THEATRE NOTES

"Fighting Caravans," the thrilling and spectacular drama of the battling pioneers who beat new trails across the continent, is the tremendous attraction which the Oasis theatre will show, starting Friday, for two days. Gary Cooper and Lily Damita head an exceptionally large and forceful cast of well-known screen favorites in this epic picture of the forefathers of the American West. "Fighting Caravans" has been filmed on the same gigantic scale which made "The Covered Wagon" a never-to-be-forgotten screen presentation. The lives, the equipment, the characters, even the dangers and privations of those forward-pushing days have been reconstructed, and brought to life on the screen, in a breath-taking production that will make moving picture history. Into the intense atmosphere of the frontier-busting caravan is introduced a tender romance, between Gary Cooper, the swaggering, devil-may-care junior scout of the expedition, and Lily Damita, French girl immigrant whose father dies during the gruelling march, leaving her alone, with a giant wagon and a valuable cargo, to carry on to the Land of Gold. Cooper, tempted to take advantage of the girl's helpless position, is quickly brought to his senses by her indomitable will. Their romance blossoms in danger and bursts into full bloom as the struggling caravan struggles into Eldorado. "Fighting Caravans" is Zane Grey's best-seller novel brought to the screen, made to live against the gorgeous natural backgrounds of the California High Sierras. In the cast are Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall, those two old scouts of "The Covered Wagon."

It is adult humor that permeates "The Matrimonial Bed," Warner Bros. French farce coming Sunday and Monday to the Oasis theatre. Spicy and pointed, it will prove irresistible to those who like smart and sophisticated comedy. It is built about the amazing experiences of a French gentleman about town who meets with an accident and loses his memory, eventually awaking with more than his share of wives, families and affairs. The hero is happily cast in such a comedy. He has the smooth assurance that enables him to handle interesting situations with a humorous and inoffensive twist. Lilyan Tashman, Florence Eldridge, Beryl Mercer, Marion Byron, and Vivian Oakland are the women involved in Fay's adventures and James Gleason, Arthur Edmund Carew and James Bradbury, Sr., are the men he bests—one way or another—in the battle of wits. Michael Curtiz directed.
