ANNUAL UMATILLA PROJECT FAIR IS HUGE SUCCESS

TWENTIETH ANNUAL EVENT ATTRACTS VISITORS.

Entries in Various Divisions Are Best in Years; Competition Keen in Farm Produce Division.

Some of the finest displays ever seen here at the Umatilla Project Fair were shown Friday and Saturday, October 7-8, in the new exhibit building which has been erected as a permanent display building. The attendance Saturday was much larger than anticipated.

The farm produce exhibits showed fine quality and were arranged attractively. Individual display prizes were awarded to Mrs. S. L. Carson, first; Mrs. F. H. Reika, Irigoin, second; Mrs. S. Koppach, third; Mrs. A. W. Turnblad, fourth; and Mrs. A. W. Turnblad, fifth.

The flower division under the supervision of Mrs. Henry Ott made a wonderful showing of fall flowers. More space for display will be necessary for another year. Mrs. H. J. Ott won first on general display; Mrs. T. Steward second; Mrs. A. W. Turnblad first on mixed bouquet; and Mrs. T. Steward second.

Entries in the dairy division were not as large as previously but included Jersey, Holstein, Brown Swiss and beef breeds. L. C. Dyer was awarded champion ribbon on a female Jersey. Records were taken from the Umatilla Herd Improvement association. A Guernsey bull, under two years, owned by Wm. Coppock of Adams, was awarded champion ribbon in that division.

A registered Jersey bull, senior, owned by Roy Atchery, was awarded champion and grand champion ribbon. The grand champion cow in the open class was owned by Wm. Coppock. Entries in the poultry department were heavy this year, especially in the turkey division. Lack of adequate space does not permit the mention of every prize winner but first and second prizes in the best type tournament to W. G. Webber and Logan Todd, bronze turkeys. The Todd show bird is of the Bird Brother's strain and was purchased at the Oakland, Or., turkey show. Considerable interest was shown in the judging this year and both turkey and poultry growers observed O. Paulson judge. The market type bird stood in favor with the growers.

Judging and placing of classes was on the program Friday with H. C. Ayres of La Grande judging the dairy division; Chas. Smith of Heppner the 4-H club work; Miss Cowgill of Corvallis, women's department; and O. L. Paulson of Portland, judging the poultry.

Two 100 per cent 4-H girl's clubs displayed at the fair, one the "Snappy Stitches" club under the leadership of Mrs. Jess Richards of Stanfield, and the other, "We Can Canning" club under the leadership of Mrs. Wm. Hineline of Hermiston. Each gave two demonstrations with the Hermiston girls winning first and third and the Stanfield girls winning second. The Hermiston club was pronounced the most outstanding girl's club for the year. Scholarship winners for the most outstanding 4-H club girl will be announced later.

During the football game plays were announced through the courtesy of Mooretone Sound Service of the Oasis theatre.

A school display was arranged by the seventh and eighth grade pupils of the Echo school under the direction of Miss Margaret Neary. Wicker work, book ends, metal carvings, and paintings touched with bright colors, all made by the students, were shown. The craftsmanship was exceptional and the students and teachers are to be congratulated on such a fine display.

MAMMA BEAR AND THE THREE LITTLE BEARS.

A car carrying one mamma bear and three young cubs came through town today. The game had been shot by Lloyd and Glenn Aldrich of Irigoin who had been deer hunting on Desolation creek south of Umatilla. The cubs scattered some but the hunters were able to get them all by shooting those at distant range first. One cub climbed a tree but was added to the game when he came down.

James D. Carter.

James D. Carter was born in Clinton, Missouri, December 19, 1844, and passed away at Hermiston, Or., October 2, 1932. He was one of the pioneers of Willamette valley having crossed the plains by ox team with his parents when still a lad.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret Wood Carter, three daughters, Mrs. Lois C. Blum, Hermiston, Ore., Mrs. Laura C. Morris, Hermiston, Ore., Mrs. Lillian D. Pressnall, Baker, Ore., and one son, A. L. Carter, Hermiston, Oregon, three grandchildren, Lynne V. Blum, Jerome, Arizona, Mrs. R. E. Cate, Baker, Or., and Pauline Morris, Hermiston, Ore.

