ple, Falls City; C. H. Mode of Independence, and W. D. Henry of Zena, reports County Agent J. R. Beck, who obtained the plants for the men. The Redheart strawberry, Mr. Beck says, has come into considerable prominence in eastern United States, and is highly recommended by Dr. George Darrow, in charge of small fruit investigational work in the Pacific Northwest for the U. S. department of agriculture. ROSEBURG—A unified premium list for all community fairs of the county is being worked out by the Douglas county fair board, according to County Agent J. C. Leedy, county agent, who has been cooperating with a committee composed of Willard Smith, Glide; A. W. Caswell, Myrtle Creek; C. C. Hill, Days Creek, and Wesley Meredith, looking Glass, in making up such a booklet. LA GRAND—N. K. West of La Grand recently disposed of 30 tons of certified Markton seed oats to the Equity Cooperative association of Malta, Mont., at a price of 630 per ton. The sale was arranged through County Agent H. G. Avery, and was a follow-up order on six cars of Markton oats from Union county sold to this concern in 1931. The Markton variety originated at the Moro branch experiment station.

NEW HAY GRADES TO BE IN FORCE IN OREGON.

Extra care in handling alfalfa hay this year will probably pay good returns to Oregon farmers this year in view of the recently adopted United States hay grades in Oregon for alfalfa mixtures, timothy, and clover, and mixtures of these with various grass hays, says D. D. Hill, associate agronomist at the Oregon State college experiment station.

Under a plan adopted by the state department of agriculture in cooperation with the federal hay inspection service, terminal grading and inspection will be provided this year at Portland and shipping point inspection on the Klamath Falls and Hermiston regions, and probably elsewhere if enough demand for it develops.

"Hay grades as they are applied now are entirely workable and indicate feeding quality remarkably well," says Hill. "The feeder who buys hay on standard contract grade can be assured of uniform quality, something that coast dairy feeders especially have long been seeking. As soon as buyers become familiar with the different grades the better types are almost certain to command a premium."

Color and leafiness are the two chief characteristics of high grade alfalfa hay, says Hill, for the reason that good color nearly always indicates cutting at the proper time and other good harvesting methods, while leafiness means that the hay is carrying a high percentage of protein for which alfalfa hay is widely sought.

"The first step in the production of alfalfa hay with good color and good leaves is to cut early," Hill continued. "Hay cut anytime from the bud stage to one-tenth to one-quarter bloom will usually have good color. Continued cutting in the bud stage will usually weaken the stand, so it is best to allow at least one cutting per year to reach a stage corresponding to one-tenth to one-quarter bloom."

"A number of other practices in curing and stacking or baling are important in maintaining high feeding quality and consequently high grades. A series of meetings to acquaint hay growers, feeders and dealers with the new grades are planned through the state in the next week or so."

Mr. James W. Gerard, at one time minister to Germany, is reported as saying that the citizens of the United States spend $285,000,000 a year in Canada for liquor. Now it happens unfortunately for Mr. Gerard, that Canada's sales of liquor to all purchasers are recorded. The Northwestern Christian Advocate took the trouble to check upon Mr. Gerard, and discovers that "Canada's sales of liquor to all purchasers to their own people, and to the people of Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, South America, and the United States," amount to $194,000,000. In short, remarks the Advocate, "Mr. Gerard is about 200 per cent off in his figures, but what is that to the antagonists of the prohibition law?"

IN OREGON HOMES WILLOWS—Advice to use a spar varnish on my drainboards was the thing I appreciated most of all in the "short cut" letters received from Mrs. Zeita Rodenwald, extension specialist in home management, Corvalis, says a homemaker of this community. "First I used a good sandpaper and got my boards clean and smooth. I let the varnish dry thoroughly before applying the second and third coats and I used a very fine sandpaper lightly before each coat. Now my boards are like glass and easily kept clean. I also put spar varnish on top of my breakfast work table. It saves cloths and I like it better."

MEDFORD—Recreation material furnished by the recreation division of the home economics extension service has been used in 377 meetings during the past year, according to the report of Mrs. Lee Port, member of the Jackson county advisory committee. This material includes songs, music appreciation, games, folk dances, skits, stunts and dramatics.
