Radio Advertising.

We wonder if everybody is as tired of listening to advertising over the radio as we are. We wonder if the people who are paying for radio advertising are getting their money's worth out of it.

Somebody has to pay for radio broadcasting. That goes without saying. Some broadcasting is paid for by political and other propagandists, and most of that sort of stuff we have listened to is pretty dreary.

In Russia we understand people cannot hear anything but propaganda through their radio sets. In France the government owns all the radio stations but leases time on the air to advertisers who, we understand, do not make any very successful attempts at entertainment.

education, but there is always a government censor listening in and there is a decided limitation of free expression of ideas and opinions over the radio.

The last thing we want in America is any kind of government censorship. Freedom of speech and of the press is one of the fundamental principles of our democracy.

Probably, on the whole, our American system of letting advertisers pay for our entertainment is the best. We certainly get better entertainment over the radio than they do anywhere else, from all reports, just as we have better newspapers in America because our newspaper advertisers make them possible.

HOUSING FOR 5000 AVAILABLE AT LEGION CONVENTION.

Corvallis, Ore., July 30.—In answer to worried queries from over the state regarding the availability of housing in Corvallis for the Legion convention August 6, 7 and 8, the housing committee comes out with the announcement of a reward of $25 for anyone who is unable to find satisfactory place to sleep during the convention here.

With the entire town cooperating with Legion men in preparing for the big convention only a couple of weeks away, every facility that the town offers its annual student enrollment of nearly 5000 will be available to visitors at the convention.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Truth" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 26.

The Golden Text was, "Thus saith the Lord: I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hosts the holy mountain" (Zech. 8:3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth. I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth" (III John 1:2, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and to do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth" (p.11).

PHILIP'S MISSIONARY LABORS Acts 8:26-40

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

It may be hard to be turned aside from present activities to undertake some new work but very often this change is a blessing in disguise. The changed field may produce far larger results than the one in which we are contentedly established.

He traveled south about 100 miles before any indication was revealed of the way for which he had left the company in Samaria. Then a man was observed in a chariot who was reading aloud. Again there is a direction from the Holy Spirit and Philip accosts the treasurer of Candace, queen of the Ethiopians. This man had been to Jerusalem and while en route homeward was reading from Isaiah 53:7. This referred to the Messiah. Now the treasurer was a master at finances but poor in interpreting Scripture.

Again there was a call to proceed northward and the convert is left that a work of evangelizing may be followed as far northward as Caesarea. The Golden Text sets forth the activity that should be performed by every believer: "They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching the word." Acts 8:4.

Union Pacific Employees.. a 9-million-dollar Market for OREGON

UNION PACIFIC employees in Oregon were paid $9,147,094 in salaries and wages during 1930. More than three thousand four hundred families, a total of 20,719 people, received their support from Union Pacific.

Think what that means to Oregon's home market—to the development of her growing industries—to the consumption of her agricultural products.

The preservation of this vast home market among Union Pacific employees is dependent upon the continuing prosperity of the Railroad. Every shipment made by truck weakens the Railroad structure and affects railroad employment.
