HENRY H. EDWARDS UMATILLA PIONEER, DIES SUDDENLY

ATTACK OF ACUTE INDIGESTION WHILE WORKING. CAUSE.

Resident of Umatilla for Past 26 Years; Funeral Will Be Held Friday Afternoon.

UMATILLA, OREGON, June 1.—(Special)—Funeral services for Henry H. Edwards, 74, who died Tuesday afternoon at his home after about an hour of suffering from acute indigestion, will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the Community church. Interment will be made in the Umatilla cemetery. The Rev. W. O. Miller will officiate. Mr. Edwards went into the field to work in the morning about 5:30 and ate his lunch at noon with his fellow-worker, apparently feeling well. On returning to the field he became suddenly ill and was taken home where he died shortly after.

WHAT DO YOU EXPECT FROM YOUR NEWSPAPER?

What do you expect from your newspaper? Well, you expect more from your newspaper than you expect from any other person or institution to which you pay the small sum of $2 a year. You expect your newspaper to give you all the news for 52 weeks. Naturally, that's what you pay for, isn't it? You expect your newspaper to take the lead in advocating changes for the betterment of the community. You expect your newspaper to expose graft in public affairs. You expect your newspaper to advocate obedience to the laws of organized society. You expect your newspaper to maintain a high standard of morality, supporting things that are right and condemning things that are wrong. You expect your newspaper to boost for every community enterprise, devoting column after column to propaganda, supporting the band, the baseball team, community celebrations, boy scouts, high school athletics, school programs, home talent plays, and dozens of such causes and events. You expect your paper to boost for good roads and protect your community's claims to its share of road improvements. You expect your newspaper to build up confidence in your home financial institutions and protect home investors from making unwise investments of surplus funds, warning against fake stock salesmen and other financial nitrites. You expect your newspaper to combat the peddler nuisance. You expect your newspaper to establish friendly contact with rural readers so as to induce them to make your town their town. You expect your newspaper to give notice of all public meetings, public observances, conventions, etc. You expect your newspaper to urge support of poor relief drives, library drives, Red Cross drives, Christmas seal drives, Legion and Auxiliary drives, poppy sales, forget-me-not sales, etc. You expect your newspaper to publish church notices, church programs, club news, farm bureau information, demonstration unit news and cover all doings of the many different semi-public organizations. You expect your newspaper to support every meritorious organized effort for the city's good. And you expect all this for $2.00 a year. No, it can't be done for that. The money you, as a subscriber, pay for this paper covers less than one-fourth of the cost of publishing the paper. The other three-fourths must be paid by the advertisers.

PROSPERITY WEEK FEATURED IN 1300 CIRCULATION ISSUE

This issue of the Hermiston Herald carries a message into every home in the west end of the county; a message in values told through the advertising columns of the paper. Why not think of the week beginning with June 2, extending through June 10 as "Prosperity Week?" Hermiston merchants are aiding in this prosperity by giving values which make your pennies, nickles, dimes, and dollars go farther in buying the many things everyone needs for their homes and personal use.

This prosperity stimulating campaign forcefully demonstrates initiative and a progressive spirit, as well as the desire of Hermiston merchants to serve this large trading area in a way that will be of greatest benefit to every family. High-grade, staple merchandise have been cut from its already low price to even lower prices, so that outstanding savings will be offered.

A circulation of 1300 is being put out by the Herald for this special event and during the course of this "Prosperity Week," the Herald will pay 5c over the market price for eggs, in credit on subscriptions. The eggs may be taken to the dealers listed in the Herald ad on page three, where the customer will be given a credit slip, which he may turn in at the Herald office. Read the ad for particulars.

MANY MEN SEEK EMPLOYMENT ON WALLULA CUT-OFF

CONTRACTORS EXPECTED HERE THIS WEEK.

Road Camp Being Set Up at Juniper Spur; Equipment Arriving at Intervals.

At least thirty-five or forty transient laboring men are in Hermiston this week waiting for the work on construction of the Wallula cut-off highway to start. S. H. Newell & Company of Portland were successful bidders on the cut-off job and a camp is now being constructed at Juniper Spur, but Mr. Newell and his associate, Thomas J. Williams are not on the job at present.

Equipment is arriving at intervals and it is thought actual construction will start next week. The contract calls for graveling 8.3 miles from Sand Station to the state line. An oil wearing surface will be laid and two bridges will be constructed. The work will continue over a period of about 12 months and will be completed some time in 1933.

The local relief committee is doing all in its power to obtain work for men who are desperately in need of employment but conditions are such that hundreds of men will be unable to obtain employment.

ALBERT TROPHY AWARDED WALLACE BAKER, STANFIELD.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 28.—(Special.)—The Albert cup, awarded annually to the outstanding student in the University of Oregon graduating class, today went to Wallace Baker of Stanfield. The honor was conferred upon him by 500 of his classmates at a special election. He was one of three candidates for the trophy.

Baker is a senior in economics. At present he is a member of the executive council and has been prominent in student activities for four years. The Albert cup is the gift of Joseph H. Albert, Salem banker. It is awarded each year to the senior who has shown the greatest development along lines of scholarship, character and wholesome influence.

