DAIRYMEN ELECT THREE DIRECTORS AT CREAMERY MEETING

SPEAKERS FROM STATE COLLEGE INSTRUCT MEMBERSHIP.

Production of 92-Score Butter Increased During January; Herd Improvement Association Elects.

Three new directors were elected to the board of the Umatilla Cooperative Creamery at its annual meeting held in the Methodist church Saturday, February 4. L. C. Dyer was elected over Jack Templeton in a close race, from Columbia district; L. C. Cooney was elected by a margin of two votes over N. H. Kristensen from Boardman district; and A. E. McFarland was re-elected from Umatilla over Peter Castric.

The business of electing directors was taken care of in the morning session with the chairman of the board, E. L. Jackson, presiding. A resolution was passed during this session protesting the proposed legislation that gives the state board of higher education control over the funds which are now used for extension service work, and experiment station upkeep in the state. Such legislation, it was stated, will permit the board to use these funds in whatever capacity it feels it is needed whether in or out of the agricultural department. This resolution was sent to state representatives at Salem.

A luncheon prepared by the ladies of the Methodist church was served at noon, free of charge.

Several speakers were heard during the afternoon session. Among these was Dr. G. H. Wilston, professor in the dairy department at Oregon State college. Mr. Winston instructed dairymen in the proper care of cream before it went into the manufacturing plant, and stressed the importance of this as the members part in making a high score butter to put on the market. Cleanliness and proper cooling were emphasized.

At this point in the meeting, M. G. Hedwall, manager, stated that the local plant had produced more than half as much 92-score butter in January as it had in the previous month.

J. W. Witherall, accountant from Pendleton, who has audited the books for the association during its year and a half of operation, explained the financial report. Cost of operation per pound of butterfat for the first six weeks period, the report showed, was .0549; for the second six weeks period, .029; and for the third six weeks period .0453. $2.50 AUTO LICENSE MEASURE PASSES HOUSE

Declared to be a 100 per cent relief measure that will make revenue for the state, the house, Tuesday afternoon, railroaded the bill of Speaker Snell and Representative Winslow to make a flat fee of $2.50 for automobile licenses until June 30.

The measure was called up by Winslow and made a special order of business and then rushed through as fast as the clerk could call the roll.

Thousands of people who would not procure licenses for their cars will be able to take advantage of this emergency relief legislation, provided the Senate gives the measure the same prompt and favorable consideration. — The Oregonian.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID H. E. HITT AT SERVICES SUNDAY

BODY TAKEN TO JEFFERSON, OR., FOR BURIAL.

Came West With Car Load of Stock in 1906; Had Lived in Hermiston Since 1909; Known Over State.

A final tribute of respect and sympathy was shown Sunday by friends and acquaintances of Henry E. Hitt when final rites were said over the remains at funeral services held in the Methodist church. Rev. O. W. Payne officiated with members of the Masonic order in charge. Henry E. Hitt died Wednesday, February 1, 1933, in Hermiston at the age of 47, from a gunshot wound. He came to Oregon from Oakfield, Wisconsin, in 1906, with a train load of cattle which was being shipped by Dave Looney, of Jefferson, Oregon. Mr. Looney wanted a young man to look after his stock on the return trip, and found Hitt, who was anxious to come west.

Hitt operated a confectionery store in Jefferson until 1909 or 1910 when he came to Hermiston and bought the confectionery store here. During the time of his residence here, Mr. Hitt has been one of the leading citizens in the community and was known as a great sportsman in the state, by all who knew him. His store was headquarters for all sports activities during pheasant season. He planted game and fish on the project and pushed all sports activities.

He is survived by his widow; one daughter, Dorothy; one son, Dick, both of Portland; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hitt of Oakfield, Wisconsin; and one brother, Edwin Hitt, of Maricopa, California. Mr. Hitt was here for his brother's funeral.

The body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Jefferson, Or., Monday.

Gennie Williams, 15-year-old high school girl, died at the Hermiston hospital last Friday, February 3, from double pneumonia. She became ill Saturday with what her parents thought was the flu. By Thursday, when the doctor was called, she was found to be suffering from pneumonia and was brought to the hospital. Oxygen tanks were loaned by the Automotive Garage & Machine Shop which were used until a supply could be rushed from Pendleton. Both doctor and nurses stayed with the girl, working for hours, but the fight for her life was lost.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Williams who have lived in Columbia district for several months. She attended the local high school and was liked by all who knew her. School was dismissed in order that students might attend her funeral.