In his early life he was engaged in farming in West Chehalis valley and later became a pioneer merchant of Newberg, Ore. In 1900 he moved to Baker, Ore., where he farmed and mined on a small scale.

For the past ten years, during which time he has been in declining health, he has made his home with his son A. L. Carter on North Hill, near Hermiston. He was associated with the Woodman of the World for more than forty years.

As husband, father, and friend he exemplified the loyal and helpful type standing for right standards and high ideals. His motto was, "A rose to the living is more than countless wreaths to the dead."

Interment was made at Newberg, Oregon.

STANFIELD NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Connor had as their house guests over the week end Mr. Connor's mother and sister, Mrs. Anna Connor of Pilot Rock, and Andrew Harvey of Pendleton.

O. M. Hooster, who has been ill at his home for the past ten days, is reported to be slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Connor and daughter Dolores and son Lee spent Sunday at the Cook home in Gibbon. Mrs. Cook was formerly Mrs. C. W. Priegnitz.

Helen Connor, a member of the class of 1932, has been pledged to Alpha Chi Omega at Oregon State 4-H Club News.

The past week has been a busy one in 4-H circles as each member prepared an exhibit for the Umatilla Project Fair. The clubs made a good showing and many awards were won.

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM OUTLINED COMMERCIAL CLUB

SEVEN POSTS INCLUDED IN DISTRICT NO. 6.

District Commander J. E. Hallyburton Tells of Program, Parade Barbecue, Football, Dance.

At the regular meeting of the Hermiston Commercial club Tuesday J. E. Hallyburton, commander of district No. 6 for the American Legion, told of plans for a district Legion Armistice Day celebration to be held in Hermiston November 11.

Representatives from Milton, Freewater, Athena, Pendleton, Arlington, Heppner and Condon will be present. Mr. Hallyburton said, "which will bring several hundred people to the city that day."

Mr. Hallyburton urged that all local civic organizations correspond with outside towns and urge that they be represented at the celebration. A local committee consisting of a member from all local organizations has been appointed.

Mr. Hallyburton continued by saying that a program in keeping with the day would be worked out and would be followed by a barbecue. A football game between the Heppner high school and Hermiston high school teams will be staged on the local field. The parade will probably be led by the Irigoin band. In the evening there will be a dance in the auditorium, Mr. Hallyburton said.

O. O. Felthouse, president of the club, expressed the sanction of the members for the plan by saying that the Legion could depend upon the cooperation of the Commercial club. A unanimous vote favoring this action was taken by members present, including W. W. Felthouse, Dr. A. W. Christopherson, W. J. Warner, H. J. Sommerer, Ben Gerking, Jess Richards, J. A. Clarke, H. T. Fraser, R. A. Brownson, Harry Kelley, and Al Quiring.

President Felthouse then expressed his impressions of the Umatilla Project Fair this year as being one of the best the project has ever put on. He stated that the spirit of cooperation was splendid and that it was necessary for a community of this size to have a constructive program of this kind.

MRS. W. J. DOBLER TELLS OF ACCIDENT THAT TOOK HUSBAND.

Word from Mrs. W. J. Dobler of Baton Rouge tells of the accident on the Mississippi river that took the life of her husband, Capt. W. J. Dobler, who was at one time a resident of Hermiston. The breaking of a chain which held one of two loaded barges to the Steamer Staxdard, towboat of the Standard Oil company, was blamed by Captain E. F. Wiek, head of the refinery's lighterage department, for the overturning of the vessel and the drowning of five members of her crew.

The body of Capt. Dobler has not been found. He is survived by his wife, who was in Burns when the news of the accident was received, three sons, Dan of Hynds, Calif., Richard, a seaman, now on a boat between Port Arthur and New York, and Joseph, a seaman, now in China.

LOCAL COUPLE MARRIED AT ATTRACTIVE HOME WEDDING

At an attractive home wedding Sunday evening, October 9, Miss Ruth Bessel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bessel, became the bride of Mr. Walter M. Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pearson, at the home of the groom's parents.

