HERMISTON, UMATILLA COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1933

SUBSCRIPTION, $2.00 PER YEAR

INTEREST IN UMATILLA RAPIDS PROJECT REVIVED

CONGRESSMAN-ELECT WALTER M. PIERCE PLEDGES SUPPORT.

Activity in Association Assured; Merits Umatilla Unit as National Dam Site Featured.

A rousing meeting of interested parties of this section in the development of the Umatilla Rapids Project at some future date, was held here Thursday night (today) in the Hermiston Hotel with Congressman-elect Walter M. Pierce and Mrs. Pierce as honor guests.

E. P. Dodd, president of the Hermiston Commercial club, presided, sketching the growth of the Umatilla Rapids association since its organization in Umatilla, January 26, 1921. At that time the association raised $1400 which was used to prepare a survey. Mr. Dodd pointed out, with $10,000 later appropriated by the state, and $50,000 by the federal government. The three important features in the development of the Columbia river were brought out by Mr. Dodd as reclamation, navigation, reclamation, with the building of a bridge that would serve as an interstate link bringing Washington, Idaho, and Oregon closer, commercially.

Ex-Governor Pierce pledged his support to the enterprise at the Umatilla Rapids and expressed his pleasure at being able to appear before representatives interested from this section of the state. He also stated that he was anxious to bring about farm relief within the coming year and favored many points in the Grange debenture plan.

Congressman Pierce congratulated this community on having a solvent bank with such a capable banker as F. B. Swayze at its head. He paid tribute to Mr. Swayze's ability as a banker in keeping the Hermiston bank open when every bank for a distance of 100 miles east and west on the Columbia highway had closed its doors.

E. B. Aldrich, editor of the East Oregonian of Pendleton, and also a member of the State Highway Commission, pointed out favorable features in the report made by the Bureau of Reclamation and also the Army Engineer's report, for the Umatilla Rapids Project. He mentioned D. C. Brownell, deceased, of Umatilla who was one of the instigators in the organizing of the association. From its beginning, Mr. Aldrich said, D. C. Brownell never ceased in his efforts to promote interest in the project. Following the first meeting in Umatilla a second group of citizens met in Pendleton where the Umatilla Rapids association was organized with representation from Walla Walla, Spokane, and other sections of the country.

Mr. Aldrich was chairman of the promotion committee that was given a hearing in Washington, D. C., in 1931, when the merits of the Umatilla site were presented before the (Concluded on page four)

TURKEY GROWERS ASSOCIATION MAKE THIRD SHIPMENT.

The Eastern Oregon Turkey Growers' association made its third shipment of turkeys this marketing season, Tuesday, January 9. One full car load contained 1729 birds, weighing 24,379 lbs. went through the association pool in the Grange Cooperative warehouse Tuesday.

The majority, 1392, birds were prime; 273 choice; and 64 commercial. Six, four, and two cents were received as down payment by the growers.

Money for the December pool will be received by the local association within a few days, ready for distribution to growers. The final pool will be held in February, which will be a clean-up shipment, and will probably be made by truck.

15TH ANNUAL OREGON PRESS CONFERENCE JANUARY 19-21

University of Oregon, Eugene, January 11—What newspaper readers and advertisers may expect from the coming year, and what the news papers themselves may expect will be outstanding topics for the 15th annual Oregon Press Conference, to be held at the school of journalism of the University of Oregon, January 19, 20, and 21, it is announced by those in charge. Newspapersmen from every part of the state have indicated they will attend the event and an attendance as large as ever is expected.

The future of newspapers will be taken under the heading of "Rates—Where are we headed?" to be discussed from the daily paper standpoint by Lucien P. Arant of the Baker Democrat-Herald and from the weekly paper standpoint by H. C. Ball, of the Hood River News. This will be continued by H. R. Falling of the Oregon Journal, Portland, who will speak on "What can be sold to the public in 1933 and what can't—the new advertising survey."

The news and editorial side of journalism will be outlined by Robert W. Sawyer, publisher of the Bend Bulletin, who will speak on "The News and Editorial Side—How to Exploit Its Fundamental Importance." The future in national advertising for newspapers will be the topic of William Wallace, of the Oregonian, who will talk on "Prospects and Strategies in the National Advertising Field."

Many other topics will come before the meeting.

STANFIELD NEWS NOTES

James C. Hoskins and daughter Bytha, left Monday for Salem where the latter will act as one of the pages for the senate during the regular session of the state legislature. Before returning to his home Mr. Hoskins will spend a short time with his daughter, Odolph, who is a student at O. S. C.

