PROGRAM MADE FOR DISTRICT ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION

DON MCCLOUD OF HOOD RIVER WILL DELIVER ADDRESS.

Free Barbecue Served at Fair Grounds Following Game; 400 Visitors Expected.

A committee consisting of a representative from every local farm and civic organization met in the office of Assistant County Agent Best Monday afternoon to make tentative plans for a district Armistice Day celebration to be held here November 11th. J. E. Hallyburton, American Legion commander for district No. 6, has been working for the joint district celebration and has been assured of cooperation from every Legion Post in the district.

A program was arranged which will consist of a parade, community singing, and an address. Don McCloud of Hood River, will deliver the Armistice day message at 1:00 o'clock. Following the parade at 12:30 the program will start. A football game will be played at 2:00 o'clock between the Heppner and Hermiston high school elevens.

Preparations are being made for a free barbecue which will be served in the new exhibit building on the grounds, immediately following the football game. This will be open to the public. Henry Sommerer has charge of these preparations and says that one beef and one hog will be barbecued to serve the 400 expected visitors.

If weather conditions permit the program for the day will be held on the fair grounds. A small admission charge will be made to the grounds which will entitle visitors to all privileges while there.

Harry Kelley, who has charge of the parade, is anxious that all fraternal, civic, farm, and religious organizations have a part and are represented with a group in the parade. The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are asked especially to participate. Any group wishing to take part may get in touch with Mr. Kelley as soon as possible.

The committee hopes to engage the services of the Heppner band (Continued on last page)

SCHOOL NOTES

Members of the student body are planning a Halloween party to be held Saturday evening at the auditorium. A small entrance fee will be charged to cover expenses.

The Echo high school football team defeated the Hermiston second team for the second time, here, last Monday by a 7-0 score.

Iva Romig has enrolled in the high school as a member of the junior class. She formerly lived at Cottonwood, Idaho, and now makes her home with Miss Esther Sibert.

FUNERAL RITES SAID FOR CHESTER WRIGHT FRIDAY

The last rites and respects were said to Chester Wright, one-time resident of Hermiston and step father of Mrs. J. G. Sage, Friday afternoon at the Hermiston cemetery as his body was laid to rest by the side of his wife, Rev. O. W. Payne read the service.

Mr. Wright, 84, died at the home of his son, Eugene Wright, in The Dalles, Thursday, Oct. 20, following an illness of a week.

Mr. Wright built the house west of town which is now occupied by W. H. Klages, and will be remembered by many pioneer residents.

Friends and members of the family attending the funeral from The Dalles include Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wright; Mr. and Mrs. Darnelle, and Mr. and Mrs. Koontz.

FORMER HERMISTON RESIDENT PASSES AWAY IN CALIFORNIA

Mrs. W. F. Smith passed away at the General Hospital in Bakersfield, Calif., October 5, of cerebral hemorrhage. Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Corwin Chamberlain, one of the pioneer settlers of the Hermiston Project.

Mrs. Smith came to Hermiston with her family in 1910 where she resided until 1916 when they moved to California. She was born in Marietta, Ohio, January 13, 1878.

The deceased is survived by her husband, W. F. Smith, and two sons, Ellsworth E. and Chester N. Smith both of Bakersfield, Calif., and four sisters, Mrs. Thos. D. Worster and Mrs. John N. Smith, both of Santa Paula, Calif.; Mrs. C. R. Hiatt, Oildale, Calif.; and Mrs. L. B. Smith, Taft, Calif.

FOOTBALL TEAM TO PLAY WAITSBURG, THERE, FRIDAY

Friday the Hermiston high football team takes the road to Waitsburg where they will play the Waitsburg team. Hermiston will have real opposition from the Washington team which defeated the strong Kennewick eleven recently. Hermiston lost the game played with Heppner, there, last Friday by a 6-0 score. Heppner's lone score against the local team resulted from a 55-yard punt return.

Bruce Case Dismissed.

Upon motion of plaintiff for a voluntary non-suit in the case of Sylvia Bruce, etc., against Charles Taylor, et al, of Hermiston, Calvin L. Sweek of the circuit court has ordered that plaintiff's complaint be dismissed. It is further ordered that the defendants, Charles and Lois Taylor, J. B. Hutchison, Don Rothen and the City of Hermiston, have judgment against plaintiff for their disbursements incurred in this action. The complaint was filed August 4, 1932. Damages of $20,000 were asked for injuries received in an automobile accident at Hermiston. Attorneys for plaintiff are Raley, Raley & Warner, Fee & Randall are attorneys for defendants.