The bride couple and their attendants stood between two large bouquets of flowers while Rev. O. W. Payne, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was charming in a white satin, toe length gown, with a red beaded girle and draped neck line. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds and lavender and white everlasting flowers.

Miss Florence Pearson, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid. She wore a yellow net gown over tulle and carried yellow chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

George McKenzie acted as best man. Miss Bessel is a graduate of the Hermiston Union high school and took a very active part in school activities. She was a member of the debate team that won the state championship in 1929 and was very active in dramatics, glee club, and basketball. She attended the Eastern Oregon Normal for one year.

Mr. Pearson is a graduate of the local high school and will be associated with his father in the Black & White Service Station.

The young couple left immediately following the reception on a honeymoon trip to Portland. They are expected to return the last of the week and will make their home in the Osborn apartments.

OLD MAN PORTER SAYS

"That this is in no sense Retrogression because it builds the mind. Civilization of today is standing on the very threshold of Retrogression, and it is being counseled by the high lights of political economy to universally practice the most rigid economy in the household, in the municipality, in the state, and in the government. Were this to be done—but it will not—the law of Retrogression would prevail, and not only civilization would fail, but civilized men would be without work and man would be compelled to resort to arms to obtain the necessities of life. The following is the law of Retrogression:

27. The abridgment of choice, made to appear a Natural desire, is inversely proportional to the product of work performed, and is directly proportional to the square of the resistance to be overcome by work.

28. That, the law of attraction is, for this reason, if the whole were not made up of agreeing individual parts the whole world be without the power of repulsion. As the agreeing individual parts constituting a whole, are products because of the union of the two opposing forces, then the whole being composed of these agreeing individual parts, must have like electric impulses, and the individual parts unlike electric impulses. Unlike electric impulses is the creative principle, and the like electric impulses is the mean through which the activities of the electric impulses are kept in balance to correspond with the progression of creation.

COMPETITION KEEN IN UMATILLA HERD IMPROVEMENT ASS'N.

ALBERT KENNINGS TAKES OVER DUTIES OF TESTER.

High Test Cow Averages 74.4 Lbs. Fat; Lowest Test Only 42.0; 17 Listed on Honor Roll.

Albert Kennings of Hermiston took over the duties of tester for the Umatilla Herd Improvement association this month filling the vacancy left by the resignation of S. H. Stojar. The report for the month of September shows the L. C. Dyer herd running close with two other herds for first place in its class. H. J. Reid's herd and A. R. Coppock & Son's herd are topping the lists for high herd in their division.

Thirty-one herds were on test during the month of September with 532 cows enrolled of which 95 were dry. Total milk production was 247,240 and total fat production was 11,449.1 pounds. Forty-six cows averaged 40 pounds of fat.

The two high cows in the association for the month were Ada, pure bred 3-year-old Jersey, owned by E. O. S. H. averaging 1235 lbs. milk containing 74.4 lbs. fat, and Buttercup grade mature Guernsey owned by A. R. Coppock & Son averaging 1260 lbs. milk containing 61.7 lbs fat.

High herds to date for the eighth month since the beginning of the testing year included:

Owner	Breed	No.	Milk	Fat
EOSH, J&H		64	5564.4	233.6
C Lynch, H		40	6413.6	237.2
C.E. Smiley, PBJ		15	4672.0	247.5
C. Anderson, Mxd.		17	5160.6	227.7
L. C. Dyer, PBJ		9	4712.8	258.4
H. B. Reese, PBJ		7	4297.0	237.3

Seventeen cows were listed on the honor roll for the month.

OPERATORS' AND CHAUFFEURS' LICENSES EXAMS WILL BE GIVEN

Al J. Rousseau, state examiner for operators' and chauffeurs' licenses, will again be in Hermiston Tuesday, October 18, at the Hermiston library between 9:00 A. M. and 4:00 P. M.

