I will praise the Lord according to his righteousness; and will sing praise to the name of the Lord most high. Psalm 7:17.

Speed!

(Autocaster Service)

The year is only three months old, but already two of the world's speed records have been broken and others are threatened. Gar Wood drove a speedboat 102 miles an hour at Miami the other day. Not long ago Captain Malcolm Campbell drove an automobile 245 miles an hour. If this sort of thing keeps up throughout the year, 1931 will be the speediest twelve-month in history.

There are some high records to be challenged. There will be another airplane race for the Schneider Cup this year. The present record for speed in the air is held by Flight Commander A. H. Orlebar of the British air forces, who flew at 357.72 miles an hour in a seaplane in September, 1929, winning the Schneider trophy. That is the fastest any man has ever traveled, according to the records, though it was rumored that Orlebar had touched 450 miles in his trial flights. Airmen are predicting that an official record above 400 miles an hour will be made this year. The record of the Europa for the fastest ocean passage, 4 days, 17 hours, 6 minutes, Cherbourg to New York, will surely be shot at this year. With so many speedsters turning their attention to flying and speed-boating, the older forms of competitive locomotion are being more or less neglected. No pacing horse has beaten the record of a mile in 1 minute, 55 seconds, set by Dan Patch in 1906, while Peter Mannin's trotting record of 1.56 3-4 for the mile, made in 1922, remains unbroken.

No human has propelled himself faster for a mile than Paavo Nurmi did in 1923, when he negotiated the distance in 4 minutes 10.4 seconds, and Edward Tolan's record of 9 1-2 seconds for the 100 yards, made two years ago, still stands.

Everybody has a chance at some world's record or other, but let us hope that the weather man won't try to break last year's drought record.

CHURCH NOTES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson - Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 29.

The Golden Text was, "As the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations" (Isa. 61:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge" (II Pet. 1:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "The term Science, properly understood, refers only to the laws of God and to His government of the universe, inclusive of man... A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortal access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity" (p. 128).

METHODIST CHURCH

The entire city of Hermiston and vicinity will find the next Lord's day one of vital importance and inspiration, by attending one of the churches and participating in the greatest of all incidents of the Lord's life. The great festivals of the church such as Easter, are coming to mean more to us as the years go by and we earnestly desire this Easter day to be the day of days in our community. There will be no morning services other than the regular Sunday school but the evening program will be in keeping with the Easter spirit.

"The diamond that shines in the aviator's crown shall beam in unquenched beauty, at last, on the forehead of every human soul, risen through grace to the immortality of Heaven."

You will find a hearty welcome to the services Sunday evening at 7:45.

O. W. Payne, Minister.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON International Sunday School Lesson for April 5

JESUS TEACHES HUMILITY Luke 14:7-14; 18:15-17

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D. Practical every day items are taught throughout the Bible. In this lesson it becomes a book on social etiquette. Some man sought to get credit for himself by inviting Jesus to a feast, since He at that time was the news headliner in that part of the world. Jesus is always studying us, even as He observed the scramble for the seats of distinction around that table. The people of the Far East follow literally what Jesus will not take the place nearest the door.

Further admonition was given when any host was urged to be a real philanthropist in sending out his invitations and not a mere social climber who wants a return invitation. There are multitudes of worthy poor who are hungry; these should be asked to come to the table of bounty. Constantly the Bible is presenting a choice social standard that mankind will be blessed in following. Children are given their chance only where the principles of the Gospel are in practice. Contrast child life in any land where the Sunday School is but little known with that in which the Bible School is making its greatest advance. When mothers brought their little ones to the Kindly Man that He might give them His blessing even the disciple barred the way until the command was uttered "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of God." Christianity aims to stop the exploiting of children that their best interests may be safeguarded, for the boys and girls of today become the men and women of tomorrow. The alternative Easter Lesson is based on 1 Corinthians 15:1-8; 50-58

SCHOOL NOTES

High School Assembly

Hermiston high school students were agreeably entertained Monday morning from 9:00 to 9:30, with an address by W. G. Beattie, extension lecturer and associate professor of education, University of Oregon. Mr. Beattie told of asking a group of students in one high school why they were in high school, and of the various answers received. Forty per cent said, "To get ready to go to college." Forty-five per cent said, "To get all the knowledge we can and learn how to live." Five per cent said, "Because Dad sent us." And ten per cent said, "To learn how to be better citizens." Mr. Beattie also explained a cartoon he had seen that impressed him. It was the picture of two men, one standing with books about him, and the other in the midst of all kinds of tools. Each was looking at the other with disdain. Underneath was the caption, "One school, One skill—Neither Educated."

Following his talk to the student body as a whole, Professor Beattie met with the Senior class for a discussion of problems pertinent to this group, and then he spent over an hour answering questions from a small group of Seniors who are contemplating college studies next year.
