SCHOOL DISTRICTS 8 & 14 SIGN CONTRACT MONDAY

PUPILS OF WESTLAND TO ATTEND HERMISTON SCHOOL
New Bus Line to be Established by District 14 to Bring Pupils To Town.

A contract was signed by the respective school boards of School Districts Eight and Fourteen, at a joint meeting held in Hermiston Monday afternoon last, in which it was agreed that the pupils of District 8 (the Westland school) are to be sent to the Hermiston elementary school for a period of two school years, commencing in September, 1931.

The action of the Westland board followed a special school meeting in their district last Saturday when the question of sending pupils to the Hermiston school was favorably voted upon.

Important provisions of the contract are the establishing of a new bus line by District 14 to serve District 8 pupils living on the west side of the Umatilla river, and the clause providing a payment of $75.00 per pupil per school year to the Hermiston district by the Westland district for this complete educational service. Both districts will benefit by this arrangement, since district 8 will be able to reduce their special taxation for school purposes and District 14 will be able to absorb the 20 pupils from the Westland district without any additional expense or crowding.

The following participated in the meeting: L. Stewart, chairman of District 8; V. V. Lewis, clerk of District 8; Roy Attebury, J. H. Lewis, directors District 8; W. J. Warner, chairman District 14; R. A. Brownson, clerk District 14; F. B. Swayze, F. C. Woughter, directors District 14; Judge I. M. Schanep; County School Superintendent J. A. Yeager, and Superintendent F. E. Shaw.

THE BAPTIST CHAPEL CAR TO REMAIN IN HERMISTON

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Cutler returned last Saturday from Portland where they attended the Baptist State Board meeting. At the meeting of the state board it was decided to keep the Cutlers in Hermiston for the winter at least. Rev. Cutler is nationally known as an evangelistic preacher, having been pastor in Kansas City and other middle western cities. More recently he has been employed on one of the five chapel cars sent out by the American Baptist Publication Society of Philadelphia. He and his wife have traveled with the chapel car for several years and have been in nearly all of the northern states.

Since the coming of the chapel car last July the Baptist church and Sunday school has been reorganized and the attendance to all services has greatly increased. The many friends the Cutlers have made while in Hermiston will be happy to know that the missionaries are to remain in the city.

NEEWOLLAH HELD

FRIDAY IS SUCCESS

A novelty in the way of Hallowe'en entertainment arranged by the American Legion and Auxiliary, was the "Neewollah" on Friday evening, participated in by all grades of the elementary and high schools. Led by Legion members and rum corps and lighted by flares, the parade of children in costume preceded from the high school building, the line of march extending through Main street and to the auditorium where a large crowd gathered and where prizes offered for costumes and attendance of pupils were awarded. After the awards had been made the smaller children were entertained with games and refreshments at the Legion hall.

Costumes worn were of all varieties. The third grade of the elementary school was awarded the prize for having the greatest per cent of pupils in the parade and costumed. The presentation of this award, a framed picture, was made by master of ceremonies, H. W. Kelley, and Prof. F. E. Shaw in a short talk accepted the picture for the third grade at the same time warmly commending the Legion and Auxiliary for providing this novel Hallowe'en entertainment. Claude Markham, a member of the first grade, was awarded the first prize for the best costume among the grade pupils and Miss Florence Pearson, the best girl's school costume. Prizes were also given for the best costumes in each grade competing. Refreshments were served after making the awards and dancing followed.

ABORTION TEST TO START MONDAY, NOVEMBER 10

Semi-Annual Testing Program to Occupy Two Men for Four Days.

Information from the office of Dr. B. T. Simms, professor of veterinary medicine, and from Dr. Lytle's office, state that a veterinarian from each of the two departments will be available to carry on the testing program for this territory next week. The work will start next Monday, November 10, and run four days during which time an attempt will be made to test all of the herds that desire this work.

This work has been carried on under the direction of P. P. Sullivan, member of the Farm Bureau executive committee. The Farm Bureau was instrumental in having the first testing done in this community for the benefit of the dairymen, and Mr. Sullivan who is in charge of disease control work for the Farm Bureau has directed the work.

When the test for contagious abortion was first instituted it was found that about 42 per cent of the dairy cows on the project were infected. The reactors to the test have been gradually eliminated until the last test, conducted this spring showed that only 10.1 per cent of all the animals tested were reactors. This includes some territory that has not had the test in the past, and are only now starting to clean up their herds. On the Hermiston project the test last spring shows less than six per cent reactors.

Due to the limited amount of time available to take the blood samples this fall, it is planned to test only the cows that were tested last fall. However, if there are any new cows that desire this work done, they should get in touch either with P. P. Sullivan or E. M. Hauser, assistant county agent, within the next few days and an effort will be made to include these in the schedule.

JULIUS L. MEIER

Governor-elect of Oregon, Meier received 16,379 more votes than the combined vote of his three opponents.

TURKEY DEMONSTRATIONS HELD MONDAY

The fine points in killing and dressing turkeys for market were ably demonstrated by McKinley Huntington at meetings held last Monday at the J. Jendrzewski farm, and at the Umatilla Experiment station.

Mr. Huntington not only demonstrated the most approved practical methods for killing and dressing but also emphasized that birds for the early markets should be carefully selected if the top grades are aimed at, as only birds that are plump, fully developed, free from deformities, bruises and skin abrasions can be expected to meet the requirements of the top grades. The birds should be required to meet a certain weight, depending on the size of the breeding stock. The feathers should be mature as shown by the clearness of the quill, rather than having the blue color characteristic when the food is still in the feathers.

After an examination of several flocks in the community Mr. Huntington said that only the very earliest hatched birds and the old breeding stock would be ready for the Thanksgiving market. He considers his an advantage, as the birds are gaining rapidly at this time, and the longer the birds are held over and fed the greater will be the net profit of the grower, due to the economical gains the birds are making at this season of the year. Most growers are of the opinion that the Thanksgiving market is superior in price to later markets but Mr. Huntington stated that in only two years out of the last nineteen has the early market been superior to the later pool prices. He advocates, then, that only birds that are prime in every way be killed for the first shipment.