Chosen First Soprano.

Oregon State College, Corvallis, Oct. 26.—Mary Brownson of Hermiston, freshman at Oregon State college, has been chosen as a first soprano of Madrigal club, women's chorus of the college.

Prof. Paul Petri, instructor in music and director of the chorus, has planned a varied program for this year's work and rehearsals are to begin immediately.

Confectionery Renovated.

The Mullen Confectionery is being renovated this week with a new coat of paint and calcomine. Childs Barham is doing the work.

The office building on the former Umatilla Experiment farm is being moved to the new site south of town this week. It has taken several days to make the change.

POLITICS CREATE INTEREST FOR COMMERCIAL CLUB

HOOVER WINS PRESIDENTIAL STRAW POLL 16-7.

I. M. Schanep, County Judge, Addresses Meeting Concerning County Road Construction Work.

At the regular monthly evening meeting of the Hermiston Commercial club held at the Hermiston Hotel Tuesday, extensive plans for the Armistice Day celebration program as outlined by the committee in charge were accepted. In addition to the members already named on the committee, Lloyd Moore was placed in charge of publicity and Henry Sommerer was placed in charge of barbecue.

O. O. Felthouse, president of the club, added that the success "of this endeavor depend upon the support given it by the community."

A presidential straw poll was held as a feature of the evening; after the cigar smoke had cleared from the field of contention, Hoover was found to lead Roosevelt 16-7. E. P. Dodd immediately took advantage of the situation by distributing Hoover pins among the members.

Mr. Felthouse appointed J. A. Clarke and R. H. McAtee to represent the Commercial club as members of the relief committee this winter.

Mr. Felthouse then introduced I. M. Schanep, present county judge, now candidate for Circuit Judge of the 6th Judicial District, who spoke concerning the surfacing work which will take place this winter on the road from the Wallula cut-off through Hermiston to Heppner. Work on the road, according to Mr. Schanep, is in accordance with the county road and relief work program. Efforts of local men in 1923 were given credit for the initiation of this road by Mr. Schanep, who also reported that the new road would be along practically the same route as the existing survey. Credit was also given members of the local relief committee, who were Bert Nation, H. A. Pankow, and J. A. Clarke, for the splendid work which they did last winter. In closing Mr. Schanep added that he thought county road funds had been evenly distributed among the different sections of the county, and that he was glad to report the county out of debt.

Shesleys Return.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Shesley returned to Hermiston Wednesday of last week after spending the summer months on the north fork of the John Day river at Susanville, Or. Mr. Shesley did some placer mining and says that he made more than wages during his stay. They plan to stay in Hermiston this winter.

OREGON JUDGING TEAM WINS HIGH DAIRY HONORS

Agricultural students at Oregon State college apparently know their cows and their butter, as the judging teams at the Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland "cleaned up" all competition in these divisions.

The dairy cattle judging team was composed of Harold Finnegan, Forest Grove; Kenneth Carl, Arago, and Donald Sherwood, Nyssa, and coached by Dr. I. R. Jones. This team made the highest average score for all breeds as well as taking first in Holstein and Jersey classes.

The dairy products judging team consisted of Marvin Davidson, Haynes; Bert O'Donnell, Portland, and Finnegan, who worked on both teams. It won first in butter judging, and Davidson took second individual honors for all products.

MACMARR STORE NOW MANAGED BY LOCAL BOY

A change in the management of the MacMarr store was made last week and Herbert Hedwall, who worked in the local store before being transferred to Pendleton this spring, is handling the business for the company, assisted by Floyd O'Kelley, Ben Gerking, former manager, will move his family to Pendleton the first of next week, where they will make their home for the present.

Mr. Hedwall is a local boy and a graduate of the Hermiston Union High school. Although Hermiston residents regret the loss of Mr. and Mrs. Gerking, they join in wishing the new manager success in his work here.

REBEKAH 1933 CONVENTION WILL BE HELD IN HERMISTON

Delegates who attended the Rebekah district convention at Athena Tuesday, October 25, returned with the news that the 1933 convention would be held in Hermiston. Mrs. Walter Monde was elected delegate from the local lodge and she was accompanied by Mrs. Geo. Harkeholder, Mrs. Yura Lehart, Mrs. Gerald White, and Mrs. Gwyn Hughes.