Persons desiring the Oregon Motorist's Manual, which includes questions and answers from 1931 edition motor vehicle laws of the state of Oregon, may obtain them at the Herald office or the library. Both written and oral examinations are given and also a driving test.

Hamman Home On Furlough.

Harry Hamman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hamman, is visiting home folks while on a 30-day furlough from the navy. Mr. Hamman came here from Mare Island which is just off the coast at Vallejo, California. Mr. Hamman attended high school in Hermiston several years ago and was a student when he joined the navy.

ESTRAY NOTICE.

One sorrel mare, 9 year old, brand G on left shoulder. Lost Friday, October 7, near Boardman. Erskine Lahue, Boardman. 7-31p

NUMBER 13 IS LUCK FOR FAIR EXHIBITOR.

Baxter Hutchison is said to especially favor the number 13 since he entered 13 exhibits at the Umatilla Project Fair on entry No. 13, and won 13 prizes totaling $13 in cash money.

This is a record that not every exhibitor has the privilege of making and Mr. Hutchison seems to favor the unlucky number now.

LEGION PCST COMMANDER AWARDED "PURPLE HEART"

O. K. Mudge, commander of the American Legion Post No. 37, was awarded the "Purple Heart" medal. The award is made to any World War veteran who was wounded while in the service and was introduced during the time of George Washington. The custom lapsed for a number of years but was renewed again during 1931 by the war department. There are two more members of the local post who are eligible for the award.

PARENTS OF LOCAL RESIDENTS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

The parents of Mrs. Ralph Richards of Butter Creek, and George Harkerider of Hermiston celebrated their golden wedding anniversary two weeks ago Sunday at their home in Estacada, Or., at which occasion both Mrs. Richards and Mr. Harkerider were present.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Harkerider were married in Rosita, Colo., October 3, 1882. Mr. Harkerider was born in Fort Wayne, Ind., March 5, 1859, and Mrs. Harkerider was born in Elbing, Germany, July 13, 1860. Nine children were born, eight of whom are living. All were present at the celebration. They are: Mrs. J. Paulsen, Estacada; Mrs. A. A. Paulsen, Portland; Mrs. W. J. Paulson, Portland; Mrs. Ralph Richards, Hermiston, Or.; Mrs. William Honegger, Multnomah, Or.; George W. Harkerider, Hermiston, Or.; Mrs. R. H. O'Neill, Bucoda, Wa.; Miss Edith Harkerider, Estacada.

Mr. and Mrs. Harkerider were privileged to have three guests present who attended their wedding 50 years ago. The guests were Mrs. Tom Blackburn of Oregon City, William Snyder of Gervais and Frank Chetalet of Portland. In addition to the members of the family there were 130 guests.

PICKLED PEACHES CANNED IN 1895 EXHIBITED AT FAIR

A quart jar of sweet pickled peaches which were canned in 1895, 37 years ago, was exhibited at the Umatilla Project Fair last Friday and Saturday. The peaches were grown on Birch Creek by Mrs. Amy Lee and canned by Mrs. Wm. Rhoads, now of the Hermiston project. The fruit seemed to have held its color and remained firm.

"BIRD OF PARADISE" CALLS TO THE WILD

Who hasn't dreamed of "going native"? Or of hiding away to some verdant tropical isle, where the sun always shines and the breezes are balmy?

This is the kind of island, and the kind of life pictured by "Bird of Paradise", the RKO-Radio production with Dolores Del Rio and Joel McCrea at the Oasis theatre.

Once nearly every island in the South Pacific offered this sort of an existence. The record presented by the photoplay is about all that's left, according to King Vidor who produced the film.

HERMISTON GRID BATTLES FOR WIN IN SATURDAY'S GAME

SEVERAL MEN OUT FOR ATHENA GAME HERE FRIDAY.

Excellent Team Work and Invincible Fighting Spirit Wins Game Here Saturday.

After emerging victorious from the football game with Pilot Rock, 12-0, which was played here before a large fair day crowd, Saturday, the Hermiston high football team is preparing to play host to the Athena eleven here, Friday, October 14. The Athena team defeated the Bulldogs earlier in the season 6-0.

