POLITICS

"As goes Maine, so goes the Nation." is an ancient political aphorism which is no longer true and probably never was.

The election just held in Maine can be interpreted by political forecasters to suit any partisan point of view.

The most significant thing about the Maine election, it seems to us, is that so few voters took the trouble to vote.

Wouldn't it be funny if the politicians were all wrong in believing that everybody is all excited about politics this year?

Meier for Governor Blooms Atop Mt. Hood—caption Portland Telegram. Better enjoy the flowers Julius while they are fresh.

It is usual to congratulate the recipient of a desirable appointment, but in the case of Kent Shoemaker, who has been appointed chief of the state traffic division, congratulations are rather due to Hal Hess, Secretary of State, for his excellent choice, and the state upon the acquisition of a valuable public servant.

The Examiner, official mouth-piece for the Hermiston schools, made its appearance this week. The paper is a weekly affair and edited by Chester Johnson. More power to you and congratulations.

And now we are threatened with a new independent candidate for Governor. This time a woman. Just as well pipe down men if chatter, chatter means anything, you are lost.

The Umatilla Project Fair is progressing nicely and only two weeks away. Make plans now to attend.

Leave for Portland. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hallyburton left Hermiston by motor Thursday morning for Portland where they expect to spend a week visiting friends and relatives.

Visiting From Garrizaldi. Mrs. J. S. Nye of Garrizaldi, Oregon, is visiting at the home of her son, Sam Nye, of this city.

Leaves for School. Eva Woughter left Friday of last week for her school near Condon.

CHURCH NOTES

Methodist Church. We are going to try out a new program schedule beginning this coming Sunday, September 21. With the cooperation of the young people in the church as well as of the older members, we are planning to hold services at the regular hours every Sunday, instead of alternating as we have been doing in the past.

Your attendance and co-operation in each service of the Sabbath day is earnestly desired. We are sure you will gain much by giving your time and attention to the worship of God in the Sabbath day services.

O. W. Payne, Pastor.

TUBERCULOSIS ASSN. FIGURES SHOW DECREASE

As a result of the extension of the life span and average length of life and the reduction of mortality from disease, the number of orphaned children in this country has been appreciably decreased in recent years, according to figures published by a large insurance company.

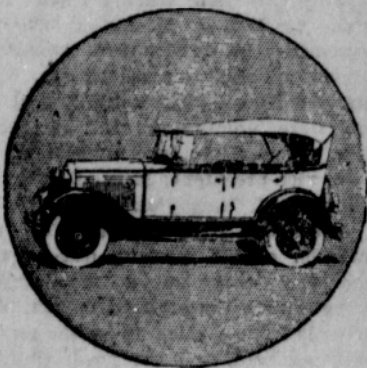

In the productive age period, from twenty to forty-five years, tuberculosis constitutes the greatest cause of death, claiming 22 per cent or approximately one out of every five deaths occurring annually in this group, thus making tuberculosis one of the largest contributing causes of orphaned children.

1928 two hundred and fifty-eight, or approximately 50 per cent of the deaths from tuberculosis, occurred between the ages of 20 and 45 years.

Organizations engaged in the campaign against tuberculosis, including the Oregon Tuberculosis association, urge parents to be on the alert to recognize the symptoms in themselves as well as in other members of the household.

The practice of having an annual health examination by the family physician for every member of the family is instrumental in discovering infection in the early stages, when it is most curable, the association states. The use of the X-ray and sputum tests by competent chest men are also urged for those with definite symptoms.
