He will move on to new fields to teach the gridiron strategy that has made him one of the great figures of the American college sport.

In a briefly worded note to the director of athletics, Dr. Thomas A. Storey, Coach Warner submitted his resignation. It came with dramatic suddenness after previous official denials from various authorities at Stanford.

Good Thinning Profitable.

MOSIER—Thinning apples 6 to 7 inches apart rather than merely breaking up the doubles proved better in a comparative test this season in the William Rowland orchard. A check made recently by County Agent Wray Lawrence showed that the tree thinned for greater distance gave a larger total yield, had fewer small sizes, showed less sunburn and limb rub, slightly fewer worms, and the tree showed less effect of drought.

MINSTREL SHOW WILL BE PRESENTED BY STUDENTS FRIDAY

SKITS, NOVELTY AND COMEDY ACTS IN PRODUCTION.

More Than Two Hours of Entertainment Is Assured Which May Be Enjoyed by All Ages.

Business men were surprised Friday by the appearance of three black men on the Hermiston streets. This phenomenon was an advertising feature preceding the "Tombigeo Minstrels" which will be presented Friday at 8:00 p. m. in the high school auditorium, by the music department of the high school, assisted by public spirited citizens.

The production is under the direction of E. B. Knapp, and will present a cast of 30. A few of the acts are mentioned as follows: A chorus of 23 voices will present negro spirituals; a 17-piece orchestra and a 13-piece band will furnish the music; the Girls' Glee club and the Boys' octette will give several numbers; the Dark Knights' male quartet will have several spiritual and comedy numbers; skits, novelty and comedy acts, and a humorous monologue will be given; comedy will be kept alive by the six anthracite end men and ladies.

Production rights have been purchased from Edwin Wetmore, the author. The show has been presented with success by several high school and community groups, says Mr. Knapp.

More than two hours of entertainment is assured and it is a type that will be enjoyed by all people, regardless of age. This production is the first of its kind to be given here since the American Legion minstrel two years ago, which was attended by a record-breaking crowd. Proceeds will be used in buying music instruments and equipment for the music group.

The schedule has been extended to include Hermiston in order that those wishing to secure licenses may obtain them here instead of finding it necessary to make a trip to Pendleton.

Announcement will be made in this paper of the date for the regular examinations to be held at the library.

CHRISTMAS GREETING CARD POSTAGE 1½ CENTS

There appears to be some confusion regarding the rate of postage on Christmas and other greeting cards, says Mrs. Leila Phelps, postmistress. Mrs. Phelps, quoting the postal rules regarding cards, said today: "Printed greeting cards mailed under cover of unsealed envelopes are chargeable with postage at the third class rate or 1½ cents for each two ounces or fraction of two ounces, regardless of whether addressed for delivery through post office boxes or general delivery, or by city or rural carrier the 1-cent drop-letter rate applicable to non-letter carrier offices does not apply to such cards as unsealed envelopes. Printed Christmas and other greeting cards in unsealed envelopes may bear a simple written inscription not in the nature of personal correspondence, such as Sincerely yours, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year, With best wishes, etc., together with the name and address of the sender and the addressee, without subjecting them to more than the third-class rate. Creating cards, sealed or unsealed, bearing written messages as mentioned, as well as all cards sent in sealed envelope, are chargeable with postage at the first-class rate of 3 cents an ounce or fraction of an ounce, except when the 1-cent drop-letter rate applies."

A double line of trucks and cars a block long awaited their turn at the turkey pool Wednesday and Thursday of this week when 2834 birds were shipped through the Eastern Oregon Turkey Growers' association Wednesday. An equal number were shipped today.

The largest poultage ever shipped at one pool through this association was brought into town by growers who braved one of the coldest winds experienced here this season. It was difficult to keep the birds from freezing. A total of 43,957 pounds of birds were shipped Wednesday and it is estimated that close to 50,000 pounds of birds will be shipped from the two day pool.

Another shipment will be made December 13. Birds were selected at this pool to be displayed at the Oakland Turkey Show Saturday in Oakland, Or.

If you can aid the project by furnishing some of these articles notify Superintendent McAtee or Mrs. B. J. Nation, president of the P.T.A.

