CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 1.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee" (Jer. 31:3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear" (Isa. 59:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good" (p.494).

I only need to say that their part of the service will be both interesting and beautiful. Sermon, "Doing is the part of wisdom."

SCHOOL NOTES

English Entrance Examination The excellence of the instruction offered at Hermiston Union High school was again proven by an outside, disinterested agency when Dean M. Ellwood Smith of Oregon State college, chairman of the committee administering the uniform english entrance examination announced that Hermiston had won second place competing against every high school in the state of Oregon.

The english entrance examination is given to each Freshman entering and Oregon institution of higher learning. This includes all normal schools, endowed colleges, as well as the University and State College. Hermiston sent five graduates to these institutions, namely; Shirley Brownson, Marion Henderson, Walter Ott, Lowell Stockard, and Jane Warner. The average score made by these students was 136.20, just 7.23 points below the leading school of the state, Lincoln High of Portland. Much satisfaction was expressed about the high school and among business men and school patrons generally over this signal success. It is just one more proof of the sentiment quite widespread over the state among school men that Hermiston has an exceptionally good school system.

Basketball Handicapped by injuries and probation, Hermiston's fighting basketball team lost two games to Umatilla High last Friday evening. Saturday evening, Coach Cochran took a team of second team players to Pilot Rock and again met defeat. Friday, the boys' team will meet the fast Adams High school team on the local floor. This team is one of the best in the district, having beaten Pendleton, according to report. Local basketball fans can plan on seeing some clever and fast basketball in this game. The girls will also play, meeting the Hermiston women's town team in the preliminary. February 11, both boys' and girls' teams will meet Echo High at Echo.

The annual sub-district tournament will be held February 27 and 28, at either Heppner or Arlington, according to advice from Mr. Benjamin W. Wheatley, principal of Pendleton high school, and chairman of the district basketball committee. Hermiston will probably play at Arlington.

Unite Organized Campaign Policy Action advocating the uniting of all branches of the state dairy industry in an attempt to raise funds for carrying on an organized campaign to increase consumption of dairy products was approved by both the Oregon Buttermakers association and the Oregon Dairymen's association during their recent annual conventions.

Both associations also went on record as favoring legislation to curb the unrestricted production and sale of various vegetable oil substitutes for butter. They also recommended that dairymen themselves set the example in using dairy products.

The Oregon Buttermakers' association, which held its largest convention of recent years at O. S. C. last week, refused to either approve or oppose the proposed Oregon compulsory cream grading law, but appointed a special committee to confer with the sponsors of the bill at Salem. They went on record, however, as favoring a single standard for butter requiring an 80 per cent fat content only, and discarding the former regulations as to moisture.

Ice cream makers of the state were represented at the Buttermakers' convention this year for the first time, and a motion was passed inviting this branch of the industry to join with the buttermakers in a consolidated organization to be known as the Oregon Butter and Ice Cream Makers' association.

The gold medal of the association for the best cube of butter of the 24 exhibited in the senior division was awarded to G. L. Coleman of the Raven dairy, Portland, with Andrew Tacchella of the Ideal dairy, Portland, winning second. First place in the junior division, with twelve exhibitors, was won by Jack Wright of the Carlton cooperative creamery, with second place going to Charles E. Dillman, Alpine creamery, Burns. The Lower Columbia Cooperative Dairy association of Astoria made the best of the 15 samples of ice cream exhibited, and the Winkley creamery of Corvallis placed second.

"The Sea Wolf," is an all sea story at the Oasis Theatre Friday and Saturday. This is Milton Sills' last picture and he has the role of a hard sea captain. The picture has lots of action and if that is what you crave, don't miss it. The Sea Wolf is one of Jack London's stories and has been read by many people. The picture is one of the best of its kind to be made all-talking and will supply you with an evening of good entertainment, being different from the ordinary.

Porter Emerson Browne's play, "The Bad Man," which is now showing at the Oasis Theatre Sunday and Monday, as a First National Vitaphone production, presents a number of unusual situations.

The "bad man" is the lead in the play, and yet he makes everyone happy. There is a man in the picture who is a much worse character than the bad man. The hero of the story is in love with a woman who is married to someone else. The heroine of the story is unhappily married, and can't care for the man she really loves. but "The Bad Man" straightens all that out, following a Latin philosophy of his own. Walter Huston plays the title role, and Sidney Blackmer, James Rennie, Dorothy Revier, O. P. Heggie, are in the cast. Clarence Badger directed.

Old Cooking Ideals Upset By Experts Age-old culinary lore to the contrary notwithstanding, it is now known that searing a roast before putting it in the oven does not contribute to the development or retention of the flavor nor lessen the losses in cooking. This statement was made by Miss Agnes Kolshorn, professor of foods and nutrition at Oregon State college, in speaking before a group of women registered for the annual Household Equipment short course last week.

Shattering other custom-sanctioned ideas in meat cookery, Miss Kolshorn also said that better results are obtained by cooking a roast in an uncovered, than in a covered pan, and that there is little difference between a roast started in a cold oven and one put in after the oven is heated. The roast put in the heated oven may be a trifle better browned, but other factors will not be affected, said Miss Kolshorn.

Culinary authorities have formerly believed that quick cooking at high temperature was not detrimental to the tender cuts of meat, Miss Kolshorn said. But this idea, too, has changed, and the consensus now is that slower cooking at lower temperatures will improve even the tenderest cuts of meat.

Making of mayonnaise also came in for discussion, and Miss Kolshorn pointed out that, contrary to former opinion, temperature, within ordinary limits, has little effect on the process or the product, and that chilling of the oil and bowl is unnecessary. Another idea brought out was that while many homemakers know that an unsatisfactory mayonnaise mixture can be redeemed by heating it into another egg, this can be accomplished just as effectively by heating the mixture into a teaspoonful of cold water. At present egg prices, however, there is little inducement to forego use of the egg.

Harry Lorber and his wife of St. Louis were arrested for holding up Mrs. James Sherman and taking her purse and shoes.
