4-H CLUB ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM FEATURES AWARDS

SHOW HALTER PRESENTED TO MORRIS PIERSON

Certificates of Achievement, Club Pins and Special Awards Presented By H. J. Seymour

A 4-H Club Achievement program was held in conjunction with the Farm Bureau meeting last Tuesday evening.

Floyd McMullen, one of the boys who has been doing exceptionally good work with his club projects, gave an interesting talk on his trip to the club summer school at Corvallis last summer, describing the way the school is conducted and the value it has for boys and girls in club work.

J. A. Yeager, county school superintendent, discussed girl's club work in the county, and awarded club pins to the members of the Home Economics clubs in this section. Leader pins were also awarded to Mrs. W. A. Hinesline, who has worked hard and faithfully as leader of the girls' clubs during the last year, and to Grace Rodda, local club leader.

In the livestock division E. L. Jackson, Farm Bureau project leader, Mrs. L. M. Marble, Poultry club leader, J. W. McMullen, Holstein club leader, and S. H. Barnard, Hampshire sheep club leader were presented with leader pins. Walthor Ott, who is now at Oregon State college, was leader of the Jersey Calf club for the past season. All members of the various clubs that completed their work for the past year were given club pins representing their years of endeavor in club work.

Certificates of Achievement were presented to Enos Martin, president of the Hampshire Sheep club, and Floyd McMullen, president of the Holstein Calf club. Both of these clubs had finished 100 per cent, all members in each completing their work and turning in final reports of their project.

Floyd McMullen was presented with the Thomas Wilson award, a gold medal given to the outstanding individual in the county for projects dealing with meat producing projects.

A show halter offered by the Holstein-Friesian association for individuals placing first in their class at the Oregon State Fair was awarded to Morris Pierson. By winning the first premium in his class at the fair Morris Pierson also won a scholarship to the club summer school held each year at Oregon State college.

Ernest M. Hauser, assistant county agent, asked that the Farm Bureau offer a scholarship to the outstanding boy and girl in club work on the Hermiston project. The members of the Farm Bureau voted that the organization give these scholarships in support of club work.

H. C. Seymour, state club leader, after presenting the club pins, certificates of achievement, and special awards, closed the program with a very interesting talk on some of the phases of club work.

FARM BUREAU FAVORS WEEVIL BILL AS STANDS

SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED FOR CLUB WORK

Resolution Sent to Representatives at State House; Co-Op Creamery Report Postponed

A special meeting of the Farm Bureau Co-operative association was held Tuesday night in the basement of the library, with President Henry Ott presiding.

An amendment to the state legislature to amend the alfalfa weevil quarantine bill which will prevent the legislature from appropriating money for maintenance. A motion was made by A. D. Smith to instruct representatives that the Farm Bureau was in favor of the bill as it stands. The motion carried and the secretary was instructed to send a copy of the resolution to representatives at the state house.

Due to a request by E. M. Hauser, assistant county agent, the organization voted scholarships to summer school at Oregon State college to the boy and girl receiving highest honors in club work on the Hermiston project.

A report from the committee for investigating the co-operative creamery situation will be given some time in the near future at a special meeting. Members of the committee are: J. H. Reid, chairman, L. C. Dyer, E. L. Jackson, J. Jendrzejewski and T. H. Gregory.

HOSTS AT BRIDGE-LUNCHEON FEATURE VALENTINE IDEA

The Valentine decoration idea was carried out at a bridge-luncheon given at Mrs. Ralph Richards' home Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Robertson entertained. Valentine favors were presented to guests seated at the six tables. A clever arrangement of pink Jello vegetable salad on a lettuce leaf, topped with mayonnaise in a flower design and red cherry center, beat pickle placed next, making the contrast, home canned yellow corn, and meat fried to a crisp brown, finished with piping hot parkerhouse rolls, constituted the plate luncheon. Pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee was served for dessert.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent playing bridge in a cozy, well-lighted room. Mrs. C. C. Deurfey received high score and Mrs. F. V. Prime second.