Mrs. Fred Shelton returned Thursday from Portland where she spent several days visiting friends.

"The Family Fading" is the title of the play soon to be given by the Stanfield Ladies Aid. Billie Hedrick, Vivian Cronter, and Frank Laird are cast for the leads, while Sophronia Rhea, Myrtle Martin, Elva Berry, Joe Meyer, and Harry Laird have other important parts.

Mrs. H. B. Shaker and daughter Donna, were guests of Stanfield friends over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herley have returned to their home in Hood River, following a fortnight visit with Mrs. Herley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kopac.

"Achievement Day" exercises for I-H club members will be held in the Grange hall Saturday evening. Doc Allen, assistant state club leader, will be present and will show several reels of pictures of interest to young and old.

Basketball fans witnessed a fast and well-played game in the local gym Friday night when the Echo 24 defeated the team. The Stanfield girls held Echo to a no-score game in the last half, winning by 31 points. In the boys game Stanfield held Echo to a 4-4 tie score in the first quarter. In the final score the local boys were defeated by a score of 13-29.

Al Mendenhall returned Saturday from Portland where he has been receiving medical aid for several weeks. Friends will be glad to know that Mr. Mendenhall is much improved in health.

C. M. Jump returned Monday from a business trip to points in Wyoming and Montana. Mr. Jump reports conditions to be similar all over the Northwest. Farmers have quantities of unsold hay, beans, potatoes, and other farm crops.

The Commercial club held a special meeting Saturday evening to make plans for the luncheon Thursday when Congressman-elect, Walter M. Pierce will be present to discuss questions of interest to this section of the state.

NEW CITY OFFICERS INAUGURATED AT SPECIAL MEETING

MAYOR-ELECT MCKENZIE PRESENTS SIDES OVER COUNCIL.

Nation Named as Night Man; Pankow Water Superintendent; Warner as City Attorney.

A special meeting of the City Council was called Tuesday night, January 10, for the purpose of inaugurating the new officers elected at the last general election in November. Mayor-elect McKenzie appointed Bert Nation as city police officer; H. A. Pankow, city water superintendent; and W. J. Warner as city attorney. The next regular meeting of the council will be held Wednesday, January 18.

Three new members of the council, B. S. Kingsley, Geo. Wagner, J. M. Norton, and three former members, J. G. Pearson, H. E. Hitt, and Bert Haneline, were present at the meeting.

Mayor McKenzie announced that committees would be named at the regular meeting next week. Chas. Taylor, who was re-elected to the office of city recorder, read the recorder's and treasurer's annual report, which was favorably passed upon by the council. The reports will be published next week.

Mrs. Rena Waterman was named on the library board to succeed herself, and Bert Haneline will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of F. C. McKenzie.

Treasurer's and recorder's bonds were accepted at $5000 each, to form a security.

It was reported that B. J. Nation was sworn in as night man for the City of Hermiston Monday by Chas. Taylor, city recorder.

J. H. Young Former Resident.

John H. Young of Hood River, Or., who was found dead in his garage Friday, by suicide, was at one time a resident of Hermiston. In 1914 F. C. Woughter succeeded Mr. Young as depot agent here when he left for Texas where he spent three years. He then returned to Hermiston where he acted as postmaster until 1912. After leaving here Mr. Young moved to Hood River where he entered the insurance business, and since that time has reached national recognition along that line. He had been in poor health for the past year.

Butler Funeral Friday.

Funeral services for the late Congressman Robert R. Butler will be held in The Dalles Friday at 2:30 P. M., at the Elks temple with burial in the L. O. O. F. cemetery. Congressman Butler died at Washington, D. C., following a severe illness of several weeks.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY HOLDS FIRST MEETING IN NEW YEAR.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Farm Bureau held its first meeting in the new year Friday, January 6. The meeting was called to order by the vice president and opened with members singing, "America."

Mrs. John Paxton gave a report on the quilt recently finished and plans were made for a new quilt, suggesting that each member furnish a block. Following this, a vote of thanks was made to the Farm Bureau Cooperative for introducing cotton bays as containers of feeds, to replace the paper bag, used formerly. There were many uses suggested for this material.

Mrs. Tom Wilson had charge of the social hour and was a charming hostess. New Year's resolutions were exchanged with Mrs. H. J. Teld winning the prize. She resolved to see that her family did all the work at home in the coming year.

Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were served by the hostess.

Mrs. C. L. Upham and Mrs. M. M. Smith volunteered to act as joint hostesses for the next meeting to be held January 20th.

