OREGON CLUB MEMBERS WIN NATIONAL HONORS

Four Oregon club boys won national honors for themselves and their state recently when they were named among the 15 clubbers in the 11 western states to receive $500 scholarships in the International Harvester company contest.

The Oregon winners and their club projects are John H. Welbes of Portland, swine; Clifford Conrad, Imbler, swine; Stanley Green, Stanfield, sheep; and Randall Grimes, Harrisburg, dairy cattle. In addition three alternates were chosen, as follows: Kenneth Dahl, Silverton; Cal Monroe, Canby; and Barbara Dunn, Junction City.

These scholarships, which entitle each winner to $500 toward a course at the state agricultural college, are provided through a $50,000 fund set aside for the purpose by the International Harvester company as a memorial to Cyrus Hall McCormick, a Virginia farm boy who gave the world its first successful grain reaper in 1831. The fund was divided into 100 scholarships of $500 each, and apportioned on a basis of club enrollments as follows: western states, 15; eastern states, 10; southern states, 35, and central states, 40. With Oregon boys winning four, the remainder of the 15 allotted to the western states were distributed three to Colorado; two each to California and Washington, and one each to Idaho, Wyoming, New Mexico and Montana.

The winners were selected by a committee of civic and business leaders of the country, headed by Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of the U. S. department of agriculture. The contest was conducted by the National Committee on Boys' and Girls' 4-H club work.

WESTERN ECONOMISTS WILL MEET AT O.S.C., DEC. 29-30.

The Oregon State college campus will be the mecca for western economists for two days, December 29 and 30, when the tenth annual Pacific Coast Economic conference will be held there. This conference is expected to draw some 45 delegates from schools of business and departments of economics in 20 colleges and universities west of the Rocky mountains.

Eight general topics for consideration at the conference have been scheduled by the program committee headed by Dr. Alfred E. Schmitt of O.S.C., secretary of the association. Each subject will be introduced by a prepared address by some visiting economist and will be followed by general discussion. These subjects range from purely curricular matters to the world economic depression and public ownership.

Dr. R. V. Hoyt, dean of the school of commerce at O.S.C., will be acting president of the conference in the absence of Dean Emeritus J. A. Bexell who was elected president last year. His health has not permitted active participation in plans.

Comparison of the lists showing registration of motor vehicles in the state department for the current year and those of 1927 shows a heavy mortality in obsolete makes of automobiles, evidently due to the much heavier type of older cars which require license fees and to the hardships encountered in obtaining parts for repairs.
