Loyalty!

The Hermiston Commercial Club, may she always be right, but right or wrong, the Hermiston Commercial Club!

Even if there were cooperation in this club, could this slogan be lived up to? Members can be loyal to an organization over rocky roads but where friction enters, there is an irritation.

Faith!

When we read the press notices from Huntingdon, Pa., telling of 12000 men following a priest to the capital to plead for financial aid, our first thought is that such radical action can never gain any definite end. Then again, if we put ourselves in the position of these men who are willing to work to support their families, and are unable to earn enough to shield their loved ones from dire want, we realize that we are looking from the standpoint of one who is not in need of immediate assistance. either materially or spiritually. In their places, would we stop to reason such matters out if we were urged on by one man, or a group of men, to march on what seems the center of all the trouble, and demand immediate cash remittances from that apparently inexhaustible mint that doles out silver and gold to millions, the United States treasury?

These 12,000 men huddled about a hundred campfires during their all-night stop in Huntingdon, Pa., would deprive themselves of the meager comforts offered by charitable institutions to attempt this weary, fruitless trek to the capital city at Washington, D. C. Here it was necessary for these men to send out an appeal for food. What can be the thoughts in their minds? What can be their aim? Surely there is nothing more in view than when they were at home with their families! The Rev. James R. Cox who is leading the 12000 men "to prove it is not a gesture of radicalism" might well appeal to the God whom he supposedly serves and bring these men back to a faith in both God and man.

The present economical condition is not only centered in the United States but is world-wide. If faith ever needed to be strengthened, it is now.

CHURCH NOTES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson - Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Jan. 3.

The Golden Text was, "Ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else; and my people shall never be ashamed" (Joel 2:27).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Hear O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord" (Deut. 6:4).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. . .
