Sunday and Monday, August 10 and 11 in Warner Brothers latest Vitaphone talking picture, in his first starring picture—"Sonny Boy."

The grown-ups that help Davey are Everett Edward Horton, Betty Bronson, Gertrude Olmstead, John T. Murray, Edmund Brees, Lucy Beaumont and Jed Prouty. Leon Zuardo wrote the story which was adapted for the screen by C. Graham Baker. Archie L. Mayo directed.
"Sonny Boy" is a comedy, and Davey is not required to make people cry as he did in "The Singing Fool." He is just a mite of funny humanity, not camera conscious, not "smart," just a regular little kid, but with such odd small antics—such winkings and blinkings—and such unlooked for changes of expression—as to make everyone want to claim him as their own on the spot! You really must not miss "Sonny Boy."

Returns From Missouri.
Mrs. James Todd and two daughters returned to Hermiston Wednesday morning after an 8-weeks' visit at Penton, Missouri, with Mrs. Todd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Casserly, former project residents.

PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT BEING INSTALLED AT SCHOOL

Swings, Teeter-Totters, Turn-Bars, Being Put up West of School Building.

Playground equipment is being installed at the local school grounds this week. Harvey Cook was busy the first of the week putting in the first unit which consisted of two swings, one set of rings, three teeter-totters and one horizontal bar. The unit is constructed according to standard specifications and is located to the west of the school building. Another unit is also being constructed and will be completed in a few days which consists of three chain swings.

Such equipment has long been needed on the grounds as the children have always had to seek their own amusement. Those who have made it possible for such material to be put in should be congratulated as the children will certainly appreciate the opportunity of using this equipment.

ROUND-UP PARADE TO BE HELD FRIDAY

The Round-Up's historic parade, known all over the world as the famous Westward Ho, is to be held Friday at the Round-Up this year instead of on Saturday as has been the custom.

The change was made because of the "Over the Hill" feature at the grounds on Saturday. In this pageant feature, Indians and covered wagons come down over the hillside to the Round-Up grounds. The Westward Ho parade is not held at the grounds but on the streets of Pendleton, which echo to the hoofbeats of horses as the spectacular cavalcade moves on. Westward Ho parade is a morning parade, at 10 o'clock, and is made up of hundreds of horsemen and Indians. The bucks, squaws, papooses, sumptuously attired in all the glory of buckskin, furs, beads, elk teeth and feathers, are mounted on Indian ponies as gayly caparisoned as their riders.

Cowboys and cowgirls ride in the line of march which is headed by Henry W. Collins, president of the Round-Up. There are creaking old stage coaches to give an authentic picture of bygone frontier days, and floats showing calf roping, branding and other activities of the Western cow country. Westward Ho is characterized by its wealth of color and is a never-to-be-forgotten sight.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION REPORT FOR JULY GIVEN

MINNEHAHA NEWS NOTES

(By Miss Grace Rodda)

Ben and Sam Attebury of Boardman were visitors in this district Monday. They report a better honey crop than for a number of years and are interested in obtaining cans with other bee keepers in trailer lot loads. It is hoped that enough honey containers will be ordered in a few days to make up that amount. If so it will consist of 2 1-2, 5, 10 and 60 pound cans and pails.

The honey crop from Echo to Boardman is above the average this year, except Butter creek, which is short. There being a shortage of water, it has cut the crop of alfalfa hay as much as 500 tons less on some places this last year. The first crop of alfalfa had little nectar in it. J. M. Thom Jr. made a business trip to Walla Walla last Friday.

Mrs. C. M. Jackson and sons Billy and Bobby visited Friday with Ina Wattenberger of Echo.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Payne and Mrs. Payne's mother, Mrs. Lawson, were visitors at the J. G. Cochran home Sunday. Mrs. Carter of the North Hill was also a visitor.

William Sisson was in Pendleton Saturday receiving medical attention. The cast was not removed from his arm which was broken some time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jones of Lewiston, Ida., were week-end guests at the S. L. Carson home. Mrs. Jones was formerly Laura Carson.

Charles Keith and Howard Raymond, of Washington, who have been here for some time, left for Heppner Monday.

Mrs. A. R. Scott, mother of Mrs. J. G. Cochran, is still very ill at her home in Walla Walla. She is an early pioneer of Oregon.

Virginia Rodda, who is attending Monmouth normal, was elected house president of White Hall.

Richard and Strickland Gillilan of Portland, are visiting at the R. H. Thom ranch.

Grace Rodda and Floyd McMullen are news reporters for "Field Notes of 4-H Clubs" appearing in the automobile section of the Sunday Oregonian.

Umatilla County Receives Share Annual Apportionment Of Taxes

Umatilla county receives the sum of $10,854.60 as its share of the annual apportionment of the state's irreducible school fund. George S. Brown, clerk of the state land board, has announced.

The amount was based upon a population of 6,870 children over four and under 20 years of age in the county.

Although the total amount available in the interest account of the funds exceeds by more than $3,000 the amount in the same fund a year ago, the per capita apportionment today exceeds by only one per cent the total apportionment in the entire state last year.

The amount apportioned to Umatilla county will be reapportioned among the various school districts by the county school superintendent upon the basis of school population.

There are 351 dogs in Umatilla county, having a total value of $10,955, not counting the "hot dogs." If the state tax rolls are to be believed in this respect, which they are 990 upon which owners pay taxes. However, this is not an accurate census of the dog population of Oregon because many county assessors do not make any attempt to assess dogs, says Earl L. Fisher, chairman of the state tax commission.

The cost of government is substantially contributed to by public utilities in Oregon, says Earl L. Fisher, chairman of the state tax commission in releasing a report on taxation of utilities.

During the tax year 1929, public utilities will pay property taxes aggregating $7,193,563.67 based upon the apportioned value of $180,199,380, Fisher said. The full assessed valuation of the utilities amounted to $30,199,066 but the former figure represents the taxable value upon which they actually pay taxes and conforms to the standard of under-valuation in the respective counties, ranging from 42 per cent in Clackamas county to 84 per cent in Sherman county.

The ratio of taxable to the full cash value of property generally in Umatilla county, as determined by the state tax commission for the year 1929, was 69 per cent, Fisher said.

All of Oregon there are only 3,308 pedigreed canines, cats, whelps, mongrels, pooches, hounds, and just plain dogs, the tax rolls show, and they have a total valuation of $105,