The stores will be closed from 2:30 to 4:00 o'clock Friday for the game.

The Bulldog team will be weakened by the loss of several players, who were injured in the Pilot Rock game, but Hermiston will be out for revenge when the whistle blows Friday. The Athena team won the previous game by a long pass, while the Bulldogs are said to have been the stronger on end runs and line plays.

During the first quarter of the game here Saturday neither team was able to make yardage; both teams lost the ball several times due to fumbles. The second quarter, however, brought out the Bulldog's power. Having succeeded in putting the pigskin on Pilot Rock's 20 yard line by a long kick by Stewart the Bulldogs held the Rockets two plays "or no gain." On the Pilot Rocks third down Hermiston recovered a fumble and in the following play Hamman went for a touchdown after plowing through the line. Try for goal failed.

During the third quarter Hunt intercepted a Pilot Rock pass on the 29 yard line and on the next play made a wide end run which, due to perfect blocking, was good for a touchdown.

The Pilot Rock game was won by excellent team work and invincible fighting spirit; the same qualities, always the Bulldog's chief asset, are depended on to win the Athena game.

ONE TIME HERMISTON RESIDENT DIES AT LONGVIEW, WN.

Byron J. Ghent, 56, formerly of Portland, died at his Longview home Saturday, October 7, following several months illness of heart disease. Mr. Ghent owned and operated the store now known as Kingsley's about 16 years ago and will be remembered by many Hermiston residents. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. A. I. Ghent; a son, Byron D., and a brother, Blake Ghent, in Canada.

Mr. Ghent moved to Portland from California in 1922, remaining there until 1924, when he came to Longview. About 18 months ago he again returned to Portland, but was forced to give up his agency there in April of this year when his health failed.

ALONG THE CONCRETE

Candidates were buzzing about as thick as mosquitos in the summer time during the Umatilla Project Fair Friday and Saturday. Their bite may be just as affective.

