One Year Ago Today.

With this issue of the Hermiston Herald its present managers have been a part of the Hermiston community for exactly one year.

Never have we lived in a community where there was more of a spirit of cooperation and friendliness, one to another.

We have fully appreciated the encouragement offered us in our undertaking by our readers.

miston auditorium building from F. B. Swayze for $1450 will be put to a vote of the taxpayers in District No. 9 next Saturday.

Board members are anxious to know the wish of the tax payers of the district regarding this matter, and consequently are putting it to a vote.

Heretofore the school board has leased the building for three months out of the year for $135 during the basketball season, paying an extra $12.50 when school activities called for the use of the building.

One of the questions considered in the matter was whether the building was worth improving in years to come, or whether it would merely be left to depreciate in value.

The thing uppermost in consideration by the board, is that the purchase of the building will furnish a permanent place in which basketball and school activities may be held.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Thanksgiving" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Thanksgiving Day.

The Golden Text was, "In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you" (1 Thess. 5:18).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "My tongue shall praise all the day long" (Ps. 35:28).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "We plead for unmerited pardon and for a liberal outpouring of benefactions. Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech" (p. 8).

Landscaping Simplified

By H. W. KLAGES

The second article on landscape gardening completes the corners, from the background of the plan outlined in last week's Herald, by H. W. Klages, who has been successful in beautifying his home located on the Butter Creek highway west of town.

"If you are a lover of nature, you have no doubt been studying the plan appearing in last week's issue of the Herald carrying out a landscaping plan. The plan as it continues should be laid out with the house facing the south, the background representing north, the left west, and the right east, on a plot of ground 110 feet wide and 150 feet in length from the north to the south line. It is a good plan to let one inch on your rule represent 8 feet on your drawing plan. Mr. Knight, one of Portland's finest landscape gardeners, uses this rule. Draw your plan straight and square.

"It is necessary to get the plan temporarily located in your mind, as I am going to deal with various sides, starting with the two groups that break up the two rear corners. First of all, plant a hedge at the rear on the east and west side, according to the measurements in your plan. Nothing can beat Spirea Van Houttei for beauty. It has the drooping habit, and in favorable seasons when the buds and flowers escape our spring frosts, it is a complete fountain of small white flowers. The small leaves are a very light green color. As the season advances and it gets warmer, the foliage darkens, and in autumn they take on a beautiful maroon red again. This shrub grows easily from cuttings, so you can plant them without putting out any cash. It takes 100 cuttings for the sides and 36 for the rear, crosswise. I have told you previously how to make them and plant them.

"In each rear corner center a Globehead Locust (6 ft., 6 inches high, standard) about 2 1/2 feet from each hedge. Next measure off 12 ft. south and west from this corner, along the hedge and mark both places with a stake driven solid in the ground, one foot from the line of the hedge, toward the lawn. Get a garden hose, preferably 50 ft. long, and stretch it in front of the Globehead Locust with the ends in front of the two pegs, and kick it to within four feet of the Globehead Locust trunk. This gives you the circle that breaks up the square corner.

"Do not change the size of this group unless you change the size of the whole picture. Then, 3 ft. from the Globehead, toward the lawn, plant one Hydrangea, P. G. Plant two P.G.'s in direct line with a central point between the Globehead Locust and the first Hydrangea, at a point about 3 ft. from the hedge. On each side of the first P.G. you planted, place three Snowberry bushes (red). Plant them just one foot back from the edge of the lawn, in other words, one foot from the hose that you used to make your circle. Six plants in all. Place the first one in the center point between the first P.G. and the point 12 ft. from the corner of the hedge, and then center the other two in the two spaces left. Be sure to plant them one foot back from the lawn or hose.

"This completes this corner group. Plant both rear corners just alike with the same kind of trees and shrubs, exactly the same size. You can cut the edge of your lawn off another foot if you like in order to plant a circle of some annuals that does not grow taller than 8 inches. Don't clutter the groups with anything that you have a surplus of. Two or three blue flowers add beauty. Always plant blue flowers among shrubs, spikes preferred.

"In the space between the group outlined in the first article and the two rear corners, plant pure Red Phlox, 18 inches in from the row of Spirea hedge. Be sure they are pure red, as you know yourself that colors must blend, gradually from light to dark and from dark to light. White should be in the foreground, light yellow just back of it, and pink (Salmon) in the center or rear. Whatever the case may be it blends well.

"This completes the two rear corners. Watch the next issue of the Herald for plans for planting the two beautiful bays in your lawn."

J. W. Hamman had a near accident when his car became unmanageable and left the Butter Creek grade going over the north bank of the road. When he felt his car skidding he turned it straight and prevented it from turning over.

Irene Attebury of Butter Creek was taken to the St. Anthony's hospital in Pendleton the first of the week and underwent an operation for appendicitis Wednesday morning.

Turkey picking is quite general this week as a number are shipping in the December pool. A crew was picking at Guy Cronk's Thursday and another crew will be at Starr's Friday.

The U-go I-go club met with Mrs. M. T. Matott at Hinkle Thursday with Mrs. Floyd Laird as assistant hostess. Dinner was served at noon and the afternoon was spent in making comforters to be used in relief work.

BENEFIT GAME TO BE PLAYED IN PORTLAND, SATURDAY.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 3—Utah, champions of the Rocky Mountain conference for the last three years, will be the opponent for Oregon State in the final game of the season in Portland December 5. All receipts from the game after expenses of both teams are taken out, will be turned over to the unemployment fund.

Utah Utes, coached by Ike Armstrong, have lost only one game this season and that to University of Washington by the score of 7 to 6. Both Utah and Oregon State have met one common foe, University of Colorado, this season. Oregon State defeated the Coloradans 16 to 0 while Utah set them back 32 to 0. Those who work on comparative scores would say Utah is twice as strong as Oregon State.

Utah is making a bid for admittance to the Pacific coast conference and no argument would be better than a win over Oregon State.

Every seat in Multnomah civic stadium at Portland is reserved and the top and only price is $1.00. Application for tickets should be sent to the ticket office at Multnomah stadium or to the graduate manager at Oregon State college.

Here are the records of the two teams for this season.