Funeral services were held in the Frann Funeral Parlors Tuesday afternoon with Rev. O. W. Payne conducting the services. Interment was made in the local cemetery.

YOUNG BROTHER OF DR. W. L. MORGAN DIES IN NORTH.

A telegram received by Dr. W. L. Morgan last week told of the death of his youngest brother, Edward, who was found frozen on the train between Dillingham and Kulukak in the Bristol Bay district of Alaska. The news story appearing in the Oregon Journal Saturday follows:

"An end to a Hoquiam school romance was written in the frozen wastes of the Bristol Bay district of Alaska when the body of Edward S. Morgan, federal Indian agent for the village of Kulukak, found frozen on the trail, was laid to rest in frozen ground to a funeral ritual spoken by his young widow, Abbie. There was not another white person within 50 miles. She telegraphed relatives that she would remain at the post until May, as it is virtually impossible now to leave except by plane.

"Morgan had set out from Dillingham to Kulukak, 50 miles across the ice, where his wife assisted him in teaching school, but with his dog team perished in the severe storm of late January. His body was found by natives near those of his dogs. He had left his post to assist natives in selling a large herd of reindeer. He started the long march on January 27, ahead of the natives.

"Morgan's wife, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kellogg, Hoquiam pioneer, went through Hoquiam schools with him, and later attended Ellensburg normal school and Washington State college with him. They were married four years ago.

"Morgan was 25. He was in his second year as agent at the Kulukak post. His two immediate predecessors also met death, the first in attempting to fly an airplane out and the second perishing in the snow the same as Morgan."

BULLDOGS DUMP JINX AND BEAT BOARDMAN 30-19

BLACK HAWKS LOSE TO BOARDMAN TEAM.

St. Joseph's, and Knights of Columbus on Week End Schedule; Determination Maintained.

The Hermiston high basketball quintet threw away the jinx, which has been with it all season, when the Bulldog offense developed the first scoring strength it has had for weeks, to beat Boardman high 30-19, Wednesday evening at the local auditorium.

The Bulldogs entered the game determined to wipe out the 24-13 defeat suffered earlier in the season at the hands of the Boardman crew. Scoring by Harris and Bowman in the first quarter gave the Bulldogs a substantial lead, the score being 10-5. Boardman fought hard during the second quarter, both teams tallying five points to make the score at the half 15-10 in Hermiston's favor.

The second half was practically the same as the first, and consisted of two fast quarters with the two teams playing hard and clean ball. A spirited rally by the Boardman team in the fourth quarter was unable to cope with the lead the Bulldogs had amassed during the third quarter. The Bulldog line-up was: Harris and Benschel, forwards; Bowman, center; and Reeves and Martin, guards. Substitutions included Paul and Roberts, forwards; Moore, center; and Pierson and Pierce, guards.

Following the Bulldog-Boardman game the Hermiston Black Hawks lost most of their tail feathers to the Boardman town team by a 20-16 score. The Black Hawks gained the lead in the first quarter and were ahead until the half when the score was tied, 10-all. Good defense by both teams in the second half held the score down considerably. Although the Black Hawks succeeded in leaving the Boardman team throughout the half, a last-minute rally by Boardman tied the score 16-16.

In the five minute over-time period which followed, the Boardman boys sank two counters to win the game 20-16. Albert Kennings refereed for the town team game while Clarence Henning officiated for the high school game.

Friday evening the Bulldogs will go to Pendleton where they will play a return game with St. Joseph's Academy and the Black Hawks will swoop down to try their skill against the Knights of Columbus five.

The sale starts Saturday, February 11. The dry goods department will be closed Friday in order to prepare for the sale, but the grocery department will be open as usual.

The store will be open evenings during the first week of the sale.

P. T. A. Will Meet.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher's association will meet in the high school auditorium Wednesday, February 15th, at 8:00 P. M. Miss Ruth Hinegardner of Pendleton, county nurse, will talk on "Juvenile Delinquencies."

ALONG THE CONCRETE

Typical Ford service was given at the Hermiston Hotel this week when a broken window was replaced by the door fifteen minutes after the garage mechanic shoved his hand through it.

The depression has just begun for motorists, apparently, from the number of drivers you see who are saving gas by being pushed in front of another car.

These are our sentiments, borrowed from a more poetic source: "You can lead a horse to water. But you can't make him drink. You can send a man to Congress. But you can't make him think."