COACH SCHLESER SEVERES CONNECTIONS AT O. S. C.

Paul John Schleser will retire as head football coach at Oregon State college on June 30, the end of the school year. He presented his formal resignation as head coach and director of athletics, effective on that date, to the state board of higher education at Salem Tuesday, and the resignation was accepted.

His contract at $3000 a year still had three years to run from that date but Schleser waived the contract.

Francis Hawkins Taylor.

Mrs. Francis Hawkins Taylor, aged 81 years, died Tuesday, January 10, at her home in Portland. Mrs. Taylor was the mother of Mrs. C. S. McNaught and Mrs. J. W. Campbell, both former residents of Hermiston. Mrs. Winifred T. Zehner of Los Angeles, California, is her daughter. Funeral services will be held Friday at 2:30 P. M. at Finley's Chapel, Montgomery at 5th, Portland, Oregon. Interment will be made at Riverside cemetery.

Joins Creamery Force.

Paul Van Fatten arrived in Hermiston Wednesday from Newbridge, Ore., and will again join the staff at the Umatilla Cooperative Creamery. Paul was with the creamery for several months after it organized nearly two years ago and his friends here will be glad to know of his return. He started work Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Felthouse and daughter Margaret and son Gale motored to Walla Walla Wednesday afternoon where they visited with Bill Felthouse, who is a junior at Whitman college.

BULLDOGS PREPARE FOR 2-GAME SERIES OVER WEEK END

HARD BATTLE LOST IN GAME SATURDAY.

Will Play Stanfield Aggregation There Friday; St. Joseph's Academy Quintet Saturday.

Following the 30-10 defeat suffered at the hands of the Pendleton high Buckaroos on the local floor last Saturday evening, the Bulldogs basketball squad is making ready to play a two game schedule this week end.

Friday evening the Hermiston team will play the Stanfield aggregation at Stanfield. No information has been available as to the strength of the Stanfield team at this time, although it has been reported that that team lost its opening game to Echo.

Saturday night the Bulldogs will be hosts to the St. Joseph's Academy quintet of Pendleton, while the local town team will play the Pendleton Knights of Columbus' five. The Bulldogs enjoy even chances against the Academy team which lost a game to the Pendleton high team by a large margin. John Henke, the Academy coach, will keep Bowman and Moore, local fighters, on their feet as he is the star of the visiting team, and has been able to take the day-off away from every center he has met this year.

Next week end, January 20-21, the Bulldogs will play a second two game series, the first game being with Umatilla, here, on Friday night, and the second will be a return game with Pendleton, there.

The line-up for the Pendleton game:

Hermiston (10)	Pendleton (20)
Bense	F Galloway (5)
Pierson (2)	F Bauer (6)
Bowman	C Rosenbly
Pierce	G Lybecke
Martin (6)	G Reese (3)
Reeves	S Lagent
Harris	S McClure (7)
Hunt (2)	S Mays (4)
Paul	S Graybeal (3)
Moore	S Eason

Attend Canning School.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Barlow left Saturday morning for Corvallis, Ore., where they will attend a two weeks canning school made available through the extension service at the Oregon State college. Mr. Barlow, assisted by his wife, manage the Hermiston Cooperative Laundry and Cannery. The cannery turned out 41,845 cans of produce last year, which is turned out at a moderate low cost. Edward McMillan is looking after the laundry during their absence.

TOWN BASKETBALL TEAM ORGANIZED TUESDAY.

At a meeting Tuesday night in the Hermiston auditorium, a town basketball team, was organized to play in double header games with the high school team. A business meeting followed a brief practice in which Glen Hamman was elected manager and Wallace Cochran as coach.

Eight members turned out for the first practice which included: Jack Smith, Ralph Shafer, Jr., Howard Klages, Chester Johnson, Ray Barlow, Glenn Hamman, Clarence Henning, and Al Quiring.

A number of games will be scheduled during the season. The first game will be with the Knights of Columbus team of Pendleton Saturday.

COST OF LIVING AT DORMITORIES SUBSTANTIALLY REDUCED

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 11, (Special)—Students returning this term to live in dormitories of the University of Oregon and Oregon State college were handed a pleasant surprise this week when they learned that rates for board and room will be reduced substantially for the remainder of the year. New rates, adopted upon the recommendation of Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, director of dormitories, will be $26 per month for both men and women at Eugene, and $25 per month at Corvallis.

Last fall rates at Eugene were $32 for men and $30 for women and at Corvallis were $31 for men and $29 for women.