Mrs. Mead reported that approximately 21 registrations were recorded at the morning session and 125 at the evening session.

ADDITION OF MEAT MARKET AIDS BUSINESS

The addition of the meat market in the Burnham General Mercantile Co. store has stimulated business, according to J. S. Burnham. The Super-Cold refrigeration is the latest equipment available and is becoming more popular every day for use in meat markets.

Meat was sold from the market for the first time last week.

CAREFUL EGG HANDLING PAYS 20 PER CENT BONUS

MONEY VALUE SEEN IN CARING FOR EGGS ONCE PRODUCED.

Local Man Plans to Build Egg Cooling Room for Care of Next Summer's Egg Production.

Visitors at the state fair poultry booth prepared by the poultry department of Oregon State college had presented a graphic example of the money value in caring for eggs once they are produced.

Carnet D. Best, assistant county agent, has pointed out to growers here the advantage of having an egg storage room for proper cooling of eggs during the summer months, and the following experiment carried out by the Oregon State college shows that a profit can be made by proper egg handling.

Two cases of eggs were taken from actual receipts of a large egg receiving station and without any juggling were graded out as they must be to be marketed. These two 30-dozen cases were found to vary so much in quality that on a basis of 20c per dozen for extras, the crate shipped by the one man was worth only $4.57 while the other was worth $5.58, or a premium amounting to more than 20 per cent.

The first crate was found to contain 19 dozen extras at 20c, 7 dozen standards at 18c, and 4 dozen mediums at 13c. The second crate, which doubtless cost just as much to produce and certainly represented just as much feed cost, only had 2 dozen extras, 8 dozen standards, 11 dozen firsts at 15c, 6 dozen mediums and 6 dozen undergrades worth only 10c per dozen.

The one factor of storing in a cool place before shipment has been found to account for much of this gain in quality, while other ordinary management details were responsible for the rest in this and other instances.

J. W. McMullen, west side farmer, is planning on building an egg cooling room in the spring. It will cost him less than $40 and with an additional 20c a dozen for every crate of extra grade eggs, it will be paid for with the sale of 200 dozen eggs.

Mr. Best states that the egg cooling room is especially needed in this hot climate to keep eggs in proper condition for commercial marketing.

Post Office Building Remodeled.

The Hermiston post office building has been remodeled, painted, and calcomined the past two weeks, the work being done by Childs Barham of Columbia district. A new spring door has been put in replacing the double swinging doors which aids in the heating of the building during cold weather.

REGISTRATION FOR GENERAL ELECTION LARGER THAN USUAL

Registration for the general election in Hermiston precincts numbers 32 and 33 shows a decided increase over last year's figures. On November 8th, 346 people will be qualified to vote between the hours of 8 A. M. and 8 P. M. in precinct No. 32 compared to 432 registrations in precinct No. 33. Polls for precinct 32 will be located at the Hermiston Union Church, and voting in No. 33 will take place at the library building.

As this heavy registration means a strenuous day for election officers, every voter is urged to go to the polls as early as possible. A few sample ballots are now displayed in public places in Hermiston. Attention is called to the fact that any registered voter who will for acceptable reasons be absent from his polling place on election day, may vote by mail if he immediately applies to the county clerk for an official ballot. As this is an important election, every qualified person is urged to cast his vote.

STATE BLUE BOOK IN LARGE DEMAND, SAYS HOSS.

Probably no other publication issued by any state department is in more general demand than the Oregon Blue Book, a printed volume embracing all subjects, political and economic, affecting the body politic of Oregon and its constitutional and historical ramifications. This conclusion is reached after a check recently made of the Blue Book account in the office of Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state, which disclosed the distribution of nearly 17,000 books during the past year.

Since the edition came from the press and distribution was started in October of last year, the average monthly disposal has been more than 1,400 copies. Of the 20,110 copies received from the state printing department, approximately 3,000 books are on hand to last until September of next year when the next biennial edition is to be ready for distribution. The books on hand are now due for a rapid depletion with the opening of the schools as the volume has been accepted by most educational institutions as a standard reference book.

The Blue Book is published as an official state document by the secretary of state under supervision of the Oregon Laws and Code. Previous to the 1931 legislative session, the books were distributed to the public without charge but the legislature ruled differently last year and Secretary Hoss is now required to make a charge of 25 cents for copies distributed to the public. Free distribution is limited to schools and public officials. Money received from the sale of the edition is placed in the general fund of the state treasury.