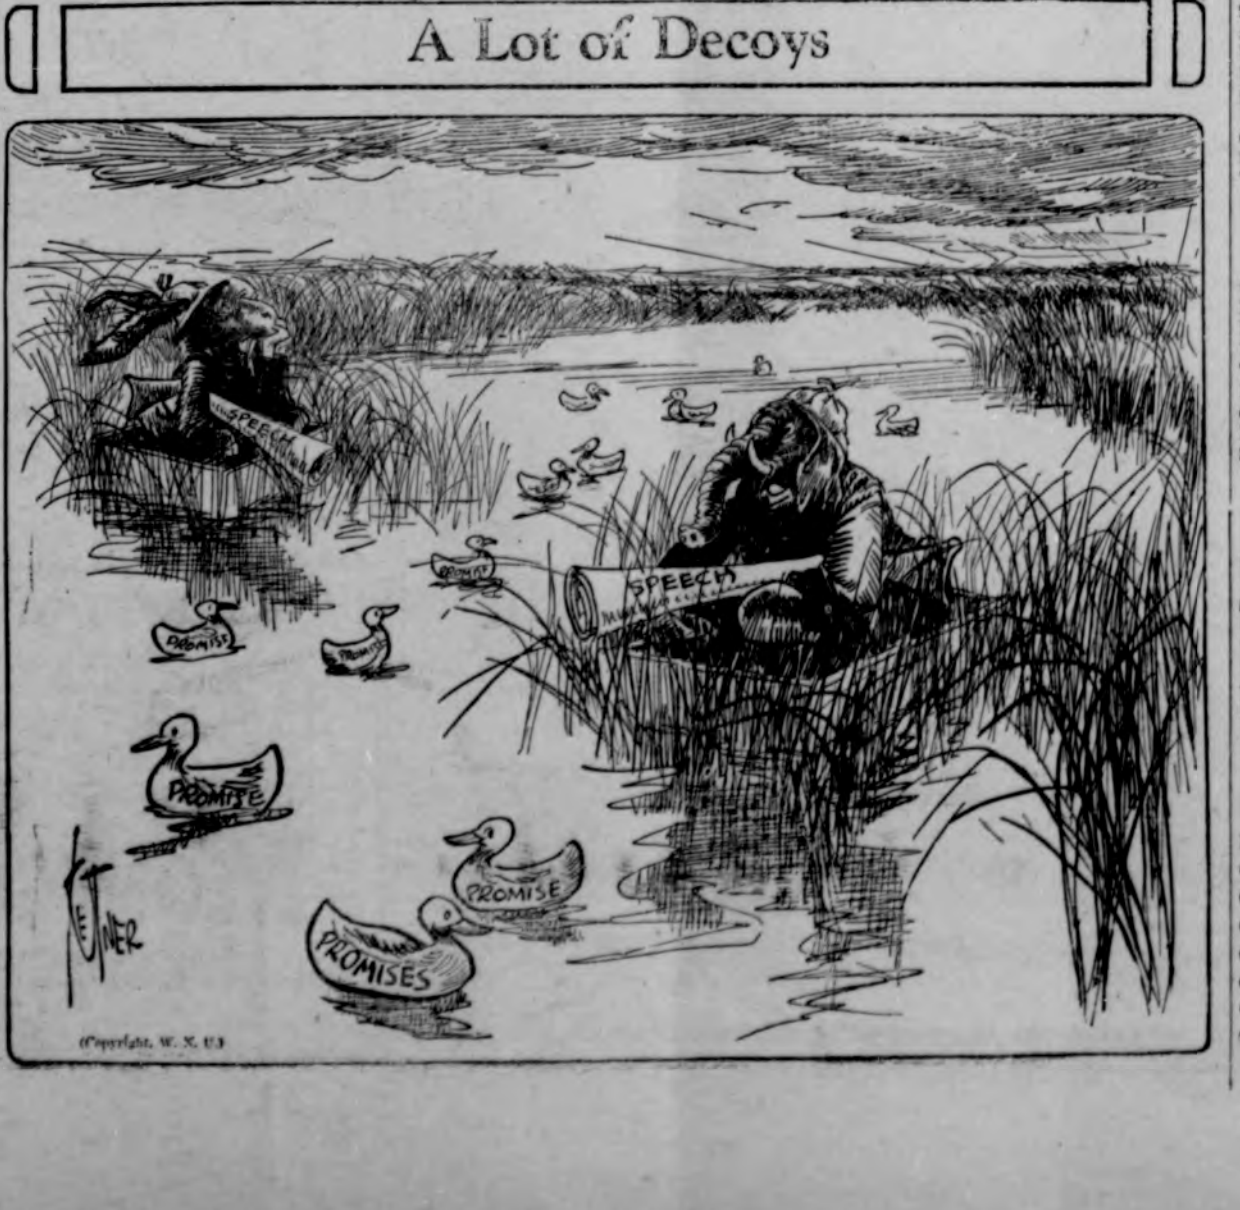

Garnet D. Best was seen trying to outwit two contrary Shetland ponies the first of the week but from reports they are still at large. Even the Ford couldn't overtake them.

If you want to take some walking exercise it might be possible to get in on the 7:30 A. M. hike that start from Stewart's Service Station. Further information can be obtained from the McDames, Walker, White, O'Grady, and Shaar.

M. L. Watson was carrying a large roll of copper tubing around in his ice truck one day this week. Could Mr. Watson have been lead to believe that the eighteenth amendment has already been repealed.

Who says our advocating that Hermiston have a Legion convention has not had its effect? Our proposed district Armistice day celebration proves our point.

A salesman who was seen entering our office yesterday hesitated for a fraction of a second just before entering the door and glanced at a small "No Hunting on these Premises" sign displayed in the window and his sense of humor got the better of him. He burst into gales of laughter. At first we were at a loss to know the reason for such merriment but after he inquired if the sign applied to this office we caught the point. Of course, being a licensed goods salesman he probably rather expected to see such signs in every place of business he entered but had never actually had such an experience before. I think we will just leave the sign there. It might put other gentlemen in the same line of business in the right frame of mind before the questioning starts.