The items include: potatoes, carrots, cabbage, onions, peas, corn, tomatoes, beans, macaroni, cocoa, sugar, milk, butter, seasoning material, and meat.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES DRAW LARGE CROWDS

The evangelistic services at the Hermiston Union church have been attended by large crowds who come to hear Teddy Leavitt, state evangelist. Special music has been offered every night and Miss Glenna Stephens has drawn an illustrated picture that is presented to the person bringing the largest number to the services that night.

On Friday nights the juniors have a program for the opening services, and on Wednesday nights the young people have a special social and recreational meeting, with a banquet or pot luck dinner.

Last Wednesday night the Pendleton Christian church choir visited the meetings and sang several anthems which added to the service.

The meetings will continue until Sunday, December 18, when Mr. Leavitt will leave for his home in Eugene to be with his family a few days before his next meeting opens.

COMEDY RULES IN NEW MYSTERY FILM AT OASIS.

"Strangers Of The Evening", which will be shown at the Oasis Theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday is something new in the way of mystery entertainment.

Adopted from the novel "The Ilustrious Corpse" by Tiffany Thayer, the popular novelist, the picture retains the merits of the book with the addition of several comedy situations. Although much of the action takes place in an undertaking parlor, a police station and a cemetery, it is so full of comedy situations adeptly handled by Zasu Pitta, Lucien Littlefield, Eugene Pallette and Tully Marshall that it does not become morbid in any of the scenes.

The thrills and chills necessary for a good mystery are here but the method of their development is different from the usual mystery. In solving the murder the police investigators work on the theory, which is contrary to common belief, that it is the innocent person who, when accused of a crime, will become confused and show signs of guilt rather than the guilty one. The guilty person is on his guard against reactions that might arouse suspicion. But in his instance this theory does not work for the unusual reactions of the different suspects leave the investigators completely baffled. They become too confused to use logic. The way in which it is finally solved proves very interesting as well as amusing.

On this same program, Aimee Temple MacPherson, the evangelist, appears in a talking short with Walter Huston, screen actor, in a debate "Is Prohibition a Success or a Failure?" There is also an excellent Andy Clyde comedy, "Alaska Love", and a Crazy Kat cartoon.

COLLEGE WEEKLY NEWS SERVICE ESTABLISHED 1913 BY MCINTOSH

NOW USED PRIMARILY FOR AGRICULTURAL NEWS.

Exclusive Service Continued Without a Break for 20 Years; Wins First in National Contest.

While metropolitan dailies point with pride to the multiplicity of news gathering associations that bring the doings of the world to their pages, weekly papers of Oregon, including the Hermiston Herald, have an exclusive service of their own that has now been coming to them every week without a break for 20 years.

This particular service doesn't compete with the A. P. and U. P. in chronicling the daily news of the world, but every week without a single break since its establishment in 1913 it has brought the latest developments, mostly in agriculture, from the experiment station and extension service at Oregon State college at Corvallis.

The College News Service as it is now called, was established in 1913 by C. J. McIntosh, now professor of industrial editing of the college, who conducted it for years as an extension service activity before the establishment of the department of industrial journalism at the college which then took it over. Professor McIntosh, as agricultural press editor, continued to prepare and send out these weekly news notes until 1927 when he relinquished the work to a former student who, as a member of the staff, has carried on with it ever since, maintaining the former record of never missing a week, winter, summer or holiday.

The college News Service is now a part of the Informational Service organization of the entire system of higher education in Oregon, and is continuing its function of supplying the weekly papers with regular news of the most important happenings with which the college is connected through the state and in the laboratories, of special interest to farmers and homemakers.

At a recent national convention of all agricultural colleges editors, the weekly news service from Oregon State was given first place in the annual contest.

Prohibition Debate at Theatre.

Aimee Temple MacPherson, the noted Los Angeles evangelist, appears at the Oasis theatre Friday Saturday and Sunday, with Walter Huston, famous screen actor, in a talking short, a debate, "Is Prohibition a Success or a Failure?"

AMONG THE CONCRETE

The only fellow who kept warm at the turkey pool was the man who trucked the boxes into the refrigerator car. There was really quite a difference in temperature.

What is the worst thing yet to come at a banquet? The toasts. What could be more tragic in a dog's life than for him to be aroused from a sound sleep by someone stepping on him as he lay quietly under a bench in the church? You can't blame him for yelping at a critical moment.