STATE PRESIDENT SPEAKS AT LOCAL REBEKAH CHAPTER

Mrs. Maude Rogers of Enterprise, who is the state president of the Rebekah Assembly, spoke at the Rebekah meeting held here Wednesday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall. Mrs. Rogers first spoke on Rebekah work and then told about the state home maintained by the organization for Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, and orphans of the same.

The Echo degree staff was present and presented work; refreshments were served after the meeting to a large attendance which was made up of many people from Echo and Stanfield as well as from Hermiston.

"Friendship Day" Set.

The Pendleton Woman's club is having "Friendship Day" on November 3, at the county library at 2:30 o'clock. They extend an invitation to members of the P. T. A. of Hermiston.

Those who are planning to go please notify R. H. McAtee as soon as possible, so that he will be able to let the Pendleton club know how many to expect.

News Item Brings Reminiscence.

The following item taken from the East Oregonian published Oct. 27, 1907, will bring memories of by-gone days to Hermiston pioneer residents. "Judge H. J. Beau decided the Means-Swayze election controversy in favor of F. B. Swayze yesterday afternoon and since then there has been joy in the ranks of the Newport-Skinner faction of the Hermistonians."

FEW EXPRESS CANDIDACY FOR CITY OFFICES

MEETING TO NOMINATE CITY OFFICERS EXPECTED.

Two Petitions Filed for City Recorder; All Filings Must Be Recorded by Friday, October 28.

Long after the state and national officers are nominated and their abilities and disabilities broadcast to the anxious waiting voters, the cities add their bit to the general political scene with another crop of candidates for municipal offices.

In cities the size of Hermiston the nominations are usually made at a mass meeting called by the mayor or recorder and interested citizens make their own ticket or tickets. No such meeting has been held in the west end of the county but all candidates have to file with the city recorder by Friday, October 28.

It is possible for those who desire to run for city office to file a petition with the recorder of his or her city any time within ten days of the date of the election asking that his or her name be placed on the ballot. Up to date, Thursday night, two petitions have been filed naming R. C. Todd as a candidate for city recorder against Chas. Taylor, who is running for re-election. It is also possible for any one to be nominated by a group of fifteen persons, residents of the city. In some cases candidates have their names written in on the ballot if dissatisfied with the candidates nominated at the mass meeting.

Only two candidates have filed for office but it is thought several will be candidates for re-election. The officers who have served for the past two years are: A. W. Prand, mayor; Chas. W. Taylor, city recorder; W. L. Hamm, city treasurer; Councilmen: J. G. Pearson, F. P. Knerr, H. E. Hill, Bert Handline, F. C. McKenzie, E. A. Pankow; J. S. West, Justice of the Peace; and H. A. Pankow, constable.

MRS. R. FRENCH RECEIVES

WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC STOVE

Mrs. R. French, winner of the $200 Westinghouse electric stove in the "story behind the classified ad" contest put on by The Oregonian, received the stove this week, and it is on display in the Herald office.

Mrs. French told how she was presented with a brown eyed baby girl after inserting an ad stating her wishes in the Oregonian, ten years ago. The story was given first place. Zell French, the adopted daughter, is a fine girl and has been very active in 4-H club work. Mr. and Mrs. French were living in Salem at the time the child as left on their doorstep.

ALONG THE CONCRETE

In one of President Hoover's recent addresses he stated that bank failures were a thing of the past. This remark brought "he don't know his Oregon" from W. W. Felthouse.

A window full of feet was about all that could be seen in Mullin's Confectionery Wednesday. Childs Barham kept us in suspense for one half day while his feet remained dangling, apparently from nowhere.

When the Democratic Band Wagon passed through Main street this afternoon we readily recognized the pictures of Franklin D. and Walter Pierce, pinned on its side but we were still at a loss to judge which of the Democratic candidates the donkey was supposed to represent.

E. James Cain, re-elected and esteemed pastor of the Baptist church, believes in carrying his Barred Rock fryers home while it is daylight. Nevertheless objections being made by the young rooster would cause all suspicions to be withdrawn as to the rightful owner.

One of our esteemed patrons rushed into our office this afternoon and after practicing on a sample ballot explained his voting technique with the following: "When I vote, I vote for the Democrat unless I know the man, then I vote for the Republican." Scanning the checks on his ballot we should say that he knows too many Democrats to be of any help to that party.