BEAN DESCENDANTS OF CLIFF DWELLERS ARE EXHIBITED.

The following article was taken from the Eugene Register and sent to Mrs. D. D. Follett by her father, R. M. Goodrich.

"Five plump beans, first generation descendants of five other beans that slept in a sealed urn in an Arizona cliff dwelling from some time before the coming of the Spaniards until last year, have been received by R. M. Goodrich, 24 North Jefferson street.

Mr. Goodrich got the beans because his curiosity was aroused by an account in a young people's magazine of the discovery of the beans. He wrote to the author, Ann Ashbury. She turned out to be Odessa Davenport, associate editor of the Arizona Woman. She sent him the five beans, white with dark spots about the germs and appearing almost as though they were enameled.

For want of a better name the beans have been called the Aztec. The five beans found in the urn grew and the ones sent Mr. Goodrich were from the first crop. Mr. Goodrich will plant three of the beans in a hot bed at his home and will send the others to a nephew living near Los Angeles, he said.

The beans will be on display this week at stall 3 in the Producers Public market under the watchful eye of Mr. Goodrich's daughter, Mrs. Nellie London.

Ratiff Home Burns.

The H. W. Ratiff home on the Butter Creek highway at the edge of town was destroyed by fire some two weeks ago. Friday, May 13, Mr. and Mrs. Ratiff were asleep when the smoke aroused them. The fire was thought caused by a defective flue. The loss was covered by insurance. Mr. and Mrs. Ratiff are now camped near the Allen place.

FREE GAS COOKING SCHOOL CLASSES SCHEDULED JUNE 9-10

FREE DOOR PRICES OF FINE FOOD WILL BE OFFERED.

Mrs. Grace Sanders, Noted Economist Will Give Away New Recipes; Cooking Demonstration.

In the Hermiston Auditorium, Thursday and Friday, June 9 and 10, tasty recipes and gas cooking "that can save an hour a day" will be demonstrated by Mrs. Grace Sanders, noted home economist for Standard Oil Company of California. She will give away new original recipes and offer free door prizes of fine foods.

"To every home in town or miles out, Standard Home Gas brings all the gas conveniences 4 out of 5 city families use," says Mrs. Sanders. "Our cooking schools show how whole-family meals can be prepared in half the time taken with other fuels."

"Now that natural gas is being stored in steel cylinders and delivered everywhere, there is no reason why every kitchen shouldn't be as efficient and as colorful and attractive as the newest city apartment," Mrs. Sanders demonstrates how insulated gas ovens keep intense heat on food, and away from the cook. She has found a way to take the worry out of baking. She sets her gas oven-heat regulator to just the right temperature and then forgets her pies and cakes until they are done to a turn. As an invaluable piece of kitchen strategy, she presents her audience with the secret of heating the clock and pleasing men-folks when dinner is started late. "Ups" ranges are lightning cooks, and the only wood you ever need to carry is a match," Mrs. Sanders tells her cooking classes.

"The display of modern gas appliances at the Standard Home Cooking School also gives local house-keepers the opportunity to see how any kitchen may be cheered and brightened up with gas ranges in the new designs and colors prescribed by leading interior decorators.

"I started cooking in the open beside a covered wagon, and now I've got a shining gas range and a kitchen as bright as a fairground booth," one great-grandmother told Mrs. Sanders. One city comfort after another came to this pioneer lady.

Now at 2:00 o'clock Thursday and 7:30 p. m. Friday, local house-keepers are cordially invited to meet Mrs. Sanders and see her demonstrations of city gas cooking for homes where gas is not available.

Mrs. C. E. Frank of Ione, Oregon, died Friday, May 24, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hobart Helm in Columbia district, following an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Frank was 54 years of age and had not been well for more than a year, but pneumonia was the immediate cause of her death. She had come to stay with her daughter while taking treatments from Dr. A. E. Marble.

Huge Strawberries Grown.

A choice lot of Early Oregon strawberries which had been grown on the A. W. Turnblad farm, west of town, were on display in the window at the Herald office Tuesday. "Seventeen berries completely filled a shallow 6x16 box. The berries were ripened evenly and excellent flavor.

ALONG THE CONCRETE

George Wadner says that we can give all the extra his phone number now as his wife is planning on leaving him for a while.

It won't be long until most Legionnaires will be in Portland and the "There ain't no wives with us," only to have the time changed soon when they are reminded that she is.

A reward is being offered by the Herald force for the person who secured the largest chestnut strawberry from the box on display in the window Tuesday. R. C. Tolson promised to keep an eye on them but there were too many admirers for that admiration to be sincere.

If a business earned $600 a month last year and is only earning $100 a month this year, what difference does the depression make. We never have anything anyway. Even Father has a headache from trying to balance the budget as the family may take a vacation trip this summer.

Today's headache, tomorrow's memory! Like the chap who hid away in the attic or in the cellar to smoke his first cigar. We all have a headache now when we remember the days of prosperity.