An even greater drop in cost is shown from last year. Rates then approximated $38 for men and $36 for women at Eugene, and $35 for men and $30 for women at Corvallis.

The annual savings on the present basis over last year will amount to approximately $100 for men and $80 for women at Eugene, and $80 for men and $50 for women at Corvallis.

Room in dormitories at Eugene have more furnishings than those at Corvallis, necessitating a charge of $1 more per month. Mrs. Turnipseed explained. The new basis makes the rates at Eugene, Corvallis and the normal school at Monmouth approximately the same for all students living in dormitories.

COLUMBIA NEWS NOTES

Paul Miller, who has been a resident of Columbia district for several years, has traded his ranch to Mr. Johnson for a ranch in Stanfield. Mr. Johnson and his family have been living in the Straw house in Hermiston. Mr. Miller will take up his residence in the Straw house due to the fact that there is no residence on the ranch at Stanfield. Mr. Johnson has also purchased the Raymond ranch which joins the Miller property.

Lon Dotson was employed as meat cutter at the Red & White store in Hermiston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker of Pendleton former residents of Columbia, were visiting old acquaintances in this district the first of the week while looking for a location.

1932 BIGGEST NEWS STORIES ARE SELECTED

LINDBERGH KIDNAPING CASE HEADS THE LIST.

Eviction of Bonus Army Banks Second in Importance; News Reflects Depression.

What were the outstanding news events of 1932?

Out of the welter of "big stories" that broke during the year the Lindbergh kidnaping case undoubtedly ranks first in the estimation of newspaper readers with a score of other sensational developments crowding close for recognition.

The Lindbergh case was given first place in the survey of Associated Press editors with the following events ranking in order:

The election of the bonus army from Washington.

The election of Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Democratic landslide.

Ivar Krueger's suicide and the collapse of his vast industrial dynasty.

The Olympic games at Los Angeles.

The Shanghai hostilities between the Japanese and Chinese.

The collapse of the Inault interests in Chicago.

Mayor Walker's resignation in New York.

The Massie murder case in Honolulu.

Amelia Earhart's solo flight to Europe.

Imprisonment of Al Capone.

Other Big News.

Other outstanding news events of the world were:

Midwestern farm strike; assassination of President Doumer of France; Smith Reynolds death mystery and release of Libby Holman; his wife; rise of "wet" sentiment including Rockefeller pronouncement against prohibition; the business depression; Gandhi's hunger strike; Hitler conflict in Germany; Lausanne conference; stratosphere experiment; Col. Raymond Robins' disappearance; eclipse of sun.

The bonus march on Washington received world notice when blood was shed in a clash between the B. E. F. and the police and when the army was called out to evict the demonstrators.

Many governments of the world have changed hands in the depression years and the United States followed the trend in the Democratic avalanche which swept Franklin D. Roosevelt into office.

The biggest sports story of the year—the Olympic games at Los Angeles—also jumped into the class of the biggest news stories of 1932.

Big headlines featured a month of bitter fighting between China and Japanese forces in Shanghai. (Continued on last page)

Attend Creamery Meeting

Garnet D. Best, assistant county agent, and A. E. McFarland of Umatilla are representing the Umatilla Cooperative Creamery in Portland this week at the Interstate Creamery association meeting, of which the local creamery is a member. J. Jendrzewski, president of the Eastern Oregon Turkey Growers' association accompanied them and will attend a meeting of the turkey growers association. They plan to return Saturday.

ALONG THE CONCRETE

We fully expect to hear that a group of "hunger" marchers had descended on the city council while it was in session Tuesday night.

The proposed sales tax looks about as friendly as a razor in an insane man's hand.

The impulse to rush to the "fire" doesn't seem to die as one enters manhood. Wednesday, last, Dr. Marble rushed from his place of business, hat in hand, and full of pep, after ascertaining that his roof was intact he eagerly inquired of passers-by where the "fire" was.

On being informed that he had heard the noon "whistle", Doc was willing to slow down and take his time getting to lunch.

LEGION AUXILIARY NEWS Unit No. 37

Initiation of new members will be held Thursday, January 26th, at the Masonic hall. A new ceremony is to be used according to the president, Mrs. A. W. Christopherson, which is much more interesting and elaborate than the old.

Mrs. Peter Castic, secretary, has a new manual and all officers are requested to obtain a copy in order that they may learn their parts.

Plans for revision of the "Kitty" were discussed at a meeting of some of the past and present officers, who met at the president's home Wednesday afternoon to work on the history of the Unit. Mrs. Logan Todd has charge of the history for this year.
